PREFACE.

THE grammatical compendium of which this is a translation is current among the Pandits of the North-West Provinces, and of most of the other provinces of India. The translation is one of a series of attempts to encourage and facilitate the interchange of ideas between the Pandits and the senior English students of the Government Colleges. How different the arrangement of a Sanskrit treatise on Grammar is from that of an English treatise on the subject, may be inferred from the facts stated in the subjoined extract from the preface to the Hinds version of the same compendium.

The groundwork of the grammatical literature of the Sanskrit is comprised in Pánini's eight Lectures, entitled "The Ashtádhyáyí." Each of the lectures is divided into four sections, and each section into a number of sútras, or succinct aphorisms. On these Mr. Colebrooke remarks:—"The studied brevity of the Pániníya sútras "renders them in the highest degree obscure; even with the know-"ledge of the key to their interpretation, the student finds them "ambiguous. In the application of them when understood, he discovers many seeming contradictions; and with every exertion of "practised memory, he must experience the utmost difficulty in "combining rules dispersed in apparent confusion through different "portions of Pánini's eight Lectures."

The same accomplished scholar adds:—"The outline of Pájini's "arrangement is simple; but numerous exceptions, and frequent "disgressions, have involved it in much seeming confusion. The "first two lectures (the first section especially, which is in a manner "the key of the whole Grammar) contain definitions; in the three "next are collected affixes, by which verbs and nouns are inflected "Those which appertain to verbs occupy the third lecture:—the "fourth and fifth contain such as are affixed to nouns. The remaining "three lectures treat of the change which roots and affixes undergo "in special cases, or by general rules of orthography, and which are "all effected by the addition, or by the substitution, of one or more ii PREFACE.

"elements. The apparent simplicity of the design vanishes in the "perplexity of the structure. The endless pursuit of exceptions and "limitations so disjoins the general precepts, that the reader cannot "keep in view their intended connexion, and mutual relation. He "conders in an intricate maze, and the clew of the labyrinth is continually slipping from his hands."

Such a work as that above described being obviously unsuited for a beginner, a different arrangement of Páṇini's sútras was attempted by several grammarians, "for the sake of bringing into one view the rules which must be remembered in the inflections of one word, and those which must be combined even for a single variation of a single term." This arrangement, Mr. Colebrooke adds, "is certainly preferable; but the satras of Páṇini, thus detached from their context, are wholly "unintelligible; without the commentator's exposition, they are "indeed, what Sir William Jones has somewhere termed them, 'dark "as the darkest oracle.'"

Such an arrangement as that here referred to, is adopted in the Siddhánta Kaumudí of Bhuttojí Díkshita and in its abridgment the Laghu Śiddhánta Kaumudí of Varadarája.

One of the first objects of this edition of the Grammar is to explain each term and each process, on its first occurrence, with something of that fulness of illustration, which the Pandits think it better to defer imparting until a later stage in the pupil's course. According to the established system, the juvenile pupil, who has only commenced learning the language in which the Grammar is written, cannot proceed three lines in advance of the point at which his preceptor's last lecture broke off. If he can proceed half a line in advance of it, it is more than was to have been expected.

Another omission of the native Grammars is supplied to a certain extent in this edition. When a word is given as an example under a rule, perhaps six or eight rules have previously had a share in bringing the radical word into the form to which the ultimate rule applies. For instance, when we wish to determine one particular pronoun, (to quote from Mr. Wollaston's preface to his practical Grammar of the Sanskrit) "six rules are to be referred to in forming the word, and "the student must be able to remember them all before he can do it "for there is no reference to them whatsoever. Yet such references are much more necessary than those that are annexed to the promositions in Euclid, because the solution of these words is generally more complicated than that of the theorems."

References are supplied in this edition, not to every rule required yet to more than the attentive student is likely to have forgotten.

THESE groups of letters are the aphorisms of Maheswara or Siva; Designed for the formation of names or pratycháras such as an and the like, by which whole classes of letters can, severally, be designated. See No. 8.

No. 3—The short vowel A, in the terms HA, &c., IS IN ORDER TO THE ARTICULATION of the letters h, &c. For instance, by ha, ya va, va, de., the bare consonants h, y, v, r, &c. are intended.

लग्मध्ये त्वित्संज्ञकः।

No. 4.—But, in the body of the sixth aphorism of No. 1, viz. LAN, it, i. e. short vowel a, is termed 'it.' The design of this exception, will appear in No. 37.

उपदेशेऽल्यं इलित् स्यात् । उपदेश श्रानी च्चारंकम् । सूत्रेखद्धः पदं पूत्रान्तरादनुवर्तनीयं सर्वेशः में No. 5.—Let a consonant final in an upadesa be called 'it (No. 7.). An upadesa is defined as signifying an 'original enunciation'—that is to say, an affix, (pratyaya, No. 139.) or an augment supera No. 102.) or a verbal root (dhátu. No. 49.) or, in short, any form of expression which occurs only in technical treatises on grammar, and which is not a word ready for use, but one of the supposed original elements of a word.

A word which is not seen in a sútra, but which is necessary to complete the sense, is always to be supplied from some other sútra. The reason of this is as follows. In the treatises of the Sanskrit grammarians, brevity is regarded as a primary requisite. According to the author of the Mahábháshya, or Great Commentary, 'the grammarians esteem the abbreviation of half a short vowel as equivalent to the birth of a son. Accordingly, Panini in his Ashtádhyáyí or 'Grammar in Eight Lectures,' avoids repeating in any sútra the words which can be supplied from a preceding one. When the original order of the sutras is abandoned, as in the present work, it becomes necessary to place before the student, in the shape of a commentary, the words which Pánini left him to gather from the Thus, to complete the sútra before us (viz., hal antyam), the words 'upadese' and 'it' are required; and these are supplied from a previous sútra, which, in the present arrangement, will be found at No. 36.

No. 7.—In the room OF THAT which is called 'it,' let there be A BLANK. Thus all the final consonants in the Sira-sútras are left out of view, when these are employed to designate any class of letters the use of the n and the rest of the fourteen being to assist in forming the brief names of these classes, as explained in the rule here following.

श्वन्येनेता सहित शादिमेध्यगानां स्वस्य च संज्ञा स्यात् । यथाऽणिति श्र इ उ वर्णानां संज्ञा । एवमच हलित्यादयः ।

No. 8.—Let AN INITIAL LETTER, WITH AN 'IT' LETTER & A FINAL, be the name of itself, and of the intervening letters. Thus, let 'an,' formed of 'a' as its initial letter, and of 'n' (No. 7.) as its final, be the name of 'a' itself and of 'i' and 'a' which intervene betwixt 'a' and 'n.' So let 'ach' be the name of 'a,' 'i,' 'u,' 'ri,' 'lri,' 'e,' 'o,' 'ai,' 'au,' that is to say, of all the vowels; let 'hal' be the name of all the consonants between 'h' inclusive in the fifth Śiva-sútra, and the 'l' which closes the list; and 'al' the name of all the letters together, both vowels and consonants: and so of other pratyáháras, or names of classes of letters.

No. 9.—Let a vowel whose time (or prosodial length) is that of short u, long ú, and prolated ú, be called accordingly short, long, and prolated. These again are severally threefold, according to the division of 'acutely accented, &c.,' here following.

उच्चेस्दात्तः । १।२।२६।

No. 10.—A vowel uttered WITH A HIGH TONE is said to be ACUTELY ACCENTED. (The grammarians describe this accentuation as being the result of employing, in the utterance of the vowel, what they call the upper half of the organ, that is to say of the palate, lips, &c., see No. 14).

नीचेरनुदात्तः । १। २। ३०।

No. 11.—A vowel uttered WITH A LOW TONE is said to be GRAVELY ACCENTED.

समाहारः स्वरितः । १.। २। ३१।

स नवविधोऽपि प्रत्येकमनुनासिकाननुनासिकत्वाभ्यां द्विधा ।

No. 12.—When there is a COMBINATION of the acute and grave accent the vowel HAS THE CIRCUMFLEX ACCENT. The application of the three accents to the three several prosodial lengths gives nine varieties of each vowel. This nine-fold variety is further doubled by the presence or absence of nasality, which is next to be defined.

No. 13.—Let THAT WHICH IS PRONOUNCED BY THE NOSE ALONG WITH THE MOUTH be called NASAL. Thus, of the letters a i u ri, there are severally eighteen different modifications. Of the letter lri there are only twelve, because it does not possess the long (but only the short and the prolated) prosodial time (No. 9). Of the letters e ai o au also there are only twelve modifications, because these have not the short prosodial time.

No. 14.—Let two letters having the same organ (or place of origin) such as the palate, &c., and attended with the same effort of utterance within the mouth, be called homogeneous one with another. Kátyáyana remarks on this: 'The homogeneousness of ri and lri, one with another, should be stated.' This form of expression—viz., 'should be stated.'—distinguishes the supplementary remarks (vártika) of Kátyáyana.

in the form of two semi-circles before pa or pha (No. 117). Of the nasal letters NA MA NA NA AND NA, the NOSE ALSO is an organ, in addition to the organ of the class in which each respectively appears above. The organs of E and AI are the THROAT and the PALATE; of o and AU, the THROAT and the LIPS; of VA, the TEETH and the LIPS. The organ of Jihwamuliya, as visarga is called when it is written in the form of two semi-circles before ka or kha, is the ROOT of THE TONGUE. The NOSE is the organ of ANUSWARA.

No. 16.—The effort in atterance is twofold, that which takes place WITHIN the mouth, AND that which is EXTERNAL as regards the mouth, belonging to the throat. THE FORMER IS OF FIVE KINDS-ACCORDING TO THE DIVISION OF TOUCHED, SLIGHTLY TOUCHED, SLIGHTLY OPEN, OPEN and CONTRACTED. The EFFORT when the organ is TOUCHED by the tongue, BELONGS TO the five classes of consonants SPARSA; when it is SLIGHTLY TOUCHED TO the Semi-vowels (called ANTASTHA, because, in the common arrangement of the alphabet, they stand between the five classes and the sibilants); when the organs of speech are SLIGHTLY OPEN, To the sibilants and the aspirate USHMAN; when the organs are OPEN, TO the vowels SWARA. IN ACTUAL USE, the organ in the enunciation of the short a is confracted: but it is considered to be open only, as in the case of the other vowels, when the vowel A is IN THE STATE OF TAKING PART in some operation of grammar. (The reason for this is, that if the short  $\alpha$  were held to differ from the long  $\acute{a}$  in this respect, the homogeneousness mentioned in No. 14 would not be found to exist between them, and the operation of the rules depending upon that homogeneousness would be debarred. In order to restore the short a to its natural rights, thus infringed throughout the Ashtádhyá-yí, Pánini with oracular brevity in his closing aphorism gives the injunction 'AA,' which is interpreted to signify "Let short a be held to have its organ of utterance contracted, now that we have reached the end of the work in which it was necessary to regard it as being otherwise."

The effort in utterance EXTERNAL as regards the mouth is of ELEVEN KINDS-viz, EXPANSION of the throat, producing hard articulation; CONTRACTION of the throat, producing soft articulation; SIGHING; SOUNDING; LOW PREPARATORY MURMUR; ABSENCE OF SUCH MURMUR; SLIGHT ASPIRATION; STRONG ASPIRATION; and the effort of ACUTE GRAVE, and CIRCUMPLEX accontuation. In the case of the letters in the pratyáhára KHAR (viz., the hard consonants kha pha chha tha tha cha ta ta ka pa sa sha sa,) the effort is that of VIVA-RA, ŚWASA, and AGHOSHA. In the case of the letters in the pratyúhára HAS, (viz., the soft consonants ha ya va ra la na ma na na na jha bha gha dha dha ja ba ga da da,) it is that of Sanvara, NADA. and GHOSHA. (We may here remark, that, as these two classes of consonants, the hard and soft are effectually discriminated by the vivára and sanvára difference, the additional distinctions of śwása, náda, ghosha, and aghosha whatever may be their utility or import elsewhere, are of no consequence here. With reference to the low preparatory murmur and its absence, the soft and hard letters are sometimes termed 'sonapts,' and 'surds,' The first and third letter IN each of THE FIVE CLASSES, in the ordinary arrangement of the alphabet (viz., ka cha ta ta pa and ga ja da da ba), AND the letters denoted by the pratyáhára YAN (viz, the semivowels ya va ra la), are UNASPIRATED THE SECOND AND FOURTH LETTERS OF the same CLASSES (viz, kha chha tha tha pha and gha jha dha dha bha,) AND the letters denoted by the pratyáhára SAL, (viz., the sibilants and the aspirate, śa sha sa ha,) are ASPIRATED. The letters in the ordinary arrangement of the alphabet, BEGINNING WITH KA, AND ENDING WITH MA, are the five classes of consonants sparsa. Those denoted by the pratyáhara YAN are the semi-vowels ANTASTHA; those denoted by SAL, the sibilants and aspirate ÚSHMAN; those denoted by ACH are the vowels SWARA. A character LIKE THE HALF OF VISARGA, when standing RÉFORE KA or KHA, is called JIHWÁMŮLÍYA and when standing BEFORE PA or PHA is called UPADHMANIYA (No. 15). A character, in the shape of a dot, following a vowel, is called anuswara: and one in the shape of two dots, or small circles, visarga.

No. 17.—Let a letter, denoted by the pralyahara AN. NOT propounded as AN AFFIX or operative agent, but as something to be operated upon, AND let in like manner A LETTER FOLLOWED BY AN INDICATORY U, be the name of (and so imply) its homogeneous letters also.

Here the pratyálára an is made by the latter n (of the sixth of the sátras of Śina, viz. lan, and not by the n at the end of the first sátra. The pratyálára is therefore held to denote the semi-vowels as well as the vowels.) The letters above referred to, with an indicatory n, are ku chu tu tu pu; ku represents the guttural class, chu the palatals, tu the cerebrals, tu the dentals, and n0 the labials). Hence n0 is the name of (and implies) its eighteen several varieties (No. 13): and so n1 and n2 is the name of thirty (for it denotes its own eighteen varieties, and the twelve varieties of n2 is the name of thirty (for it denotes its own twelve varieties, and the eighteen modifications of n3. The diphthongs n4 are and n5 are each the name of twelve. Through the distinction of nasal and non-nasal, n6 are twofold; and, by this rule, the non-nasal form of each implies both.

No. 21.—Instead of a letter denoted by the pratyáhára 1K, let there be one denoted by the pratyáhára YAN, in each instance WHERE one denoted by the pratyáhára ACH immediately follows.

In the case, for example, of the word sudlet (meaning "the intelligent") followed by the word npisya ("to be worshipped").

It is to be observed that the foregoing aphorism consists solely of the three pratyiliáras ik yan and ach, the first having the termination of the genitive or sixth case; the second, that of the nominative or first case; and the third, that of the locative or seventh case. The force of these terminations is to be ascertained from other aphorisms; because, although the author of the Kaumudí, in his vritti or expansion of the aphorism, has collected all that is required, yet the student, not content to receive anything on a lower authority than that of, Pánini must be enabled to verify the interpretation offered to him. Holding, therefore, that we have merely got three pratyáháras, with different terminations, we proceed to enquire (1st) which is to give way, (2nd) which is to take its place, and (3rd) which is to be regarded as the cause of the change. For the sake of brevity we may now drop the term pratyáhára, and speak of yan, ach, &c. simply.

No. 22.—WHEN A TERM ID EXHIBITED IN THE SEVENTH CASE (No. 137,) the operation directed is to be understood as affecting the state of what immediately PRECEDES that which the term denotes.

In the present instance, the term exhibited in the seventh case is ach. In the example sadhi upásya, the u of upásya is the vowel which that term denotes; and that which is to be affected is the final i (ik) of sudhi, which immediately precedes the u. By the foregoing rule, yan is to be substituted for the ik, but yan is the common name of the four letters yv and l, and the question occurs—which of these is to be the substitute? The next rule supplies the answer.

No. 23.—When a common term is obtained as a substitute, let THN LIKEST of its significates, to that IN THE PLACE of which it comes, be the actual substitute.

Of the four letters denoted by yan, y, being a palatal, is the likest to i. Thus we have got such yan any which furnishes an occasion for another rule to come into operation.

श्रानचि च। ८। ४। ४९।

ग्रचः परस्य यरो द्वे वा स्त्रो न त्वचि।

No. 24.—Of yar, after ach, the reduplication is optional; but not if ach follow.

In sudhyupásya the dha is yar (this denoting all the consonants except ha), and it follows u (ach), and it is not followed by ach, being followed by ya. Therefore, if we make the optional reduplication, we get sudhdhyupásya. This calls another rule into operation.

भालां जञ्ज भाषि। ८।४।५३।

स्यष्टम् । इति धकारस्य दकारः ।

No. 25.—Instead of the letters called JHAL there shall be JAS 1F JHAS FOLLOW.

Thus, instead of the first dha (jhal) of sudhyupásya, since dha. (jhaś) follows it, there must be jaś; that is to say, ja ba ya da or da. Of these the likest (No. 23) is da. So, we get suddhyupásya; and the process night here terminate, did not another rule start an objection.

संयोगान्तस्य लोपः। ८। २। २३।

संयोगान्त यत् पदं तदन्तस्य लापः स्यात् ।

No 26.—Let there be Elision of the final of that pada (No. 20) Which Elibs in a compound consonent.

In suddhyupúsya the pada suddhy ends with a compound consonant; and, according to the rule, the whole pada ought to disappear. The rule, however, is limited by the qualification that follows.

श्र्यलोऽन्त्यस्य । १ । १ । ५२ ।

षछीनिर्दिछान्यस्यादेशः स्थात् । इति प्राप्ते ।

No 27—Let the substitute take the place of only THE FINAL LETTER of that which is denoted by a term exhibted in the genitive or sinth case.

An instance of clision (lopa No.7) is regarded by the Sanskrit grammarians as the substitution of a blank. So a blank is directed to be substituted for the y, the final letter of the word suddhy, which is denoted (in No. 26) by a term, in the genitive or sixth case, viz. "of that pada which ends in a compound consonant." But here Kátyáyana interferes, and remarks as follows:—

यगः प्रतिषेधो वाच्यः । सुद्धुपास्यः । मद्ध्वरिः । धात्तंशः । लाक्षतिः ।

No. 28.—"The prohibition of the rule (No. 26) in the case of yan should be stated"

So the elision does not take place, and the formation of the word Suddhyupásya (a name of God—"He who is to be worshipped by the intelligent") is completed.

By a like process are formed the three words Maddhwari (a name of Vishnu-"the foe of the demon Madhu,") Dhátransa (a name of Brahmá—"a portion of Vishnu the cherisher") and lákriti ("the form of the letter lri") in which the other letters denoted by yan are successively exhibited. The student, after making himself familiar with the process in the instance of Suddhynpásya, should exercise himself in applying it to these and similiar instances, not referring to his book except when his memory fails him.

We now proceed to consider the changes that depend upon the diphthongs (ech).

रचाऽयवायावः । ६ । १ । ७८ ।

एतः क्रमादय अञ् आय ग्रात्र एते स्परित । No. 29.—Instead of ECH, when ach follows, let there be in due order, AY AV ÁY, ÁV.

The due order is ascertained by the next rule.

यथासंख्यमनुदेशः समानाम् । १ । ३ । १० ।

समसम्बन्धी विधिर्ययासंख्यं स्थात् । इरये । विष्णवे । नायकः पावकः ।

No. 30, - When a rule involves the case OF EQUAL NUMBERS of substitutes and of things for which these are to be substituted, let THEIR MUTUAL CORRESPONDENCE (or the assignment of each to each) be according to the order of Enumeration.

Thus ech denotes the four diphthongs e o ai ou, and the four substitutes enumerated in the preceding rule are distributed among them—thus ay is the substitute of e, av of o, ay of ai and av of av. Example: hare + e = haraye "to Hari," vishne + e = vishnave, "to Vishnu," nai + aka = náyaka "a leader," pau + aka = pávaka, "purifier, i. e. "Fire."

A similar change, under different circumstances, is directed by the next rule.

वान्तो यि प्रत्यये। ६। १। ७६।

यकारादी प्रत्यये परे चोदीतीरव चाव एती स्तः । गव्यम् । नाव्यम् ।

No. 31.—There shall be substituted WHAT ENDS IN V (viz. the two substitutes av and an for the corresponding o and au, when an AFFIX (No. 139) beginning with the letter YA FOLLOWS.

Thus go + yam = ganyam "belonging to a cow;" nau + yam=návyam "belonging to a boat."

The following vártika provides for a solitary case.

ब्रध्वपरिमाणे च । गद्यतिः।

· No. 32.—"And when the compound is employed in the sense of a measure of distance," the o of go, followed by yúti (though this is not an affix. No. 31) becomes av. Thus go+yúti=gavyúti, when it signifies "a distance of about four miles;" but the substitution does not take place when it signifies a "yoke of oxen" (goyúti).

श्चादेङ्गुगाः । १ । १ । २ । त्रत् एक् च गुगसंज्ञः स्यात् ।

No. 33.—Let short A and EN (that is to say e and o) be called GUNA.

But why is the short a alone understood here in seeming contradiction to what was said in No. 17? The next rule will account for this.

तपर त्रत्कालस्य । १।१। ७०।

तः परो यस्मात् स च तात्पर खोच्चार्यमः गासमकानस्यैव संज्ञा स्यात् ।

No 34.—Let a vowel FOLLOWED BY THE LETTER T, and a vowel following the letter t, be the name only of the LETTER WHICH HAS THE SAME PROSODIAL LENGTH. (Nos. 9 and 17.)

The letter a is the representation of eighteen varieties (No. 17); but when it is followed by t, as in the preceding rule, it represents neither the long nor the prolated modifications.

ग्रवर्ण।दचि परे प्रवेपरवारेका गुणादेशः स्यात् । उपेन्द्रः । गङ्गादकम् ।

No. 35.—When ach comes AFTER A (or á), let GUNA be the single substitute for both.

Example, apa+indra=upendra (a name of Krishna—"born subsequently to Indra"); ganga+udakam=gangodakam ("the water of the Ganges").—In these examples the  $guna\ e$  is substituted for a and i, and the  $guna\ o$  for a and a, because the organs employed in the pronunciation of e (the throat and palate) are those severally employed in the pronunciation of a and i (Nos. 16 and 23); and the organs employed in the pronunciation of a (the throat and lips) are those severally employed in the pronunciation of a and a.

उपदेशोऽजनुनासिक इत्।१।३।२।

उपदेशेऽनुनासिकोऽजित्संज्ञः स्थात् । प्रतिज्ञानुनासिक्याः पाणिनीयाः । लण्मूचस्थावर्णेन सहोच्चार्यमाणो रेफो रलयोः संज्ञा ।

, No. 36.—In an upadesa (No. 5), let a nasal vowel be called "rr" No. 7).

In Pánini's Grammar there is no visible sign of the nasality of a vowel—hence we can know a vowel to be usual only from Pánini's explicity asserting that it is so, or from our finding that he treats it in such a way that we must conclude be regarded it as nasal. When speaking of the Siva-sútras, it was mentioned that the vowel in the sútra lan is called "it." According to No. 8, therefore, this vowel may be employed as the final of a pratyáhára, and the ra in the next rule (No. 27) is held to be this pratyáhára, the name common to the two letters ra and la.

स्टरित त्रिंशतः संज्ञेन्युक्तं तत्स्याने योऽण् स रपरः सस्तेव प्रवर्तते । कृष्णाद्भिः । तवल्कारः ।

No. 37.—An, substituted in the Place of Ri, which (No. 17) is the representative of thirty varieties, is always followed by the pratyáhárá RA (No. 36). Example: Krishna+riddhi=Krishnarddhi ("the growth of Krishna"), tava+lrikára=tavalkára ("thy letter lri").—The pratyáhára an denotes a, i and u. The a in the two preceding examples is the guna directed by rule No. 35. [As examples of i and u, directed by other rules, we may notice kri+ati=kirati, "he scatters," and dwaimátri+a=dwaimatura, "having both a mother and a stepmother."] The guna substitute of ri is a, because a, like ri has only one organ of pronunciation, whereas e and o, having two each, are less like ri (No. 16).

लीपः शाकल्यस्य । ८ । ३ । १८ । अवर्षपुर्वयोः पदान्तयोगंवयोवा लीपोऽशि परे ।

No. 38.—In deference to the opinion of Sákalya, let the Elision be optional of the letters  $\dot{y}a$  and va preceded by a or  $\dot{a}$ , and at the end of a pada followed by  $a\dot{s}$ .

Thus have iha, by No. 39, becomes havayiha; then the ya at the end of the pada haray, being preceded by a, and followed by i (as), may be optionally elided by this rule—the optionality of which is descately implied in the aphorism by its being rested on the authority of the ancient grammarian Śakadya, the propriety of whose injunction Pánini does not deny, although he does not admit it to be absolutely obligatory. The form of expression have iha would then appear to furnish occasion for the operation of rule No. 35—but the rule here following debars this.

सपादसप्ताध्यायों प्रति चिपाद्मसिद्धा चिपाद्मामपि एवं प्रति परं शास्त्र-मसिद्धम् । इर दह । हरियह । विष्णा दह । विष्णविद्ध । No. 39.—As far as concerns what precedes them, the three last chapters of the Grammar of Pánini are as if the rules contained in these three chapters had never taken effect; and further, in these three chapters, a subsequent rule is as if it had not taken effect, so far as any preceding rule is concerned.

To understand this, it must be recollected that the grammar of Pánini is divided into eight Lectures (adhyáya), each Lecture into four chapters (páda), and each chapter into a number of succinct Aphorisms (sútra). When the correct formation of a word is to be ascertained by the rules of this grammar, each sútra is conceived to present itself, or to be found (prapta,) when an occasion for its operation occurs. Now in the case of hara iha (No. 38), an occasion for the operation of No. 35 occurs, because no consonant intervenes between the a and i. But the elision of the intervening consonant (y)was the effect of a rule (No. 38) which stands as the nineteenth aphorism in the third chapter of Panini's eighth Lecture; and therefore, so far as rule No. 35 is concerned, which is the eighty-seventh aphorism of the first chapter of the sixth Lecture, the elision is as if it had never taken effect. Thus we have optionally hara that or haraytha to Hari here," and so also vishna iha or vishnaviha "Oh Vishnu" here."

ग्रादैच्च वृद्धिसंतः स्यात् ।

No. 40.—Let long  $\acute{a}$  (No. 34), and at and at, be called vrideht.

वृद्धिरेचि । ६ । १ । ८८ ।

त्रादेचि परे वृद्धिरेकादेशः स्यात् । गुणापवादः । क्रणीकत्वम् गङ्गीधः । देवैश्वर्यम् । क्रणीत्कण्यम् ।

No. 41.—When ech follows a let vriddhi be the single substitute for both.

This is a contradiction (apaváda), of the rule No. 35, which directs gana to be substituted in such a case. This rule takes effect, to the limitation of No. 35, because the latter has still a sphere left for its operation; whereas if No. 35 were always to take effect, the operation of the present rule would always be forestalled. Such a rule as the present is tantamount to an exception to a more general rule.

The Sanskrit Grammar acknowledges no irregularity, or exception to a rule—holding that a word which differs from all others of its class is "sui juris," and must have a rule of its own. (No. 32.)

Thus we have krishna+ckatwar=krishnaikatwam "oneness with Krishna," gangá+ogha=gangaugha "the torrent of the Ganges," deva+ iswaryam=devaiswaryam "the divinity of a God," krishna+autkanthyam=krishnaatkanthyam "a longing after Krishna."

No. 42—WHEN the verbs ETI and EDHATI, in those forms which begin with ech, FOLLOW a, AND when the substitute UTH (No. 282) follows it, let exidelhi be the single substitute of the concurring vowels.

This rule limits No. 41, which had previously limited No. 35.

Hence we have upa+cti=upaiti "he comes near," and upa+cdhatc=upaidhate "it increases." In the example prashthauhah (the accusative or second case plural of prashthavah "a young steer training for the plough,") the elements prashthavah and sus are (by Nos. 137 156, 185, 282, 281, 5, and 283) brought to the form prashthavah, to which the present rule applies, the result being prashthavah.

Why do we say (of the verbs eti and edhati) "in those forms which begin with ech? Because other parts of these verbs, not beginning with ech, are not affected by this rule. Example: upa+ ita=upeta "approached"—(No. 35); nat bhaván predidhat=pra+ididhat, "Let not your honour promote."

यतादूहिन्यामुपसंख्यानम् । यतौहिणी सेना ।

No. 44.—"And the substitution of riddhi takes place also (No. 42) WHEN PRA is FOLLOWED BY CHA COMA COMI ESHA and ESHYA. Example: hare + ava = hare'va "Oh Hari!—off;" vishno + ava = vishno'va "Oh Vishnu! off—". A character termed arddhákára, or "half the letter a," is generally written in the place of the letter thus elided, as we write an apostrophe in some analogous cases.

No. 57.—EVERYWHERE, both in secular and sacred writing, THE ORIGINAL OF the word GO ("a cow,") being a pada ending in Ex, may be optionally retained before a.

Example:  $Go + agram = go \ agram$  or go'gram, "a multitude of cows." "Why ending in  $e\acute{n}$ ?" Because the word go, at the end of the compound word chitragn ("having a brindled cow,") where, in the neuter, it ends in u (Nos. 269 and 275), has not the option of remaining unchanged. So chitragn + agram = chitragwagram "a multitude of brindled cows," (No. 21.) Why "being a pada so ending?" Because, though it end in  $e\acute{n}$ , the rule does not apply unless the word go be a pada (No. 20), so that, in forming the ablative or fifth case, (by Nos. 137 155, 36, 124, and 111,) we have go + ah = goh (by No. 193.)

Example: amí isáh "those lords," Rámakrishnávamú ásáte "Ráma and Krishna, those two are present. —Why do we say "after the m?" Because in the example amuke+atra=amuke'tra "those here," the e, preceded not by m but by the k of ak ich (No. 1321,) is not pragrikga, which it would have been, by the influence of No. 64, which includes e as well as i and ú, and from which the word "dual" is not supplied here, else this rule would be useless.

No. 68.—Let any nipáta (No. 66.) consisting of a single vowel with the exception of the nipáta áń, be pragrihya (No. 64.)

Example: i indra "oh Indra!" u umes u "oh lord of Uma!" The nipsta  $\acute{a}$ , as an interjection either making no particular difference in the sense of the sentence or else indicating reminiscence, has no indicatory  $\acute{n}$ , and therefore is not subject to the exception enjoined above. Example,  $\acute{a}$  evainu manyase "Now thou thinkest so, not having always thought so;"  $\acute{a}$  evain kila tat "Ah!—now I recollect—it is just so." Elsewhere, that is to say when it implies diminution, the  $\acute{a}$  has an indicatory  $\acute{n}$ , and is the subject of the exception above enjoined. No. 72.—And, in deference to the opinion of Sákalya, when a heterogeneous vowel follows, let there be the short instead of 1k at the end of a  $\rho uda$ .

As this injunction of shortening must not be an entirely abortive rule, the vowels shall not undergo a further change (as No. 21 would otherwise cause them to do). Example, chakri+atra=chakri atra "the discus-armed Vishnu here." On the alternative of not shortening the vowel, we have chakri+atra=chakryatra (by No. 21). Why "at the end of a pada! In the example gauri+au=gauryau "two goddesses Gauri," there is no option (No. 21) the word ending in i not being a pada. (From No. 20 we learn what constitutes a pada, but how to ascertain that a word is a pada, when the characteristic there referred to, as it sometimes happens, has no visible representative in the word itself, we must be content to learn further on. # ग्रचः पराभ्यां रेफहकाराभ्यां परस्य प्ररा द्वे वा स्तः । गाँखीं ।

No. 73.—Of yar, that is to say, of all the consonants except ha, AFTER the letters RA or HA FOLLOWING ACH, REDUPLICATION is optional Hence we may write gauryyau or gauryau "two goddesses Gauri."

न समासे । बाष्यखः ।

No. 74 .- The option of shortening (No. 72) does not hold in A COMPOUND word. Example, vápí+aśwa=vápyaśwa "a horse that can walk on water," where the application of No. 21 is imperative.

ऋत्यकः । ६ । १ । २१८ ।

ऋति परं पदान्ता ग्रकः प्राप्तद्रा । ब्रह्म ऋषिः । ब्रह्मिषेः । पदान्ताः किम्। बार्च्छत।

No. 75.—Ak (that is to say,  $\alpha$  or  $\acute{a}$  in addition to the other vowels in (No. 72) final in a pada may optionally take the short substitute as stated above (No. 74) WHEN short RI FOLLOWS. Example, brahmá+ rishi brahmarishi or brahmarshi "a divine saint." (Nos. 35 and 37).-Why "final in a pada? Because, to the word archehlat "he was going," where the & is not final in a pula (being an augment derived from No. 478) the option of this rule does not extend; so we have a+rehchhat=árchchhat by No. 218. We now proceed to

THE CONJUCTION OF CONSONANTS.

स्तोः प्रचुना प्रचुः । ८ । ४ । ४० । मकारतवर्गयोः शकारववर्गात्यां योगे शकारववर्गा स्तः । रामश्येते । राम-श्चिनेति । सच्चित् । शाङ्गिङ्जय ।

No. 76.—In the room of SA AND TU (that is to say, these five dentals to the de dha na, No. 17) when they come in contact WITH SA AND CHU, (that is to say, these five palatals cha chha ju jhu nu), there are ŚA AND THE PALATALS." Example, rámas+sete=rámassete "Ráma sleeps," rámas + chinoti = rámaschinoti "Ráma collects," sad + chit = sachchit "pure reason," (No. 90.) śárńgin+jaya=śárńginjaya, "Oh Vishņu be thou victorious."

No. 77.—This (No. 76) is not said of a dental which comes AFTER SA Example, in  $vi\acute{s}+na=vi\acute{s}na$  "lustre,"  $pra\acute{s}+na=pra\acute{s}na$  "a question," no alteration takes place.

ष्टुना ष्टुः।८।४।४१।

पदान्ताहवर्गात् परस्यानामः स्तोः छुर्न स्यात् । षट् सन्तः । षट् ते । पदान्तात् किम् । ईट्टे । टोः किम् । सर्पिष्टमम् ।

No. 79.—After Tu (No. 78) Final in a pada the change of a dental to a cerebral, except in the case of the affix nám, shall not take place.

Example: shad + santa = shatsanta "six good,"—(No. 90), shad + te = shatte "they six,"—Why "final in a pada?" Compare id + te = itte "he praises," where it is not so. Why only, "after tu?" Because the cerebral sha is not included. Example: sarpish + tama = sarpishtama "most excellent clarified butter."

ग्रनाम्बर्तिनगरीणामिति वाच्यम् । षण्णाम् । षण्णवतिः । षण्णगर्यः ।

No. 80.—"IT SHOULD BE STATED that NAVATI and NAGARI as well as NAM are NOT prevented by No. 29 from undergoing the cerebral change.

Example: shid + nám = shannám "of six," shid + navati = shannavati "ninety six," shid + nagaryah = shinnagaryah "six cities," whose names are feminine.

तोः षि। ८। ४। ४३।

न छुत्वम् । सन्पर्छः ।

No. 81.—In the room of TU (No. 76) there is not a cerebral substitute when sha follows. Example: san + shashtha = sanshashtha # being sixth."

भलां जधोऽन्ते। ८।२।३६।

पदान्ते भनां जशः स्यः। वागीशः।

No. 82.—In the room of JHAL, (that is to say, of any consonant except a semi-vowel or a nasal), let there be JAS, (that is to say, a soft unaspirated consonant) AT THE END of a puda.

Example:  $v\delta k + i\delta a = v\delta g i\delta a$  "the god of speech," a name of Vrihasputi.

यरेाऽनुनासिकेऽनुनासिके। वा । ८ । ४ । ४५ ।

यरः पदान्तस्यानुनासिके परेऽनुनासिको वा स्यात् । एतन्मुरारिः । एतद्-मुरारिः ।

No. 83.—In the room of YAR final in a pada, WHEN A NASAL FOLLOWS, there may be optionally a NASAL.

Example: ctad+marári=etanmarári or etadmarári "that Vishau."

No. 84.—"When it is a pratyaya (No. 139) that follows in secular language, the preceding rule (No. 83) is absolute."

Example: tat + mitram = tanmátram "merely that," "a primary element," chit + mayom = chinmayam "formed of intellect."

तोर्लि। ६। ४। ६०।

परसवर्षः । तत्त्वयः । विद्वार्तेतिखति । नम्यानुनासिको तः ।

No. 85.—In the room of TU (No. 76) WHEN the letter LA FOLLOWS, one homogeneous with the latter is substituted.

Example: tat + laya = tullaya "its destruction." The la substituted for na is a nasal la (No. 17). This is sometimes indicated by writing over it the mark chandra-vindu as in vidwán+likhati=vidwállikhati "the learned man writes."

उदः स्थास्तम्भाः पूर्वस्य । ८ । ४ । ६१ ।

No. 86.—After UD, in the room of the words STHÁ AND STAMBHA the substitute is a letter belonging to the class of the prior.

Thus, suppose we have to put together  $ud+sh\acute{a}nam:$ —the aphorism, without the gloss, exhibits to us the word ud in the ablative or fifth case. We must ascertain from another rule what is the special import of the fifth case here, as we did with respect to the locative or seventh case in No. 21. The maxim of interpretation  $(paribh\acute{a}sh\acute{a})$  here follows.

तस्मादित्युत्तरस्य । १।१।६०।

पञ्चमीनिर्देशेन क्रियमाणं कार्यं वर्णान्तरेणाव्यवहितस्य परस्य ज्ञेयम् ।

No. 87.—An operation caused by the exhibition of a term in THE ablative or FIFTH CASE, shall be understood to enjoin the substitution of something in the room OF THAT WHICH immediately FOLLOWS the word denoted by the term.

Therefore the substitution of the letter d enjoined by No. 86 is to be in the room of the words sthá and stambha. This again is qualified (as No. 26 by No. 27) by the following maxim.

त्रादेः परस्य । १ । १ । ५४ ।

No. 88.—That which is enjoined to come in the room OF WHAT FOLLOWS is to be understood as coming in the room only OF THE FIRST letter thereof.

Therefore, in the example  $ud+sth\acute{u}nam$  (No. 86) a dental letter is to be substituted for the s; and the dental which, like s, has the characters of  $viv\acute{u}ra$  and  $mah\acute{a}pr\acute{u}na$  (No. 16), that is to say which is both hard and aspirated—viz. th—is the proper letter of the set. (No. 23). Thus we have  $ud+thth\acute{u}nam$ , which comes within the scope of the next rule.

भरो भरि सवर्गी। ८। ४। ६५।

इलः परस्य भरो वा लापः सवर्णे भरि।

No. 89.—There is optionally elision of JHAR, preceded by a consonant, WHEN A HOMOGENEOUS JHAR FOLLOWS.

Thus we may have  $ud+th\acute{a}ncm$  as well as  $ud+thth\acute{a}nam$ , to each of which the following rule applies.

खरिचा ८।४।५५।

खरि भनां चरः स्यः । इत्युदेः दश्य तः । उत्यानम् । उत्तम्भनम् ।

No. 90.—And when khar follows, let there be char in the room of jhal.. Therefore, in the example in No. 89, the soft dischanged to the hard and we have utthknam or utththanam "uprising;" and so (No. 86) by the same process, uttambhanam "upholding."

भयो होऽन्यतरस्याम् । ८ । ४ । ६२ ।

भयः परस्य इस्य वा पूर्व तर्वणः । नादस्य चेत्रवस्य सदारस्य महाप्राणस्य तादृशे। वर्गचतुर्थः । वाग्वरिः । वाग्हरिः ।

No. 91.—In the room of the letter HA, AFTER JHAY, there is OPTIONALLY a letter homogeneous with the prior.

The fourth letter of each class (that is to say, the soft aspirate) is the suitable substitute for he (No. 16). Thus vig+hvii may be written vigghvii "eloquent"——"a lion in discourse."

भाषकोऽटि । ८ । ४ । ६३ ।

भयः परस्य शस्य क्वेर वाऽिट । तद् शिव इत्यत्र दस्य चुत्वेन जकारे क्वते खरि चेति जकारस्य चकारः । तच्छिवः । तद्शिवः ।

No. 92.—In the room of the palatal $A preceded by jhay, there is optionally the letter CHHA WHEN AT FOLLOWS.

Example: tad + sira, by this rule, optionally becomes tad + chhira, and then, by Nos. 76 and 90, tachchhira; on the other alternative (by Nos. 76 and 90), it becomes tachsiva "that sira."

No. 93.—It should be stated that the foregoing rule applies not merely when at follows but when AM (a more comprehensive pratyá-hára) follows. Thus we have tad + ślokena = tachchhlokena "by that couplet," where the  $\acute{s}$  is followed by  $\emph{l}$ .

माऽनुस्वारः । ८ । ३ । २३ । मान्तस्य पदस्यानुस्वारे। इति । इर्रि वन्दे ।

No. 94.—In the room of the eletter M final in a pada (or, as the gloss, trusting to No. 27, words it, "in the place of a pada which ends in m,") there is anuswara when a consonant follows.

Example: harim+rande=harinvande "I salute Vishnu."

नक्ष्वापदान्तस्य भलि। ८।३।२४।

नस्य मस्य चापदान्तस्य भल्यनुस्वारः । यशांसि । त्राक्रंस्यते ।

No. 95:—And also in the room of the letter na and ma not final in a pada, when that follows, there is an usuara.

Example: yaśán+si=yaśánsi "glories;" ákram+syate=ákrańsyate, "he will subdue."

त्र्रनुस्वारस्य ययि परसवर्षः । ८ । ४ । ५८ ।

शान्तः ।

No. 96.—In the room of anuswara, when yay follows, a letter homogeneous with the latter is substituted.

Example:  $\dot{s}\dot{a}\dot{n} + ta = \dot{s}\dot{a}nta$  "quiet."

वा पदान्तस्य। ८। ४। ५६।

त्वङ्करोषि । त्वं करोषि ।

No. 97.—In the room of anuswara final in a pada, the substitution (enjoined by No. 96) is optional.

Example: twańkaroshi or twań karoshi "thoù doest."

मे। राजिसमः क्वी। ८।३।२५।

क्विबन्ते राजती परे समा मस्य म एव स्यात्। सम्राट्।

No. 98.—Let the letter M itself be in the room of the m of the particle sam (No. 48) when the word Ráj follows, ending in the technical affix kwip (No. 855).

Example:  $sam + r\acute{a}t = samr\acute{a}t$  "a great king."

हे मपरे वा। ८। ३। २६।

मपरे हुकारे परे मस्य में। वा । क्रिम् स्वलयित । किं स्वलयित ।

No. 99.—When the letter H follows, being itself followed by M, the substitute for a preceding m is optionally m itself.

Example: kimhmalayati or, by No. 94, kin hmalayati "what does he cause to shake?"

यवलपरे यवला वा । कियँह्मः । किं ह्मः । किवँहुलयति । किं हुलयित । किलँह्मादयति । किं ह्मादयति ।

No. 100.—When the letter h follows, being itself followed by the letters  $\mathbf{v}$ ,  $\mathbf{v}$ , or  $\mathbf{L}$ , the substitute for a preceding m is optionally  $\mathbf{v}$ ,  $\mathbf{v}_n$ .

or L." (No. 30). Example, kiyhyah or by No. 94, kin hyah "what does it matter about yesterday?" kichwalayati or kin hwalayati "what does he cause to shake?" kilhládayati or kin hládayati "what gladdens?"

नपरे नः। ६। ३। २<sup>६</sup>।

नपरे इकारे मस्य ने। वा। किन् हूते। किं हूते।

No. 101.—WHEN the letter h follows, being itself followed by the letter n, the substitute for a preceding m, is optionally n.

डः सि धुट् । ८ । ३ । २६ ।

डात् परस्य सस्य धुड्डा ।

No. 102.—Drug is optionally the augment (áyama) of the dental s when it follows the cerebral p,—as in the example shot santah "being six." A question here arises as to where the augment is to be placed,—with reference to which we find the following direction.

श्राद्यन्ते। टिकिते। १।१। ४६।

टिक्किती यस्योकी तस्य क्रमादाद्यन्ती स्तः । षट्ट सन्तः । षट्ट तसन्तः ।

No. 103.—Of whatsoever the augments enunciated are distinguished by an indicatory  $\tau$  or  $\kappa$ , they precede or follow it accordingly. The augment of s, enunciated in No. 102, is distinguished by an indicatory t (No. 5); the augment is therefore to precede the s. The t is clided by Nos. 5 and 7, and the vowel by Nos 36 and 7, and, the dh being changed to t by No. 90, we got shott santah, or, without the augment (No. 102), shatsantah "being six"

वा स्तः । प्राङ् षष्टः । प्राङ्गधः । सुगण् षष्टः । सुगण्ट षष्टः ।

No. 104.—Of ha and ha respectively, when har follows, there are optionally the augments knuk and tuk. The indicatory k shows that the augment follows the letter (No. 103). Example: práń shashtha or práńkshashtha "sixth anterior," sugan shashtha or sugantshashtha sixth numerator,"

नश्च। ८।३।३०।

नान्तात् परस्य सस्य धुट्ठा । सन् त्सः । सन् सः ।

No. 105.—And of the dental s, AFTER WHAT ENDS IN N, the aug; ment dhut (No. 102) is optional.

Example: san tsah or san sah "he being"

श्चितुक्। ८। ३। ३९।

पदान्तस्य नस्य शे परे तुम्बा । सञ्च्छभुः । सञ्चम्भुः । सञ्च्यम्भुः । सञ्चन्भुः ।

No. 106.—Of u final in a pada there is optionally the augment TUK, WHEN the palátal  $\pm$  Follows. Example:  $san+t+\pm sambhu=sanchchhambu$  (Nos. 92 and 76), which, by the optional clision of the ch (No. 89) may become sanchhambu (" the good  $\pm sanchumbu$ , or  $\pm sanchumbu$  (No. 92). Without the augment, we have  $san \pm sanchumbu$  by No. 76

ङमा ह्रस्वादचि ङमुण् नित्यम्। ८।३।३२।

हम्बात् परो यो ङम् तदन्तं यत् पदं तस्मात् परम्याचे। नित्यं ङमुट् स्यात् । प्रत्यङ्कातमा । सुगर्गणीयाः । सदच्युतः ।

No. 107.—When a vowel comes after a pada ending in Kam preceded by a short vowel, the augment Kamur shall invariably be applied.

The name of this augment is derived from the pratyáháraham, so that (by No. 30) it is understood to imply the reduplication of the nasal

Example: pratyań + átmá = pratyańńátmá "soul evidently existent," sugan + íśa = suganníśa "the lord of an excellent class," san + wchyuta = sannachyuta "existing Vishnu."

समः सुटि । ८ । ३ । ५ ।

समा रः सुटि।

No. 108.—In place of the particle SAM, when sufficients there is ru.

For example, having got  $sam + sut + kartt\acute{a}$ , this rule, after the indicatory letter the Nos. 36 and 7) have been elided, gives  $sar + s + kartt\acute{a}$ .

श्रत्रानुनासिकः पूर्वस्य तु वा। ८।३।२।

ग्रत्र इपकरणे रोः पूर्वस्थानुनासिका वा।

No. 109.—But here, in the division of the grammar where ru is the subject of discussion, the nasal form is optionally the substitute of what precedes ru.

Thus, in the example under rule No. 108, the a of sar is optionally nasal, and this may be indicated by the mark chandravindu (No 85).

त्र्यनुनासिकात् परेाऽनुस्वारः । ८ । ३ । ४ ।

त्रनुनासिकं विद्याय रेतः पूर्वस्मात् परोऽनुस्वारागमः ।

No. 110.—After what precedes ru, if we omit to substitute the NASAL (of which the option is afforded by No. 109) ANUSWÁRA shall be the augment.

Thus, in the example under No. 108, if we do not substitute the nasal by No. 109, we must write anuswara as an augment.

खरवसानयार्विसर्जनीयः । ८ । ३ । १४ । स्र्यवसाने च पदान्तस्य रस्य विसर्गः ।

No. 111.—Instead of the letter r final in a pada, there is visarga, when khar follows or when there is a pause (No. 144).

So the r in the example under No. 108 is changed to silent h; thus  $sanh+s+kartt\acute{a}$ .

सम्पङ्कारां सा वक्तव्यः । सँस्कर्ता । संस्कर्ता ।

No. 112.—"Instead of SAM (No. 108) and also of the words PUM and KÁN, the substitution of s (for visarga by No. 122) SHOULD BE STATED to be invariable (to the exclusion of the optional retainment of visarga suggested by No. 123)."

Thus the example under No. 108 becomes sansskurttú ("one who completes"), the n representing either the sign of nasality (No. 109) or anuswára (No. 110).

पुमः खय्यम्परे। ८।३।६।

ग्रम्परे खिंय पुमा रः। पुँस्कोकितः। पुंस्कोकितः।

No. 113.—Instead of the word PUM, WHEN KHAY FOLLOWED BY AM FOLLOWS it, there is ru.

Example: pum+kokila=punskokila "a male cuckoo," where the n represents either the sign of nasality (No. 109) or anuswára (No. 110). See also Nos. 111 and 112.

नश्क्रव्यप्रशान् । ८ । ३ । ७ ।

No. 114.—Instead OF N final in a pada, EXCEPTING the N in the word PRASÁN, WHÊN CHHAV FOLLOWS, followed by am, there shall be ru.

For example: chakrin+tráyaswa—here n is final in a pada, and chhav(t) follows, followed by am(r); hence the n becomes r, which by No. 111, becomes visarga before a hard consonant, the preceding vowel being either nasal, according to No. 109, or followed by avuswára, according to No. 110.

खरि । चिक्रिंस्त्रायस्व । चिक्रिंस्त्रायस्व । ग्रप्रशान् किस् । प्रशान् तने।ति । पदस्येति किस् । इन्ति ।

No. 115.—Instead OF, VISARGA, let there be the letter s, when khar (a hard consonant) follows. By this rule, in addition to No. 114, chakrin+tráyaswa becomes chakrinstráyaswa "Oh discus-armed! preserve," where the n represents either the nasal (No. 109) or anuswáru (No. 110). Why did we say, in No. 114, "excepting the n in the word, praśán?" Because that rule does not apply to such an instance as praśán tanoti "the quiet man spreads." And why "final in a pada?" Because it does not apply to such a case as han+ti=hanti "he kills," where han is not a pada.

ननित्यस्य स्वी पे।

No. 116.—Instead of the n of the word NRÍN, WHEN the letter P FOLLOWS, there is optionally vu.

कुर्खाः द्रक् द्रिपाच। ८।३।३९। . कर्वा पर्वा च विसर्गस्य द्रक द्रपा स्तः। चाहिसर्गः। नृंद्रपाहि। नृंद्रपाहि। नृंः पाहि। नृः पाहि। नृन् पर्राहि।

No. 117.—And also when a consonant of the GUTTURAL class or of the Labial class follows, there are, instead of visarga, optionally JIHWÁMÚLÍYA AND UPADHMÁNÍYA (No. 15). The optionality of visarga in inplied in the word "and," (No. 111). Thus the words nrin pahi ("oreserve thou men)" may be written (as exhibited above) in five ways, either simply, or with the nasal substitute (No. 109) and upudhmáníya (No. 117), or with the nasal and visarga. (Nos. 109 and 111), or with the substitution of anuswára (No. 110) followed by either upadhmáníya or visarga.

द्विहत्तस्य परमाग्नेडितं स्यात् ।

No. 118.—Of that which is twice uttered, let the LATTER be called a REDUPLICATION (amredita).

कानाम्रेडिते । ८ । ३ । १२ ।

काचकारस्य रुराग्रेडिते। कास्कान्। कांस्कान्।

No. 119.—Instead of the n of the word kán let there be ra, when a reduplication follows.

Example:  $k \acute{a}n + k \acute{a}n = k \acute{a}n s k \acute{a}n$  "which of them?," where the n of the first syllable is either the nasal (No. 109) or  $anusw\acute{a}ra$  (No. 110). For the s, see Nos. 111 and 112.

क्के चाई।१। १३।

द्रस्वस्य के तुक्। शिवक्काया।

No. 120.—And when the letter CHHA follows, the augment of a short vowel is tuk. (No. 103).

Example:  $\dot{siva} + chh\dot{a}y\dot{a} = \dot{siva} chchh\dot{a}y\dot{a}$  "the shadow of Siva."—(No. 76).—

पदान्ताद्वा । ६ । १ । ७६ ।

दीर्घात् पदान्ताच्छे त्रावा । लत्मीच्हाया । लत्मीक्हाया ।

No. 121.—When chha comes after a long vowel final in a PADA; the augment tuk is OPTIONAL.

Example: lukshmí+chháyá=lakshmíchchháyá or lakshmíchháyá, "the shadow of Lukshmí."—(No. 76).—

So much for the combination of consonants. We now come to

THE CHANGES OF VISARGA.

विसर्जनीयस्य सः। ८।३।३४।

विष्णुस्त्राता ।

No. 122.—Instead of VISARGA, there is s, when a hard consonant follows

Example: vishnuh+tratá=vishnustrátá "Vishnu the preserver."-

वा शारि। ८। ३। ३६।

शरि विसर्गस्य विसर्गा वा । हरिः शेते । हरिश्शेते ।

No. 123.—When SAR (a sibilant) Follows, visarga may optionally be instead of visarga—or, in other words, it may remain unchanged.

Example: harih sete or harissete "Hari sleeps."—(No. 76)

ससजुषा सः। १।२।६६।

पदान्तस्य सस्य सजुषश्च रः स्यात्।

No. 124.—Instead of s, final in a pada and of the word SAJUSH, let there be RU.

श्रतो रार्मुतादमुते । ६ । १ । ११३ ।

ब्रह्मतादतः परस्य रोहः स्याद्रष्ट्रतेऽति । शिवीऽच्यः ।

No. 125.—Instead of RU, coming AFTER AN UNPROLATED AT (short a), let there be U, WHEN AN UNPROLATED at also FOLLOWS.

Example:  $\dot{s}iv\alpha r + archyah = \dot{s}iv\alpha + u + archyah = \dot{s}iv\alpha' rchyah$  "Siva to be worshipped." (Nos. 35 and 56)

इति च।६।१।११४।

तथा। शिवे। वन्द्राः।

No. 126.—And when has (a soft consonant) follows, ru shall be changed to u, when it is preceded by short u.

Example: $ivar + vandyah = $ivo vandyah, "$iva to be worshipped."

भाभगाश्रघोत्रपूर्वस्य योऽशि । ८ । ३ । १९ ।

एतत्पूर्वस्य रोर्यादेशोऽिश । देवा इहं । देवायिह । भास् भगास् स्रधास इति सान्ता निपाताः । तेषां रोर्यत्वे क्षते ।

No. 127.—Instead of Ru, Preceded by bho bhago agho a or á y is substituted, when as follows.

Example: devár+iha=deváyiha, or' (by No. 38) devá iha "the deities, here,"—Bhos bhagos and aghos are interjections ending in s.

When y has been substituted for their ru (derived from No. 124), it may chance to come under the operation of rule here following.

इलि सर्वेषाः । ८।३। २२।

भोभगोत्राघे।त्रापूर्वस्य यस्य ते।पः स्वाद्धति । भो देवाः । भगो नमस्ते त्राघो याहि ।

No. 128.—Let there be elision of the Y of all these, viz. the words in which it is preceded by bho bhago agho a or a (No. 127), when a consonant follows.

Example: bho deváh "Oh deities!", bhago namaste "oh! adoration to thee!", agho yáhi "oh! come."

राऽसुपि । ८ । २ । ६६ ।

बहो रेफादेशा न तु सुषि । बहरहः । बहर्गणः ।

No. 129.—R is the substitute of the word ahan, but Not when A CASE-AFFIX (No. 137) FOLLOWS.

रे। रि। ६। ३। १४।

रेफस्य रेफे परे लापः ।

No. 130.—There is elision of R, when R follows.

द्रलोपे पूर्वस्य दीर्घीऽगाः। ६। ३। १११।

ढरेफयोर्ज्ञीयनिमित्तयोः पूर्वस्याणो दीर्घः । पुना रमते । हरी रम्यः । शम्भू राजते । त्राणः किम् । तृढः । वृढः । मनस्रय इत्यत्र इत्ये क्रते हिश चेत्युर्त्वे रो रीति नोपे च प्राप्ते ।

No. 131.—When pha or R, Causing an elision, follows instead of a preceding an, there shall be its long vowel.

Example: punar+ramate=puná ramate "he again sports" (No. 130), harir+ramyah=harí ramyah "Vishnu is beautiful," śambhur+rájate=śambhú rájate "Śiva is resplendent."

Why "of an?" Because the rule does not include any other vowel. Example, tridh+dhu=tridhu "destroyed," vridh+dhu=vridha "raised."

In the case of manas+ratha, the change of s to ru (No. 124 having taken place, giving manar+ratha, two conflicting rules present themselves—the one (No. 126) directing that the r shall be changed to u, the other (No. 130) that the r shall be elided. The doubt, which rule shall take effect in such a case, has given occasion for the maxim here following.

विप्रतिषेधे परं कार्यम्। १। ४। २।

तुस्यबसिवरोधे परं कार्ये स्यात् । इति प्राप्ते पूर्वज्ञासिद्विमिति रा रीत्य-स्यासिद्वत्वादुत्वमेव । मनोरद्यः ।

No. 132.—When rules of equal force Prohibit each other, let the last (in the order of the Ashtádhyúyí) take effect.

According to this maxim, in the example manar + ratha (under No. 131), the elision of the r ought to take place, by rule No. 130 which occurs in the eighth Lecture. But here the maxim (No. 39) interferes, which enjoins that a rule occurring in any of the three last Chapters of the Grammar shall be either as if it did not exist, or as if it had never come into operation, so far as concerns any rule that occurs earlier; and therefore No. 126, as if No. 130 did not exist, proceeds to substitute u, and thus we have mana + u + ratha = manoratha "a wish." (No. 35).

No. 133.—There is ELISION OF the SU (the case-affix of the nominative singular, No. 137) OF the pronouns ETAD AND TAD, provided they are WITHOUT the augment K (No. 1321), WHEN A CONSONANT FOLLOWS; BUT NOT if they are IN A COMPOUND WITH the privative particle NAN (a.)

Example:  $cshas + vishnuh = esha\ vishnuh\ "that\ Vishnu''$  (Nos. 338).—
338 and 169),  $sas + \acute{s}ambhuh = sa\ \acute{s}ambhuh\ "that\ \acute{S}iva''$  (No. 338).—
Why "without the augment k?" Witness  $eshako\ rudrah\ "that\ \acute{S}iva."$ Why "not if they are in a compound with the privative particle (nan)?" Witness  $asas + \acute{s}ivah = asa\acute{s}\acute{s}ivih$  "not that  $\acute{S}iva.$ " (No. 76.) Why "when a consonant follows?" Witness cshas + atra = esho'tra "he here." (Nos. 124 and 125.)

सीऽचि लोपे चेत् पादर्रणम्। ६।१। १३४।

स इत्यस्य सीर्लोपः स्यादचि पादश्चेल्लोपे सत्येव पूर्यत । सेमामविद्धि प्रभृतिम् । सेव दाशरथी रामः ।

No. 134.—Let there be elision of the su of sas, even when a vowel follows (No. 133), if by the elision alone the verse can be completed.

Example: (sa+imám=) semám aviddhi prabhritim "do not separate this collection," saisha dásarathí rámah "that Ráma, the son of Dasaratha."

So much for the changes of Visarga. We now come to the declension of

No. 137.—[In this aphorism the case-affixes are enunciated.—The cases, exclusive of the Vocative which is held to be a peculiar aspect of the nominative, are seven—1st nominative, 2nd Accusative, 3rd Instrumental, 4th Dative, 5th Ablative, 6th Genitive, 7th Locative. The case-affixes, with their significations, are as follows:—]

S	Singular.	Dual.	d Plural.
1st	· su	a u	jas	Materialista
2nd	am	aut	ર્કલક	an-same
3rd	tá	$bhy\'am$	ullet $bhis$	" by "
4th	ńe	bhyám	bhyas •	" to."
$5  ext{th}$	ńusi	bhyím	bhyas	"from."
$6  \mathrm{th}$	nas	08	ám	" of."
7th	$\acute{n}i$	08	sup	" in."

[After the elision of the indicatory letters, these affixes appear as follows:—]

1st	8	$au_{\bullet}$	as
2nd	am	αα	(64
3rd	ú	bhyam	bhis
4th	c	bleydin	hligas
5th	as	bhyáin	bleyes
6th	as	08	úm
7th	i	08	su

The reader who enters upon the study of the Lughukaumudi without any previous acquiintance with Sanskrit, will find the recollection of the rules more easy, and his apprehension of their import more distinct, if he make himself familiar with the most usual signs of the 7th, 6th, and 5th cases, for information respecting which he was referred (at Nos. 22, 27, and 87,) to the present section. When the uninflected word ends in a consonant, the affix is generally attached unaltered. Thus the 7th case singular of the word ach, in No. 21, is achi; the 7th dual of omin, in No. 54, is ominos; and the 7th plural of etyedhatnúth, in No. 42, is et gedh ttyúthsu. So again, the 6th case singular of ik, in No. 21, is ikas, which, by Nos. 124 and 126, becomes cko before a soft consonant; the 6th dual of sajush, in No. 124, is sajushos, which, by Nos. 124 and 130, becomes sajusho when followed by r; and the 6th plural of jhal, in No. 25, is jhulam, which, by No. 94, becomes jhalán. So again, the 5th case singular of eh in No. 56, is enas, which, by Nos. 124 and 111, becomes enah; the 5th dual of a term ending in a vowel occurs in No. 73, viz. rahábhyám, which, by No. 94 changes its final to n.

When the uninflected term ends in a vowel, the case-affixes are liable to several variations. Among the most noticeable modifications are the following, which take the place of the final a:

Singular.		Dual.	Dual.
5th	át	ábhyán	ábhyám
6th	asya	-	•	áná m
7th	e	. —		eshu

Examples of these terminations occur in No. 35, where át becomes ád (by No. 82); in No. 73—rahábhyám; in No. 26—sanyogántasya; in No. 30—samánám; in No. 31—pratyaye;—and in No. 44—úho-dhodhyeshaishyeshu.]

ड्याप्प्रातिपादेकाट । ४ । १ । १ ।

No. 138.—After what ends with the feminine terminations Ní (No. 256, &c.) or AP (No. 1341, &c.) or after A CRUDE FORM (No. 135, &c.).—

[This aphorism is one of those which are said to exercise an authority (adhikára) over other aphorisms, inasmuch as they consist of terms which other aphorisms, in order to complete their sense, are under the necessity of borrowing. (No. 5.) Some aphorisms, such as the present, consist solely of words which, taken by themselves, convey neither a definition nor a direction, and which are enunciated solely for the purpose of avoiding the necessity of repeating the same words in a number of succeeding aphorisms. Such aphorisms are said to be keval-ddhikára, or "intended simply to regulate the sense of others." On the other hand, in No. 21, only a portion of the aphorism, viz, the word achi, exercises adhikára, which it does over the sense of No. 55, &c.]

प्रत्ययः।३।१।१।

No. 140.—And subsequent.

[This, like Nos. 138 and 139, is an aphorism intended solely to regulate the sense of others. The sense of the three aphorisms combined is as follows:—]

Let me affixes su, &c. (No. 1317) come after, or be attached to words ending in  $\acute{n}i$  or ap (that is to say, words with feminine terminations.) and after crude forms (No. 135).

ुसुपस्त्रीणि जीणि वचनान्यंकश एकवचनद्विवचनबहुवचनसंज्ञानि स्यः।

No. 141.—OF SUP (which is a pratydhara formed of su the first of the case-affixes, and the final p of the last of them,) let the three expressions in each successive set of three be severally termed "the expression for one" (singular), "the expression for two" (dual), and "the expression for many" (plural).

द्वेपकयोर्द्विवचर्नेकवचने । १। ४। २२।

द्वित्वैकत्वये।रेते स्तः।

No. 142.—The DUAL AND the SINGULAR case-affixes are to be employed severally in the sense of DUALITY AND UNITY.

बहुषु बहुवचनम्। १। ४। २१।

बहुत्वविवद्यायां बहुवचनं स्यात्।

No. 143.—In expressing MULTEITY, let A PLURAL case-affix be employed.

विरामोऽवसानम् । १ । ४ । ११० ।

वर्णानामभावाऽवसानसंज्ञः स्यातः । इत्वविसर्गाः । रामः ।

No. 144.—Let CESSATION, or the absence of succeeding letters, be called a PAUSE (avasána).

We now proceed to decline the word r'ama (the name of an incarnation of Vishnu).—Attaching the case-affix of the 1st case singular, after removing the indicatory vowel (No. 36), we get r'amas: then the s becomes ru by No. 124, and finally visarga by No. 111, giving r'amah.

सरूपाचाचनप्रोष एकविभक्ती । १।२।६४।

एकविभक्ती यानि सरूपाएयेव दृष्टानि तेषामेक एव शिष्रते।

No. 145.—In any individual case (vibhakti) there is but one retained of the words, always similar in form. [That is to say, the dual, which means "two Rámas," implies "Ráma and Ráma;" and the plural, which means "more Mímas than two," implies at least "Ráma, and Ráma, and Ráma;" and of these words, similar in sense as well as in form, we are to retain but one, when adding the affixes of the dual and plural. It would be otherwise had we to attach a dual affix to an aggregate signifying the two opponents "Ráma and Rívana," or the two which, in some of their inflections, differ in sound as well as in sense, málri "a mother," and málri "a measurer." But when the words never differ in form, though they do so in sense, this rule may apply. Thus śri signifies "beauty" and also "wealth"—and "beauty and wealth" may be implied in the dual śriyau.]

In the 1st case dual, then, we have ránvi+av, which might appear to furnish occasion for the operation of the rule here following to the exclusion of No. 41, which gives way in accordance with No.132.

चकः प्रमयाद्वितीययारिच पूर्वसवर्णदीर्घ एकादेशः स्थात् । इति प्राप्ते ।

No. 146.—When ach of the first or second case follows ah, let the Long vowel homogeneous with the antecedent be the substitute singly for both. By this rule r'amu + au would become r'am'a, but the rule here following interposes.

नादिचि । ६ । १ । १०४ ।

चार्दिच न पूर्वसवर्णदीर्घः । वृद्धिरेचि । रामा ।

No. 147.—When ich follows a or  $\hat{a}$  the substitution of the long vowel homogeneous with the antecedent (No. 146) shall not take place. Then, by No. 41, thus freed from the obstruction of No. 146, we have  $r\acute{a}ma + au = r\acute{a}mau$  "two  $R\acute{a}mas$ ."

चुटू । १।३।७।

प्रत्ययाची चुटू इते। स्तः।

No. 148.—Palatal (chu) or Cerebral (tu) letters initial in an affix are to be elided. Therefore, in the affix of the 1st case plural the j of jus is to be elided, leaving us.

विभक्तिश्च।१।४।१०४।

सुप्तिङै। विभक्तिसंज्ञी स्तः।

No. 149.—And s  $\iota p$  (the case-affixes—No. 137) and  $ti\hat{n}$  (the verbal affixes enunciated in No. 407) are called VIBILAKTI.

न विभक्ते। तुस्माः। १।३।४।

विभक्तिस्यास्तवर्गसमा नेतः । इति सम्य नेत्त्वम् । रामाः ।

No. 150.—TU (the dentals to the da dha ra) and s and m. standing IN A VIBHAKTI (No. 149) are NOT to be elided. Therefore the final s in jas is not to be elided, notwithstanding Nos. 5 and 7; and ramás, by Nos. 124 and 111, becomes ramáh "Ramas"—more than two.

एकवचनं सम्बुद्धिः।२।३।४६।

संबोधने प्रथमाया एक उचतं सम्बद्धिसं इं स्थात्।

No. 151.—In the sense of the vocative, let the SINGULAR of the first be called SAMBUDDHI.

यस्मात् प्रत्ययविधिस्तदादि प्रत्ययेऽङ्गम् ।१।४।१३। यः प्रत्यये। यस्मात् क्रियते तदादि श्रद्धस्वरूपं तिस्मन् प्रत्यये परेऽङ्गं स्यात ।

No. 152.—After whatsoever there is an affix (pratylya) enjoined, let what begins therewith, in the form in which it appears when the affix follows it, be called an inflective base (anga).

For example, in the first case singular it is enjoined that the affix sv (No. 137) shall follow the crude form of a noun—for instance  $r\'{a}ma$ . Then this word  $r\'{a}ma$ , if it remain unchanged when the affix follows it, is called  $a\'{n}ga$ .

एङ्ह्स्वात् सम्बुद्धेः। ६।१।६८।

एङन्ताद्भस्यान्ताच्याङ्गाद्वन्तुप्यते सम्बुद्धेस्वेत् । हे राम । हे रामा । हे रामाः ।

No. 153.—After an inflective base (No. 152) ending in eh or in a short vowel, a consonant is elided if it be that of sambuddhi (No. 151). Hence the s is elided in he rams "Oh Rama!" In the dual and plural the vocative is the same as the 1st case; so he ramau "Oh two Ramas! "he ramah "Oh Ramas!" We now come to the 2nd case, and we find Ráma + am, where we might expect No. 55 to take effect. But this is prevented by the rule here following.

म्ब्रामि पूर्वः । ६।१।१००।

No. 154.—When the vowel of AM (the affix of the 2nd case singular) Follows ak, the form of the prior is the single substitute for both. Hence ráma + am = rámam "Ráma," ráma + au = rámau "two Rámas" (No. 141). In the 2nd case plural we find ráma + sas and the rule here following.

लप्राक्षतद्धिते । १ । ३ । ८ । तद्धितवर्जेप्रत्ययाद्या नशकवर्गा इतः स्यः ।

No. 155.—The letters L,  $\acute{s}$ , AND KU (that is to say, ka kha gu gha  $\acute{n}$ ) are indicatory IN AN AFFIX NOT belonging to the class TADDHITA (the class employed in forming nominal derivatives No. 1067). Thus the example under consideration becomes  $r\acute{u}ma + as$ ; then No. 146 comes into operation, and the rule here following enjoins a substitution.

तदास्त्राः नः पुंसि । ६ । १ । १०३ । पूर्वसवर्णदीर्घात् परा यः शसस्सस्तस्य नः स्थात् पुंसि ।

No. 156.—AFTER THAT long vowel homogeneous with prior (No. 146),  $\mathbb{N}$  is substituted in place of the s of SAS, IN THE MASCULINE. Thus we have rámán: a form which might seem to give occasion for the rule next following.

श्रद्रकुप्वाङ्नुम्व्यवायेऽपि । ८ । ४ । २ ।

श्चर् कर्वाः पर्वा ग्राङ् नुम् एतैर्व्यक्तैर्यशासंभविमितिश्च व्यवधानेऽपि रषाभ्यां परस्य नस्य गः समानपदे । इति प्राप्ते ।

No: 157.—Even when a separation is caused by the intervention of the praty'ah'ara, AT KU, PU, (the five gutturals and five labials), 'au (the particle 'au) AND NUM (anusw'ara), singly or combined in any possible way, the substitution of the cerebral for the dental n following r or  $\rain$  in the same pada (No. 292) shall take place.

By this rule the final n in randon would be replaced by a corebral, the rule next following prohibits the sull stitution.

पदान्तस्य। ८।४।३९।

नस्य खोन। रामान्।

No. 158.—The cerebral n shall not be substituted in the room of dental n final in a pada. Thus finally we have  $r\acute{a}m\acute{a}n$  "the  $R\acute{a}mas$ ."

In the 3rd case singular we first find  $R\acute{a}ma + t\acute{a}$ , but the rule next following enjoins a substitution.

टाङसिङसामिनात्स्याः । १ । १२ ।

ग्रदन्ताट्टादीनामिनादयः स्यः। शत्वम्। रामेण ।

No. 159.—Let INA AT AND SYA be substituted in the room of TA (3rd singular) has (5th sing.) and has (6th sing.) after what ends in short a.

Thus we have ráma ina, which after the cerebral n has been substituted by No. 157, becomes rámena "by Ráma." (No. 35.)

In the 3rd case dual we first find ráma + bhyám, which calls into operation the rule following.

No. 160.—And when a case-affix beginning with  $ya\hat{n}$  follows, the long vowel shall be substituted for the final of an inflective base (No. 152) ending in short  $\alpha$ . Hence  $r\acute{a}m\acute{a}bhy\acute{a}m$  "by two  $R\acute{a}mas$ ."

In the 3rd plural we find  $r \acute{a} m \alpha + bhis$ , and here also a substitution is enjoined.

श्राता भिस ऐस्। १। १। १।

ग्रनेकाल् शित् सर्वस्य । रामैः।

No. 161.—AFTER what ends in SHORT A, let their be AIS in the room OF BHIS. From No. 58 we learn that this substitute takes the place not of the first letter merely (No. 88), but of the whole term (bhis). By Nos. 124 and 111 we thus get rámain "by the Rámas."

In the 4th singular, we find  $r\acute{a}ma + \acute{n}e$ , and again a substitution is enjoined.

ब्राताऽङ्गात् परत्य द्वेर्यादेशः।

No. 162.—Let YA be the substitute OF KE after an inflective base ending in short a.

Thus we have  $r\acute{a}ma + ya$ , an instance which the rule next cited takes cognizance of.

स्थानिवदादेघोऽनल्विधे। १।१। ५६।

त्रादेशः स्थानिहत् स्थाव तु स्थान्यलाश्रयविधै। । इति स्थानिवस्थात् सुपि चेति दीर्घः । रामाय । रामाभ्याम् ।

No. 163.—A SUBSTITUTE IS LIKE (or succeeds to all the titles and liabilities of) THAT WHOSE PLACE IT SUPPLIES—BUT NOT IN the case of A RULE the occasion for the operation of which is furnished by the LETTERS of the original term.

According to this maxim, the ya substituted for ne, by No. 162, is, like it, entitled a case-affix (sup—No. 137); but it is not held to consist of the same letters as ne; hence, as it begins with the letter y (of the pratyáhára yan), it furnishes occasion for the operation of No. 160, by which the short a of the inflective base is lengthened. Thus we have rámáya "to Ráma." The 4th dual rámábhyán "to two Rámas"—is formed like the 3rd.

In the 4th plural we have first r'ama + bhyas, which calls into operation the rule next following (and not No. 160).

बहुवचने भल्येत्। १। ३। १०३।

भलादी बहुदचने सुष्यताऽङ्गस्यैकारः । रामेभ्यः । सुपि किम् । पचध्वम् ।

No. 164.—When a Plural case-affix beginning with Jhal Follows, E is the substitute for the final short α of an inflective base.

Thus we have rámebhyah "to the Rámas." Why do we say "case-affix?" Because the rule does not extent to the verbal affixes Ex., pacha+dhwam=pachadhwam "do you cook."

In the 5th singular we have first  $ráma + \acute{n}asi$ , and  $\acute{a}t$  is substituted for  $\acute{n}asi$  by No. 159, and we get  $r\acute{a}m\acute{a}t$  (No. 55), a form to which the rule next cited has reference.

ं ग्रवसाने भलां चारा वा । रामात् । रामाद् । रामभ्याम् । रामेभ्यः । रामस्य ।

No. 165.—When a pause (No. 144) ensues, chár may optionally be substituted for jhal. So we may write rámát or (by No. 81) rámád "from Ráma."

The dual and plural of the 5th case are like those of the 4th: rámábhyám "from two Rámas," rámebhyah "from the Rámas."

In the 6th sing, we have first  $r\acute{a}ma + \acute{n}as$ ; and, on making the substitution enjoined by No. 159, we get  $r\acute{a}masya$  "of  $R\acute{a}ma$ ." In the dual we have first  $r\acute{a}mass$ , which brings into operation the rule next following.

श्रोसि च। १। ३। १०४।

त्रताऽद्वस्यैकारः । रामयोः ।

No. 166.—And when os follows, then e is substituted for the final short a of an inflective base. Thus we have rame + os = ramayoh "of two Ramas"—(No. 29).

In the 6th plural we have first  $r\acute{a}m\iota + \acute{a}m$ , which calls into operation the rule next following.

द्रस्वनदापा नुट् । ७ । १ । ५४ ।

ह्रस्वान्तावद्यन्तादाबन्ताच्य ङ्गात् परस्पामे। नुहागमः ।

No. 167.—Nut shall be the augment of what comes after an inflective base ending in a Short vowel, or in NADL (No. 215) or in AP (No. 1341).

From No. 103 we learn that this augment is to be prefixed. We thus get ráma+nám, to which the rule following has reference.

नामि।६।४।३।

ग्रजन्ताङ्गस्य दीर्घः । रामाणाम् । रामे । रामयोः । रत्वे क्षते ।

No. 168.—When NAM follows, the long vowel shall be substituted for the final of an inflective base which ends in a vowel. Thus we get ramanam "of the Ramas." (No. 157.)

In the 7th sing, we have  $r\acute{a}ma+\acute{n}i$ , which, by Nos. 156 and 35, becomes  $r\acute{a}me$  "in  $R\acute{a}ma$ ." The dual is like the 6th— $r\acute{a}mayoh$  "in two  $R\acute{a}mas$ .

In the 7th plural we have ráma + su, which, by No. 164, becomes ráme + su, and this calls into operation the rule following.

ग्रादेशप्रत्यययोः । ८ ! ३ । ५६ ।

रण्कुभ्यां परस्यापदान्तस्यादेशः प्रत्ययावयवश्व यः सस्तस्य मूर्धन्यादेशः। र्रषद्विवृतस्य सस्य तादृशं एव वः। रामेषु । एवं कृष्णादये।ऽप्यदन्ताः। No. 169.—The cerebral substitute shall take the place of the dental s, when the s is part of a substitute of of an affix following in or ku, and is not the final letter of the pada.—Of the cerebrals, the ishadvivritu sh (No. 16) most resembles the s, and is therefore the proper substitute. Thus we get rangehu "in the Ramas."

In the same way are declined krishna and other words ending in short a.

[Having explained this declension very fully, we shall indicate the steps of the process as they recur in the sequel more concisely.]

No. 170.—Sarva, &c. are called Pronominals (sarvanáma)

This class of words consists of the following:—sarva "all," viswa "all," ubha "both," ubhaya "both," datara datama (affixes employed in the formation of such words as k dara "which of two?" and katama "which of many?")—anya "other," anyatara "either," itara "other," twat or twa "other," nema "half," sama "all," sima "whole." The seven following are pronominals when they imply a relation in time or place, not when they are names—viz., párva "prior, east," para "after," avara "posterior, west," dakshina "south, right," uttara "inferior, other, north," apara "other," adhara "inferior, west;"—so also swa when it signifies "own," not when it signifies "a kinsman" or "property;" antara when it signifies "outer" or "an under garment;" tyud or tad "he she, it, that," yad "who, which, what," etad "this," idam "this," adas "this, that," eka "one," dwi "two," yushmad "thou," asmad "I," bhavatu "your honour, your excellency," kim "who? what?"—

No. 171.—After a pronominal ending in short a, let si be the substitute of JAs (1st case plur.). As the substitute consists of more letters than one, it takes the place of the whole (No. 58). Ex., sarva + t = sarve ("all"—Nos. 156 and 35).

सर्वनामः स्मे । १ । १ । १४ ।

No. 172.—After a pronominal ending in short a, small is the substitute of he (4th sing).

Example: sarvasmai "to all." •

No. 174.—Sur is the augment of άm (6th plur.), WHEN ÁM COMES AFTER A PRONOMINAL ending in a or a. Example (Nos. 164 and 169) sarveshám "of all." In the 7th sing. (No. 173) sarvasmin "in all." The rest of the declension is like that of rama. In the same way are declined visiva and the other pronominals (No. 170) ending in short a. The word ubha "both" takes invariably the dual affixes. Ex., ubhau "both," ubhábhyám "by, to, or from both," ubhayoh " of or in both." The object of its being inserted in the list of pronominals (whilst its declension does not differ from that of rama) is its taking the augment akach (No. 1321 which it could not take if it were not a pronominal). The terms detard and datama are affixes. "By citing the affix we cite. that which ends therewith:"-(says Patańjali) so the words that end with these affixes are to be reckoned pronominals. The world nema is a pronominal when it signifies "half." That same, which is a pronominal when synonymous with sarra, "all," is not so when synonymous with tulya "like" we learn from the expression samanam "of equals". in No. 30-(which would have been samesham, if the word, in that sensé, had been a pronominal.)

पूर्वपरावरदिवागीत्तरापराधराणि व्यवस्थायाम-संज्ञायाम् । १ । १ । ३४ ।

एतेषां व्यवस्थायामसंज्ञायां सर्वनामसंज्ञा गणसूत्रात् सर्वत्र या प्राप्ता सा 'असि वा । पूर्वे । पूर्वाः । श्रसंज्ञायां किम्, । उत्तराः कुरवः'। स्वाभिधेयापेदा-विधिनियमा क्षयस्था । व्यवस्थायां किम् । दिविणा गाथकाः । कुशला इत्यर्थः ।

No. 175.—The name of pronominal (No. 170) belongs to PÚRVA "prior," PARA "after," AVARA "posterior," DAKSHINA "south," UTTARA "inferior, other, north," APARA "other," AND ADHARA "inferior," WHEN THEY DISCRIMINATE RELATIVE POSITION, NOT when they are NAMES.

The designation of pronominal assigned to these in every case by the aphorism No. 170, which implies the list of words enumerated in the commentary thereon, is optional when jus (1st plural) follows.— Ex., purve (by No. 171) or purvah (No. 151).— Why do we say "not when they are names?" Witness uttarah (not utture) when the word is used as a name for "the Kurus."

That there is "a specification, (niyama,) or tacit implication, of a determinate point (avadhi), with reference to which something is to be described by the word itself" is what we mean when we say that "a relation in time or place (avastha) is implied,"—[For example, we wish to describe Benares as being southern (dakshina). To do this, we may specify some point—say one of the peaks of the Himalaya—with reference to which Benares may be described as "a place to the southward." Again, we here may thus speak of the people to the south of the Vindhya mountains, as being "southern," not with reference to the inhabitants of Ceylon, but with reference (as every one here understands by tacit implication) to us ourselves who live to the north of the Vindhya range]. Why do we say, "when a relation in time or place is implied?" Witness dakskinah (not dakshine) gothakah, meaning "clever singers."

ज्ञातिधनान्यवाचितः स्वशब्दस्य प्राप्ता संज्ञा बिस वा । स्वे । स्वाः । श्रात्मीया त्रात्मान इति वा । ज्ञातिधनवाचिनस्तु स्वाः । ज्ञातये।ऽर्था वा ।

No. 176.—The designation, as a pronominal, of the word swa (No. 170) when it signifies something else than a kinsman or property; optionally obtains when jas (1st plural) follows. Thus we have either swe (No. 171) or swah (No. 151) in the sense of "own" or "selves," but swah alone, in the sense of "kinsmen" or "articles of property."

बाद्ये परिधानीये चार्षेऽन्तरशब्दस्य प्राप्ता संज्ञा जिस वा । ग्रन्तरे ग्रन्तरा वा ग्रहाः । बाद्धा इत्यर्थेः । ग्रन्तरे ग्रन्तरा वा शाटकाः । परिधानीया इत्यर्थः ।

No. 177.—The designation, as a pronominal, of the word antara (No. 170) when it signifies "outer" or "a Lower Garment," optionally obtains when jas (1st plural) follows. Thus we may write antare or antaráh, when speaking of houses "external" (for instance to the walls of the city); and so also when speaking of the petticoats worn under the upper garment.

पूर्वादिभ्ये। नवभ्येः वा । १ । १६ ।

एभ्या ङिसिङ्गाः स्मात्स्मिना वा स्तः । पूर्वस्मात् । पूर्वात् । पूर्वस्मिन् । पूर्वे । एवं परादीनाम् । शेषं सर्ववत् ।

No. 178.—After the nine beginning with púrva, (that is to say, after párva, para, avara, dakshina, uttera, apara, adhara, swa, and antara) the substitution of smát and smin for hasi and hi (No. 173) is optional.

Thus we may write either púrvasmát or púrvát, púrvasmin or púrve:—and so of para, &c. In other respects the decleusion of these words is the same as that of sarva.

प्रथमचरमतयाल्पार्धकतिपयनेमाःच । १ । १ । ३३ ।

हते जस्यक्तसंज्ञा वास्यः। प्रथमे । प्रथमाः । तयः प्रत्ययः । द्वितये । द्वितयाः । शेषं रामञ्ज् । नेमे । नेमाः । शेषं सर्ववत् ।

No. 179.—The words PRATHAMA "first," CHARAMA "last," TAYA (which is an affix, respecting which see the maxim cited under No. 174.—), ALPA "few," ARDHA "half," KATIPAYA "some," and NEMA "half," shall be optionally termed pronominal (No. 170) when jas (1st pl.) tollows.

Thus we may write prathame or prathamah. Of the affix taya we have an example in dwitaye or dwitayah "second." The rest of the declension is like ráma. The word nema is enumerated among the pronominals in No. 170—therefore, though by this rule the nominative plural may be like ráma, the rest of the declension is like sarva,

तीयस्य डित्सु वा । द्वितीयस्म । द्वितीयःयेत्यादि । एवं तृतीयः । निर्जरः ।

No. 180.—When Case-Affixes with an indicatory & follow (such are the 4th, 5th, 6th, and 7th, singular) the term pronominal No. 170) is optionally a name of what ends in Tiya.

Example: dwitiyasmai.or dwitiyáya "to the second," and so on.—So also tritiya "the third."

We new come to the declension of the word nirjara "imperishable,"—which is derived from the feminine word jará "decrepitude."

जराया जरसन्यतरस्याम् । १ । २ । १०१ ।

श्वजादै। विभन्ते। । पदाङ्गाधिकारे तस्य तदन्तस्य च । निर्दिश्यमानस्य देशा भवन्ति । एकदेशिवक्षतमनन्यविदिति जरशब्दस्य जरस् । निर्जरसा । निर्जरसा । निर्जरसा । दिश्वपाः ।

No. 181.—Instead of JARÁ there is optionally Jaras, when a vibhakti (No. 170) beginning with a vowel follows.

• Where a rule refers to a pada or an anga (No. 153), the rule, if it apply to a particular word, applies also to what ends with the word. Hence this rule, which applies to the word jará, applies also to nirjara, just as, in English, the substitution, in the plural, of "geese," for "goose," applies also to the case of "wildgeese." But here a question might arise, suggested by No. 58, as to whether the substitute should not take the place of the whole word -so that the plural of "wildgoose," should become "geese" simply. To guard against this, it is declared that "Substitutes take the place of that only which is exhibited (when the substitute is enjoined)."—Thus, in nirjara, the substitute takes the place of the jara only, for jará only was exhibited when the substitute jaras was enjoined. Here another objection may be raised. for jaras was enjoined to take the place of jará, with a long final, not of jara, the final of which is short. This objection is met by the maxim that "What is partially altered does not thereby become something quite different," (and this is illustrated in the Mahábháshya by the case of a dog, which, having lost his ears, does not thereby lose his personal identity,):—so jaras may be the substitute of the partially altered jara. Thus we get nirjarasau "two imperishables," nirjarasah imperishables," and so on.—On the other alternative, and when he affixes begin with a consonant, the word is declined like rāma.

We now come to the declension of viswapa "the preserver of all"

दीर्घाज्जसि च।६।१।१०४।

विश्वपाः । विश्वपाः । हे विश्वपाः । विश्वपाम् । विश्वपा

No. 182.—And when JAS (1st pl.) or ich (pratyáhára) comes After a long vowel, the long vowel homogeneous with the prior is not substituted for both (by No. 146, any more than under the circumstances stated in No. 147). We have therefore the 1st dual viśwapau (by No. 41), and plural viśwapáh (by No. 55), —In the vocative singular we have he viśwapáh, the same as in the nominative. In the 2nd case sing. viśwapám (No. 155); in the dual, as in the 1st case, viśwapau.

सुडनपुंसकस्य । १ । १ । ४३ ।

स्वादिपञ्चवचनानि सर्वनामस्यानसंज्ञानि स्परक्रीबस्य ।

No. 183.—Let sur (which is a pratyáhára formed of su the first case-affix, and aut the fifth, and which serves as a name common to the five), but NOT OF a NEUTER word be called sarvanámasthána.

स्वादिष्यसर्वनामस्थाने । १ । ४ । १९ ।

कप्रत्ययाविधव् स्वादिष्वसर्वनामस्यानेषु पूर्व पदं स्यात् ।

No. 184.—When the affixes beginning with ka (which occurs in the 70th aphorism of the 3rd Chapter of the 5th Lecture) follow, not being sarvanámasthána (No. 183), let what precedes be called pala. [This is an extension of the application of the term pada as iaid down in No. 14].

यचि भम्।१।४।१८।

यादिष्वजादिषु च कप्रत्ययाविधिषु स्वादिष्वस्वेनामस्याने गुर्वे भसेत्रं स्यात ।

No. 185.—And when affixes, with an initial vor initial vowel, beginning with su and ending with ka, follow, not being sarvandmasthana (No. 183), let what precedes be called BHA.

[The question here arises, whether a word which gets the name of bha from this rule, and of pada from the one preceding, is to retain both names, or, if not, which name is to be retained. The rule next cited supplies the answer].

श्राकडारादेका संज्ञा।१।४।१।

इत अर्ध्व कडाराः कर्मधारय इत्यतः प्रागेकस्यैकैव संज्ञा जेया । या परानवकाणा च ।

No. 186.—From this point (that is to say, from the 1st aphorism of the 4th Chapter of the 1st Lecture), to the aphorism "KADÁRÁH karmadháraye" (which is the 38th aphorism of the 2nd Chapter of the 2nd Lecture) only one name of each thing named is to be recognised—viz: that which comes last (where the claims are otherwise equal—(see No. 132) and that which, were its claim disallowed, would have no other opportunity of conducing to any result (see No. 41).

ऋाते। धातेाः । ६ । ४ । १४० ।

त्राकारान्ते। या धातुस्तदन्तस्य भस्याङ्गस्य लेापः । त्रजोऽन्यस्य । वि-रवपः । विकापा । विकापाध्यामित्यादि । एवं शङ्खध्यादयः । धाताः किम् । हाहान् । हरिः । हरी ।

No. 187.—Let there be elision or the final letter of an inflective base, entitled to the designation of bha (No. 185), when it ends in A DHÁTU (No. 49) WITH LONG Á as its final letter.

The word viśwapá ends in a dhátu, viz.  $p\acute{a}$  (in the sense of "preserving" which has long  $\acute{a}$  as its final letter; and the word which, by No. 147, is called an inflective base  $(a\acute{n}ga)$  when an affix follows, is, by No. 185, entitled to the designation of bha when the case-affix (not being one of the five first) begins with a vowel. The long  $\acute{a}$  is then elided.

Example: viśwapá + śas = viśwapah (2nd case plural), viśwapá + tá = viśwapá (3rd sing). Before the consonantal terminations there is no change. Example, viśwapabhyám (3rd dual). In the same way are declined śańkhadhmá "the blower of a conch-shell," and the like.— Why do we say, "when it ends in a dhátu?" Because primitive words, like háhá "a gandharva," do not come within the scope of the rule. Example: 2nd pl. háhán (Nos. 146 and 156).

We now come to the declension of a noun ending in short i—hari "a name of Vishnu." 1st s. harih, 1st du hari (No. 146)

ह्रस्वान्तस्याङ्गस्य गुणः । हरयः ।

No. 188.—And when JAS follows, guna, shall be the substitute of the short final of an inflective base. Hence 1st pl. hari+jas=harayah.

ह्रस्वस्य गुगाः। १। ई। १०८।

सम्बद्धाः हे हरे । हरिष् । हरी । हरीन् ।

No. 189.—The substitute OF A SHORT final is GUNA, when sambud-dhi (No. 152) follows. By this and No. 153, we get the vocative sing. he have. 2nd s. havim (No. 154), 2nd du. haví, 2nd pl. havín (No. 156).

शोषा च्यमखि । १। ४। १।

शेष इति स्पष्टार्थम् । हस्वै। याविद्तौ। तदन्तं सिखवर्जं घिसंज्ञम् ।

No. 190.—WITH THE EXCEPTION OF the word SAKHI, THE REST of the words that end in short i or u are called GHI. The words "the rest" are said to be employed here "for the sake of distinctness."

त्राङो नास्त्रियाम् । १ । ३ । १२० ।

घेः परस्याङे। ना स्यादस्त्रियाम् । त्राङिति टावंजा । हरिणा । हरि भ्याम् । हरिभिः ।

No. 191.—Let Ná be the substitute of án coming  $a^r$  ghi (No. 190), but not in the feminine. The term  $\acute{a}\acute{n}$  is the lent designation of  $t\acute{a}$ , the 3rd sing, case-affix.

Example: hari+tá=hariná (No. 157). 3rd du haribhyám, 3rd pl. haribhih.

घेर्ङिति । ७ । ३ । १११ ।

घिसंज्ञस्य ङिति क्रूम्म गुगः। हरवे।

No. 192.—Let guna be the substitute of GHI (No. 190), when a case-affix which has an indicatory  $\acute{n}$  follows. Thus 4th s. hari +  $\acute{n}e$  = haraye (No. 29).

ङसिङसोग्ना । ६ । १ । ११० ।

रको कसिकसारित पूर्वक्षमेकादेशः । हरेः । हर्याः । हरीयाम् ।

No. 193.—And when the short a of Kasi and Kas, comes after en

let the form of the prior be the single substitute for both. Thus, 5th and 6th s. hari+nasi and so also hari+nas=hareh (No. 192). 6th and 7th du. haryoh (Nos. 21 and 73)—6th pl. harinám (Nos. 167, 168 and 157).

दद्भामुत्तरस्य ङेरीहेरत् । हरी । हरिषु । एवं कट्यादयः ।

No. 194.—Let aut be the substitute of  $\dot{n}i$  (the case-affix of the 7th s.), when it follows short i or u, AND let short A be the substitute of the GHI (No. 190) itself. Thus 7th s. harau (No. 41). 7th pl. harishu (No. 169). In the same way are declined havi "a poet," and the like.

ग्रनङ् से।।।।१। ६३।

सस्युरङ्गस्यानङादेशोऽसम्बुद्धाः सा ।

No. 195.—Anan is the substitute of the word sakhi, when su Follows, provided it is not the sign of the vocative (No. 152).

The substitute, though consisting of more letters than one (No. 58), is prohibited by No. 59 from taking the place of more than the last letter. Thus we have sakhan + s.

त्र्यले।उन्त्यात् पूर्व उपधा । १ । १ । ६५ ।

अ गदनः पूर्वी या वर्षाः स उपधासंज्ञः स्यात ।

No. 3.—The letter before the last letter of a word is called the penu ate (upadhá).

सर्वनाः स्थाने चासम्बुह्ना । ६ । ४ । ८ । नामस्योपधार्या ेर्घाऽसम्बद्धा सर्वनामस्याने ।

No 197.—And the g form is the substitute of the penultimate letter (No. 196) of what ends in n, when a sarvanámasthána (No. 183), not being sambuddhi (No. 152), follows. Thus we have sakhán+s.

श्रएक एकाल् रत्ययः। १।२। ४१।

No. 198.—An AFFIX consisting of A SINGLE LETTER (exclusive of indicatory letters) is called APRIKTA.

हल्ड्याब् गेविधार सुतिस्यएकं हल्। ६।१।६८।

हननात् परं दीर्घ। या द्यापा तदन्ताच्च परं सुति सीत्येतद एकं हल्ल्यते ।

No. 199.—su (the 1st sing. case-affix) AND TI AND SI (the terminations of two of the persons of the verb) when reduced to A SINGLE CONSONANT (No. 198), and when standing AFTER what ends in a CONSONANT OR in the LONG vowel deduced from the feminine terminations $\text{\tilde{1}}$ (No. 256) AND $\tilde{\theta}$ (No. 1341), are elided. Thus $\sakhan + s$ becomes $sakhan.

No. 200.—There is ELISION OF N FINAL IN A pada which is entitled to the designation of PRÁTIFADIKA (No. 135).

The word sakhi is a prátipadika; it becomes a pada (No. 20) when the case-affix is added; and this name of pada it retains (by No. 210) after the case-affix has been clided. Thus sakhán is a pada. But sakhán is also entitled to the designation of prátipadika, like sakhi the place of which it occupies, according to No. 163. Thus, by the present rule, the form of the word becomes finally sakhá "a friend.

सख्युरसम्बद्धी । १ । १ । ६२ । सख्यरहात पर सम्बद्धिवर्ज सर्वनामस्यानं णिद्वत स्यात ।

No. 201.—Let a sarvanámasthána (No. 183) coming AFTEN the word SAKHI, NOT IN THE sense of the VOCATIVE SINGULAR, be like that which contains an indicatory  $\eta$ .

श्राची विवाति । १ । २ । ११४ ।

ग्रजन्ताङ्गस्य वृद्धिर्छिति शिति च परे। सखायैं स्वायः। हे सखे। सखायम्। सखाये। सखीन्। सख्या। सब्ये।

No. 202.—Let vriddhi be the substitute of an inflective base ending in a vower, when that which has an indicatory n or n follows.

Thus sakhi, when the 1st dual case-affix is to be annexed, becomes sakhai (No. 201), and sakhai + au = sakhayau (No. 29),—so also 1st pl. sakhayah. The vocative sing. (by Nos. 189 and 153) is he sakhe. In the 2nd s. and du., sakhayam and sakhayau, Nos. 201 and 202 again apply: 2nd pl. sakhin (Nos. 146 and 156), 3rd s. sakhya, 4th s. sakhye.

ख्यत्यात् परस्य। ६। १। ११२।

खिति ग्रन्द्राभ्यां खीती ग्रन्द्राभ्यां इतयणादेशाभ्यां परस्य इसिङ्सीरत 'डः सच्यः।

No. 203.— Short u is the substitute OF the u of  $\hat{n}asi$  and  $\hat{n}as$  FOLLOWING the words KHI AND TI or khi and ti which have substituted yan (No. 21) for the final vowel.

Khi and ti are the terminations of the words sakhi and paties which they are here employed to designate. The long forms khi and the indicate certain derivative forms: see No. 223.

The words "which have substituted yan," are employed to show that rule No. 192 does not apply here; and the same object is attained in the aphorism by writing not khi and ti but khya and tya, the a in which is intended merely to facilitate pronunciation

Thus we have 5th and 6th s. sakhyuh.

इतः परस्य हेरीत् । सल्यो । शेवं हरिवत् ।

No. 204.—Aut is the substitute of $1 after short i. Hence 7th s. sakhyau. The rest is like (hari No. 187).

पतिः समास एव।१।४।८।

े घिसंजः। पन्ये। पन्युः २। पत्याः। शेषं इरिवत्। समासे तु भूषतये। कतिशब्दे। नित्यं बहुवचनान्तः।

No. 202.—The word PATI is called ghi (No. 190) ONLY when it is IN A COMPOUND Symisa).

Hence in the W's patye "to a master," No. 192 does not apply; in 5th and 6th s. patyche No. 203, not No. 193, applies; and in 7th s. patyau, No. 204 applies, and not 194. The rest is like hari. But in a compound, as in bhapataye "to the lord of the earth," pati is treated as ghi (No. 191 &c.).

The world kati "how many?" takes the plural terminations only.

ब्हुगग्रवतुडति संख्या । १।१। २३।

No. 206.—Let the words BAHU, and GANA, and those which end in VATU and DATI be called sankhyá.

The word kati is one of those which end in duti, the d in which affix is indicatory.

इति च।१।१।२५।

इत्यन्ता संख्या षट्संज्ञा स्यात ।

No. 207.—And let a san'hyá (No. 206) which ends in DATI be called shat (No. 324).

Thus the word kati is called shat.

षड्भ्ये। लुक्। १। १। २२।

No. 208.—Let there be Elision (luk) of jus and sus AFTER words termed SHAT (No. 207).

प्रत्ययस्य लुक्सुलुपः । १ । १ । ६१ । नुक्रनुनुप्राब्देः कृतं मत्ययादर्शनं क्रमात् तत्ततसंतं स्यात् ।

No. 209.-Let the disappearance of AN AFFIX when it is caused by the words Luk, Slu. or lup be designated by these terms respectively (to distinguish it from the ordinary elision termed lopa - No. 6

रत्ययलोपे प्रत्ययलदाणम् । १ । १ । ६२ । प्रत्यये लुप्तेऽपि तदाश्रितं कार्यं स्यात् । इति जिस चेति गुणे प्राप्ते ।

No. 210.—When elision (lopa) of an affix has taken place THE AFFIX shall still exert its influence, and the operations dependent upon it shall take place as if it were present.

The word lakshana, in the aphorism, signifies "that by which a thing is recognised" A case-affix is recognised (No. 152) by its causing that which it follows to take the name of anga. In accordance with the present rule therefore the word kati retains the name of angu though the affixes jas and sas have been elided by No. 208, and, in virtue of its having the name of anga, it ought to take a guna substitute through the operation of No. 188. But the rule following debars this.

न लुमताङ्गस्य । १ । १ । ६३ ।

लुमता शब्देन लुप्ते तिचिमित्तमङ्गकाँथै न स्यात । कति २ । क्रितिभिः । कतिभ्यः २ । कतीनाम् । कतिष् । युष्पदस्मद्रषट्मंत्रकास्त्रिष सहपाः । विज्ञास्त्रो नित्यं बहुवचनान्तः । त्रयः । त्रीतः । त्रिश्यः २ ।

No. 211.—When an cax is clided by the enunciation of one of the three terms in No. 209) CONTAINING the letters LU, the effect which it is competent to cause in respect of an akga or inflective base shall not take place.

In the 1st pl. of kati, the affix jas is elided by the enunciation of lak (No. 208), and therefore the substitution of guna which the elided jas would otherwise (by Nos. 210 and 188) have been competent to cause, does not take place.

Thus we have 1st and '2nd pl. káti "how many?" 3rd katibhih, 4th and 5th katibhyah, 6th katinám (Nos. 167 and 168), 7th katishu (No. 169).

The words yushmad "thou," asmad "1," and the words called shal (Nos. 324 and 207) retain the same form in all the three genders.

The word tri "three," is always plural.

Example: 1st pl. trayah (No. 188), 2nd trin (Nos. 146 and 156) 3rd tribhih, 4th and 5th tribhyah.

त्रेस्त्रयः। ७। १। ५३।

त्रामि । त्रयासाम् । त्रिषु । गीसात्वेऽपि । प्रियत्रयासाम् ।

No. 212 - Traya is the substitute of Tri, when am follows.

Example: 6th pl. trayánám (Nos. 167 and 168), 7th trishu (No. 169).

And this rule applies also when tri is final in a compound adjective. Example: priyatrayánám "of those who have three dear friends."

त्यदादीनामः। १। २। १०२।

एषामकारे। धिभक्ता । द्विपर्यन्तानामेबेष्टिः । द्वी २ । द्वाभ्याम् ३ । द्वयोः २ । पाति लोकमिति पपीः सूर्यः ।

No. 213—Short A is the substitute of TYAD, &c. when a case affix follows. "TYAD, &c." (see No. 170) implies "tyad, tad, yad, etad, idam, adas, eka, and dwi." The Mahábháshya directs that the list shall not extend beyond dwi. That this is the direction of Patanjali (the author of that "Great Commentary," on the aphorisms of Panini) is indicated by the form of expression "it is the wish," or "it is wished," (ishtih or ishyate. Compare No. 14.) Thus we have 1st and 2nd du. dwau "two" (No. 147), 3rd, 4th and 5th dwabhyam (No. 160), 6th and 7th dwayoh (No. 166).

We now come to the declension of papi "the sun," (the "cher isher of the world," derived from pa, "to cherish").

No. 214.—And when jas or ich (pratyáhára, No. 147) comes After á long vowel, the long vowel homogeneous with the prior is not substituted (No. 146).

Therefore (by No. 21) 1st du. papyau, 1st pl. papyah, vocative sing. he papih, 2nd s. papim (No. 154), 2nd pl. papin No. 156), 3rd s. papyà, 3rd, 4th and 5th du. papihhyám, 3rd pl. papihhih, 4th s. papye. 4th and 5th pl. papihhyah, 5th at d 6th s. papyah 6th and 7th du. papyah. There is not nut (No. 167) for the vowel is long—hence 6th pl. papyám. When ni is added, then by No. 54, 7th s. papi, 7th pl. papishu.

In the same way are declined vátapramí "an antelope," and the like.

We now come to the declension of bahuśreyasi "a man who has many excellent qualities."

यूस्त्याख्याे नदी।१।४।३।

र्दूदन्तीः नित्यस्त्रीलिङ्गा नदीमंज्ञीस्तः । प्रथमनिङ्गयस्यां च । पूर्व स्व्याख्यस्यापमर्जनत्त्रेऽपि नदीत्वं वक्तत्र्यमित्यर्थः ।

No. 215.—Words ending in long f and ú, always FEMININE, and having no masculine of the same form, (as the word grámani has,) are called nadí (the word nadí "a river" being a type of the class.) "And its eriginal gender is to be taken" into account:—that is to say, it is to be spoken of as retaining its character as a nadí, even when the word which was at first feminine comes to form part of a compound epithet applied to a male.

स्रम्बार्थनदोक्त्रस्वः । १ । ३ । १०१ । सम्बद्धाः । हे बहुवयि ।

No. 216.—The short vowel shall be the substitute or certain words signifying "MOTHER," AND OF words called NADI (No. 215) when the affix of the vocative singular follows.

स्त्राग्नदाः । ७ । ३ । ११२ ।

नद्यन्तात परेषां ङितामाद्वागमः।

ङेराम् नद्याम्तीभ्यः । १ । ३ । ११६ ।

No. 219.—Am is the substitute OF KI AFTER words ending in NADÍ (No. 215) AND, in the feminine termination AP and the word Ní. Hence 7th s. bahuśreyasyám. The rest of the declension is like papí (No. 213).

The word atilakshni is, in the 1st s., atilakshnih "who has surpassed Lakshni," the su not being elided by No. 199, because the word lakshni (the name of one of the goddesses) is a primitive, and is not formed by a feminine affix ni. The rest of the declension is like bahuśreyasi (No. 214).

We now come to pradhi, 1st s. pradhih "a man of superior understanding."

स्रचि स्नुधातुभुवां स्वारियङ्गवङ्गा । ६ । ४ । ७७ ।

This rule should include the case of pradhi (which is formed from the verbal root dhyai "to meditate"), but the rule following restricts it.

यरनेकाचाऽसंयोगपूर्वस्य । ६ । ४ । ८२ ।

No. 221.—Yan is the substitute of 1 or 1 terminating a verbal root final in an inflective base of more vowels than one, provided the l'or i is not preceded by a compound consonant forming part of the root, when an affix beginning with a vowel follows.

In pradhi, which is a dissyllable, the final i terminates an inflective base of more vowels than one, and it is not preceded by a compound consonant. The rule therefore applies, and we have 1st and 2nd du. pradhyau, 2nd s: pładhyam, 1st and 2nd pl. pradhyah, 7th s. pradhyi (No. 55 being debarred). The rest of the declension is like that of papí (No. 213). In the same way grámunth "a female head of a village"; but, in the 7th s. this makes gramanyam (by No. 219, being derived from the root ni "to lead)." Why "of more vowels than one?" Witness nih "a leader," which makes, by No. 220, 1st and 2nd du. niyau, 1st pl. niyah, and in the 2nd s. and pl. niyam and niyah (Nos. 154 and 146 being superseded by No. 220, which occupies a later place in the Ashtádhyáyí —see No. 132.) In the 7th s. niyám (No. 219.)—Why "provided the vowel is not preceded by a compound consonant?" Witness 1st du. suśriyau "two prosperous men," and yavakriyau "two purchasers of barley," where the final i is preceded by a compound consonant, and to which therefore not this rule but No. 220 applies.

[It may be worth while to review the steps which rendered necessary the enunciation of this rule with reference to the word pradhyau. The word might apparently have been formed at once from pradhé+au by No. 21, but that rule was superseded by a subsequent rule No. 146. By No 214, however, this rule was positively forbidden to take offect, and as it therefore departs, with all its effects, No. 21 re-appear but to be again superseded by No. 220, to which the preference attaches on the principle stated under No. 41. No. 221 then supersedes No. 220, but as it does this not by positive prohibition, but by usurping a portion of its sphere of application, No. 21 is not again restored. Had it been so, the prohibitory rules would also have reappeared in an endless cycle.

गतिश्च।१।४।६०।

प्रादयः क्रियःयोगे गतिसंज्ञाः स्युः । गतिकारकेतरपूर्वपदस्य यण् नेष्यते । शुद्धधियो ।

No. 222.—And let pra, &c. (No. 47), in combination with a verb be called GATI (as well as upasarga).

It is not wished (by the author of the Mahábháshya) that yan (enjoined by No. 221) should be the substitute of a word to which is prefixed any thing else than a gati or a káraka (meaning by káraka a case which is in grammatical relation with a verb). Therefore in the example śuddhadhiyau "two men of pure minds," the substitution of yan does not take place, but No. 220 applies, because the word śuddhadhi means "one whose thoughts are pure," and here the word "pure," is in grammatical relation with the verb "are," in respect to which it is therefore a káraka, but it is not so in regard to the verb "to think," from which the word dhi is derived.

नं भूसुधियोः । ६ । ४ । ८५ ।

No. 223.—When a case-affix beginning with a vowel comes AFTER these two viz. BHÚ and SUDHI, there shall NOT be yan. (This debars, Nos. 232 and 221, and gives occasion for No. 220 to come into operation). Hence, 1st. d. sudhiyau, "two intelligent persons," 1st. pl. sudhiyah, &c.

The word subhi signifies "one who loves pleasure." It is declined like suli "one who wishes a son: "thus—Ist. s. sukhih sulih; 1st d. sukhihu, sulyun; 5 and 6. s. sukhyuh, sulyuh (No. 203). The rest is like problik (No. 220 &c.). The word sumbhu "Siva" is declined like hari "Vishnu," and in like manner bhanu "the sun," &c.

No. 224.—With the five first case-affixes (No. 183) excluding the case where the sense is that of the vocative singular, KROSHŢU is LIKE what ends in TRICH. That is to say, kroshtri is employed instead of the word kroshtu "a jackal."

No. 226.—When su, not in the sense of the vocative, follows, let  $ana\hat{n}$  be the augment of what ends in short ri and of usanas "the regent of the planet Venus," purudansus "Indra," and anehas "time." [This gives krosht + an + s.]

No. 227.—When the first five case-affixes, excluding the case where the sense is that of the vocative singular, come after the word AP "water," what ends in TRIN or TRICH, SWASRI "a sister," NAPTRI "a grandson," NESHTRI "a priest who officiates at a sacrifice," TWASHTRI "a carpenter," KSHATTRI "a charioteer," HOTRI "a priest who recites the Rig-Vedu at a sacrifice," POTRI "a priest who officiates at a sacrifice," and PRASÁSTRI "a ruler," the penultimate letter (No. 196) shall be lenthened. Thus [we get kroshtán+8, but the s is clided by No. 199 and the n by No. 200—leaving] 1st sing. kroshtá, 1st du. kroshtárau, (the ri becoming ar by No. 225, and being lenghthened to ár by No. 227). 1st p. krostárák. In the 2nd p. the form kroshtán is derived from kroshtu by Nos. 146 and 156.

No. 228.—Kroshtu may optionally be as if it ended in truck when the 3rd or any subsequent case-affix that begins with a vowel follows. Thus, 3rd sing. kroshtrá, 4th sing. kroshtre.

ऋत उत्।६।१।१११।

No. 229.—When the short a of  $\acute{n}asi$  and  $\acute{n}as$  (5th and 6th sing). comes AFTER SHORT RI, then SHORT U, followed by r, is the single substitute for both. [Thus we get kroshtur+s.]

रात् सस्य । ८ । २ । २४ ।

रेफात् संयोगान्तसस्यैव लोपो नान्यस्य । रस्य विप्तर्गः । क्राष्टुः । क्रोष्ट्राः २ ।

No. 230.—There is elision OF S, but not of any other letter of the alphabet, when it comes at the end of a conjunct consonant, AFTER R. Visarga is then substituted for the r, by No. 111, and we get kroshtuh,—6. and 7. du. kroshtroh.

No. 231.—"BY A PRECEDING RULE'S OPPOSITION, (contrary to Pánini's direction—see No. 132,) the augment NUT (No. 167) takes effect in preference to num (No. 271), the sútra "Achi, &c." (No. 249), and the resemblance to what ends in trich (No. 228) [the enunciation of each of which is subsequent to No. 167 in the order of the ashtádloyáyí]

Hence—kroshtu+nut+ám=kroshtúnám (No. 168). In the 7th sing, kroshturi. On the alternative (of the word's not being considered as ending in trich), and when the case-affix begins with a consonant, the word is declined like 6ambhu.

Húhúh "a celestial musician," 1st du. húhwau, 2nd sing. húhúm, &c. In the word utichamú "victorious over armies," the difference from húlú, as regards declension), consists in its being treated as nadú

(No. 215). Hence, voc. s. he atichamu (No. 216), 4th sing. atichamwai (Nos. 217 and 218), 5th and 6th sing. atichamwáh, 6th p. atichamunám. We now come to the declension of khalupú "a sweeper."

श्रीः सुपि । ६ । ४ । ८३ ।

Thus we have 1st du. khalapwau, 1st p. khalapwau. In the same way sulú "who cuts well," &c. [But this does not apply to swabhui "the Self-existent," because of the prohibition by No. 223—]. 1st s. swabhúh, 1st du. swabhuvau, 1st p. swabhuvah.

We have next the declension of varshábhú.

वर्षाभ्यश्च। ६ । ४। ८४।

न्नस्य यण स्यादिन सुपि । वर्षाभ्वावित्यादि । दृन्भुः ।

No. 233.—And the substitute of Varshábhú, "a frog—rainborn, shall be yan when a vowel follows, [in spite of No. 220,] Thus we have, 1st du. varshábhwau and so on.

Next we have to consider the declension of drinbhú "a snake."

दृन्करपुनः पूर्वस्य भुवे। यस् वक्तव्यः । दृन्भ्वे। एवं करभूः । धाता । हे धातः । भातारा । धातारः ।

No. 234.—" YAN SHOULD BE MENTIONED as the substitute of Bhū when preceded by Drin, kara, and punar."

Thus 1st du. drinbhwau. In the same way karabhû "a fingernail."

The word dhátri "the Cherisher," makes 1st sing. dhátá, vocative sing. he dhátah (Nos. 199, 225, and 111.), 1st du. dhátárau (Nos. 225 and 227), 1st pl. dhátárah.

Thus, 6th p. dhatrinam. In the same way naptri, &c. (No. 227). If the alternative view be taken, that these words are formed (by the affixes mentioned in No. 227), then the citing of naptri, &c. (in No. 227) determines that these alone (of the words so ending that come under the head of Unadi No. 901) are amenable to the rule. Hence (as pitri "a father," is not cited, and is formed by an unadi affix) the rules do not apply to the example following viz. 1st sing. pita (No. 221), 1st du. pitarau, 1st pl. pitarah, 2nd sing. pitaram. The rest is like dhatri (No. 234). In the same way jamatri "a son-in-law," &c.

ग्रस्य नामि वा दीवेः । नृषाम । नृषाम् ।

No. 236.—And MRI optionally substitutes the long vowel, when nam follows. Hence nrinam or nrinam.

गोती गित्। १। ६०।

चाकारान्ताद्विहितं सर्वनामस्यानं णिद्वत् । गाः । गावा । गावः ।

No. 237.—Placed AFTER a word ending in 0, such as 60 "a cow," each of the first five case-affixes is as IF IT HAD AN INDICATORY cerebral N, [the effect of which—see No. 202—is to substitute vriddhi for the preceding vowel]. Thus 1. s. go+s=gavh, 1. d. gávau, 1. p. gávah. [The t in the sútra shows (No. 34.) that the rule speaks of the vowel o, not of the word go.]

श्रीतोऽम्श्रासी:। ६।१। ८३।

चोतीऽम्यसीरच्याकार इकादेशः । गाम । गावी । गाः । गवा । गवे । गा. २ । इत्यादि ।

No. 238.—When the vowel of AM or SAS comes AFTER 0, the single substitute of both is long  $\acute{a}$ . Thus—2. s.  $go + am = g\acute{a}m$ , 2 du. (see No. 237)  $g\acute{a}vau$ , 2. p.  $g\acute{a}h$ . The 3rd and 4th s.  $gav\acute{a}$  and gave are formed according to the general rules for the permutation of vowels. in the 5. and 6. s. Glau "the moon," is declined regularly—thus—1. s. glauh, 1. d. glavau, 1. p. glavah, 3. d. glaubhyam, &c.

So much for masculines ending in vowels.

OF FEMININE WORDS ENDING IN VOWELS.

The first example is ramá which, by No. 199, takes the form ramá in the 1st case sing.

No. 245.—In a compound, of the kind termed Bahuvrihi (No. 1984), with a word signifying direction (No. 175), the pronominal character is optional. Thus in the 4. s. we may have either uttarapúrvasyai (No. 244) or uttarapúrváyai (No. 243) "for what lies to the north-east."

According to No. 180, the name of pronominal is optionally given to what ends in tiya. Hence, 4. s. dwitiyasyai or dwitiyáyai "to the second." In the same way tritiyá "the third.

According to No. 216, a short vowel is substituted in the voc. sing, of words signifying "mother." Example, he amba, he akka, he alla.

In accordance with No. 181, we may have 1. s. jará "decrepitude," 1. d. jarasau or jare, &c. On the alternative of its not being considered pronominal, the word is declined like ramá. Gopá "a cowherdess," is declined like viśwapá (No. 182).

Matih "sagacity," 2. p. matih (No. 156), 3. s. matyá (No. 191).

No. 246.—Words, always feminine, ending in long i and u, with the exception of the word stri "a woman," being such as admit iyath and uvan (No. 220); and also words ending in short i and u in the feminine, are optionally termed nudi (No. 215) when a case-affix with indicatory n follows. Hence 4. s. (by No. 218 mati+at+e=) matyav or, alternatively (No. 192) matye, 5. and 6. s. matyah or mateh. (No. 193).

Gauri "the brilliant goddess (Párvati)" is declined as follows:—1 s. gauri (No. 199), 1 d. gauryau, 1. p. gauryah voc. s. he gauri (No. 216), and so on. In the same way nadi "a river," and the like.

The word lakshmi "the goddess of prosperity," not being a derivative, does not fall under No 199, and therefore makes in the 1. s. lakshmih. The rest is like gauri. In the same way tari "a boat," tantri "a guitar-string," and the like.

No. 257.—Not after shat (No. 324), nor after swaszi, &c. is the feminine termination  $\acute{n}\acute{p}$  or  $\acute{t}\acute{a}p$  affixed. By "swaszi, &c." are meant the following seven viz. swasá "a sister," tisrah "three," chatasrah "four," nanándá "a husband's sister," duhitá "a daughter," yátá "a husband's brother's wife," and mátá "a mother." Thus we have 1. s. swasá (No. 227), 1. d. swasárau.

The word mátri is declined like pitri (No. 235), only that in the 2. p. it makes mátrih (No. 156).

The word  $d\dot{y}o$  "the heaven" is declined like go (No. 237), rai "wealth" as in the masculine (No. 239), and nou "a boat," like glau (No. 239).

No. 265.—Let WHAT HAS AN INDICATORY M come AFTER THE LAST OF THE VOWELS, and become the final portion of that (which it augments). Thus the n (of num, No. 264) is annexed to the final a of jnana, and is regarded as a portion of the word. Then the new penultimate vowel (by No. 197) is lengthened and we have 1. p. jnanani. Again in the accusative case it is the same. The rest is like the masculine. In the same way are declined dhana "wealth," vana "a wood," phala "fruit," and the like.

No. 267.—When that which has an indicatory d follows, there is elision of the II (the last vowel with anything that follows it—No. 52) of a bha (No. 185). Hence in the case of katara "which of the two?" formed by the affix datra (No. 170), when add is substituted for su or am by No. 266, we have 1st and 2nd s. katara + udd=katarat (No. 165) or katarad, 1st and 2nd d. katare, 1st and 2nd p. kataráni, voc. s. he katarat. The rest is like the masculine. In the same way katamat, itarat, anyat and anyatarat. But anyatama makes anyatamam (like jūánam No. 258), because the citation of anyatara, in No. 170, shows that anyatara and anyatama are not held to be formed from anya by the affixes datara and datama included in the list there given.

No. 271.—Let num be the augment of a neuter ending in ik, when a case-affix beginning with ach follows. Hence 1. d. vári + au = várini, 1. p. vári + jas = várini (No. 197).

As the rule No. 211 is not invariable, we have, alternatively, the guna caused by sambuddhi (No. 189). Hence either he vári (No. 271) or he váre. [That the rule is not invariable, Patanjali declares in the Mahábhúshya.]

When the affixes with an indicatory  $\hat{n}$  are to be added, guna is obtained from No. 192; but num takes effect to the exclusion not only of guna but of vriddhi (No. 202) and the substitution of au (No. 194, and the being regarded as ending in trich (No. 224) the prior rule here) debarring the subsequent (contrary to the general principle laid down at No. 132). Hence 4 s. várine, 5. and 6. s. várinah, 6. and 7. d. várinoh. In the 6. p. according to the vártika No. 231, there is nut, and then the preceding vowel is lengthened by No. 168—thus várinám. In the 7. s. by the same rules as the 5th and 6th, várini. With the affixes beginning with consonants, the word is declined like hari (No. 187).

Why "at the end of a pada?" Witness srastum, and dhwistam, "decayed" (where the final s of the root is not the final of a pada).

सहेः साडः सः। ८। ३। ५६।

साइह्यस्य सहेः सस्य मूर्द्वन्यादेशः । तुराषाट् । तुराषाड् । तुरासाहा । तुरासाहा । तुरासाहा । तुरासाहा ।

No. 288.—Let there be a cerebral substitute in the room of the s of the root saha in the shape of sáp. Hence in the 1. s. of turásáh "Indra," we have turáshát or turáshát (No. 276). When the h is not changed to dh, the present rule does not apply—thus 1st d. turásáhau, 1st p. turásáhah. In the 3rd d. again turáshádbhyám, and so on.

दिविति प्रातिपदिकस्यात स्यात् सा । सुद्धाः । सुदिवा ।

पदान्ते । सुद्धभ्यामित्यादि । चत्वारः । चतुरः । चतुर्भः । चतुर्भः ।

No. 290.—At the end of a pada, let UT be the substitute OF DIV. Thus 3. d. sudyubhyám, and so on.

We have now to consider the declension of chatur "four." By No. 284 this word takes the augment om in the 1st p. chatwarah. The declension then goes on regularly—2nd p. chaturah, 3rd p. chaturbhih, 4th p. chaturbhyah.

षट्चतुर्भ्यश्च । १ । १ । ४४ ।

एभ्य ग्रामा नुडागमः।

श्रचे। रहाभ्यां द्वे। ८। ४। ४६।

No. 294.—Instead of RU only (& not of the r which has not an indicatory u) there shall be visarga, WHEN SUP (7th p.) FOLLOWS. Hence the substitution of visarga does not take place in the case of chatur. In the 7th p. the change of s to sh is obtained from No. 169; and then the reduplication of the sh offering itself in No. 293, we look forward.

श्रोराऽचि। ८। ४। ४६।

ऋचि परे शरो न द्वे स्तः । चतुर्षु ।

No. 295.—There are not two in the room of a sibilant, when a vowel follows. Hence chaturshu.

मी नी धातीः। ८। २। ६४।

किमः कः। ७। २। १०३।

विभक्ती। कः। की। के। इत्यादि। सर्वेत्रत्।

No. 297.—When a case-affix follows, KA is the substitute of the interrogative pronoun KIM. Thus 1st s. kah•" who?" 1st d. kau, 1st p. ke (No. 171), and so on, like varva (No. 172).

इदमा मः। १। २। १०८।

सै।। त्यदाद्यत्वापवादः।

No. 298.—When su follows, let m be the substitute of the pronoun IDAM "this." This direction, to substitute m for m, debars the substitution of a by No. 213.

इदाऽय् पुंसि । १। २। १११।

इदम इदाऽय सा पुंति । ग्रयम् । त्यदादात्वे ।

No. 299.—When su follows, IN THE MASCULINE, AY is the substitute OF the ID of the pronoun idam (No. 198). Thus 1st s. ayam. In the other cases a is substituted for the final by No. 213.

श्चता गुगो। ६। १। ८७।

No. 300.—If GUNA come AFTER short A not final in a pada, the single substitute for both is the form of the subsequent.

Thus, when a (No. 213) is substituted for the m of idam, we have ida + a = ida.

दश्च। १। २। १०६।

इदमा दस्य मः स्याद्विभक्ता । इमे । त्यदादेः सम्बोधनं नास्ती-त्युत्सर्गः ।

No. 301.—And let m be the substitute of the D of idam, when a case-affix follows. Thus 1st. d. imau (No. 213), 1st p. ime (No. 171.

No. 302.—The substitute for the id of what idam is without k (No. 1321) is an, when one of the case-affixes termed ap follows. This ap is a pratyahara formed of the a of the 3rd case sing, and the p of the 7th pl. and denoting these and the intermediate cases—(Compare No. 183). Thus we have 3rd s. anena.

त्रककारस्येदम इदो लीप ग्रापि इलादी। नानधेके ली उन्यविधिरन-भ्यासविकारे।

No. 303.—When dp (No. 302) that begins with a consonant follows, there is elision of the id of the idam which is without & (No. 1321). According to No. 27, the elision should be only of the final, and not of the whole id—but we are told that No. 27 does not apply to what (like id) has no meaning, except in the case of changes connected with the reduplication of verbs (No. 427). Thus, there remains of the word only a.

श्राद्यन्तवदेकस्मिन् । १।१।२१।

एकस्मिन् क्रियमाणं कार्यमादाविवान्त रव स्यात् । सुपि चेति दीर्घः । ग्राभ्याम् ।

No. 304.—Let an operation be performed on a single letter as upon an initial or upon a final.

For Example,—by No. 160, it is directed that a final is to be lengthened before a case-affix beginning with yan—but a caville. might object that the solitary a obtained from No. 303 is initial, and cannot therefore be final. The present rule therefore declares that it is to be regarded as either the one or the other as the case may require. Hence we have 3rd dv. (a+bhyam=) ábhyám.

नेदमदसारकाः। १।११।

No. 305.—Ais (No. 161) is not substituted for bhis AFTER the.

pronouns IDAM OR ADAS WITHOUT K (No. 1321). Hence 3rd p. ebhih (No. 164), 4th s. asmai (Nos. 303 and 172), 4th p. ebhyah, 5th s. asmai (No. 173) 6th s. asya (No. 159), 6th and 7th du. anayoh (Nos. 302 and 166), 6th p. eshám (No. 174), 7th s. asmin (No. 173), 7th p. eshu (No. 169).

द्वितीय टेास्स्वेनः । २ । ४ । ३४ ।

रदमेतदोरन्यादेशे। किंचित् कार्यं विधातुमुपात्तस्य कार्यान्तरं विधातुं पुनस्पादानमन्यादेशः। यथा चनेन व्याकरणमधीतमेनं छन्दोऽध्यापयेति। चनयोः पवित्रं कुलमेनयोः प्रभूतं स्विमिति। हनम्। एने। एनान्। एनेन। एनयोः २। राजा।

No. 306.—When an affix of the 2nd case, or tá or os eollows, let ena be the substitute of idam and etad, in the case of its re-employment (anwádeśa) in the subsequent numbers of a sentence in which the pronoun has already been used. By "re-employment" (anwádeśa) is meant the employment again of what has been employed to direct some operation, to direct another operation. As, for example, "the grammar has been studied by him (anena), now set him (cnam) to read the Vedas." Or again "Of these two (anayoh) the family is illustrious—and their (enayoh) wealth is great." The cases in this form are 2nd s. enam, 2nd enau, 2nd p. enán, 3rd s. enena, 6th and 7th duenayoh.

We now come to the declension of rájan, which makes 1st s rájá "a king" (Nos. 197, 199, and 200).

न किसम्बुद्धीः । ८ । २ । ८ । नस्य तापा न कै। सम्बुद्धा च । हे राजन् ।

No. 307.—There is not elision of n, when hi or sambuddhi (No. 151), follows. Thus he rájan "oh king."

ङावुसरपदे प्रतिषेधः । ब्रस्तिनिष्ठः । राजानै । राजानः । राजः ।

No. 308.—According to Kátyáyana there is "a prohibition of No. 307, when there is hi and a subsequent term forming a compound." Thus brahman+nishtha=brahmanishthah "abiding in Brahma." In the 1st and 2nd d. rájánau, 1st p. rájánah, 2nd p. rájňah (Nos. 185, 273, and 76).

नलोपः सुप्स्वरसंज्ञातुग्विधिषु कृति । ८।२।२।१। सुन्दिधा स्वरावधा संज्ञाविधा कृति तुग्विधा नक्तापेऽसिद्धा मान्यत्र ।

राजास्व इत्यादािक्याकेहरूकित्वमेत्वमैस्त्वं च न । राजभ्याम् । यज्ञा । यज्ञाना । यज्ञानः ।

No. 309.—The elision of N (No. 200) shall be as if it had not taken effect (No. 39) in so far as regards rules directing the application of case-affixes, or relating to accentuation or the attribution of names (as in No. 324) or the augment tuk when there is a krit-affix (Nos. 816 and 8827), but the elision shall not be so regarded elsewhere. Hence the actuality of the elision is recognised in such instances as  $r\acute{a}ja + a\acute{s}wa = r\acute{a}j\acute{a}\acute{s}wa$  "the king's horse," where the rule that presents itself (in this instance No. 55) is not one of those just enumerated. On the other hand, from the elision's not being regarded as having taken effect, there is neither prolongation of the vowel (No. 160) nor the change of a to e (No. 164) nor the substitution of ais for bhis (No. 161). Hence 3rd d.  $r\acute{a}jabhy\acute{a}m$ .

We have next to decline yajwan "a sacrificer," which makes 1st s. yojwá, 1st d. yajwánau, 1st p. yajwánah.

वमान्तसंयोगादनोऽकारस्य लोपो न । यञ्चनः । यञ्चना । यञ्चभ्याम् । ब्रह्मणः । ब्रह्मणा ।

No. 310.—There is not elision of the a of an (No. 273,) when it comes AFTER a CONJUNCT CONSONANT ENDING IN V OR M. Thus 2nd p. yajwanah, 3rd s. yajwaná, 3rd d. yajwabhyán. In the same way, from brahman "Brahma," we have 2nd p. brahmanah, 3rd. s. brahmaná.

इन्हन्यूषार्यम्णां श्री। ६।४। १२।

No. 211.—The penult letter is lengthened (No. 197) of the affix IN (indicating a possessor), HAN "to strike," PÚSHAN "the sun," AND ARYAMAN "the sun," only WHEN SI FOLLOWS (No. 262 and 263). A prohibition thus presenting itself (to lengthening of the penult vowel in the 1st s. of the word writrahan "Indra—the destroyer of the demon Vritra," we look forward).

सी च।६।४। १३। स्वादीनामुपधाया दीर्घाऽसम्बुही सी । इत्रहा । हे इत्रहन् ।

No. 312.—And when su follows, not in the sense of the vocative singular, the long vowel is the substitute of the penult of in &c. (No. 311). Thus 1st s. vritrahá, voc. s. he vritrahan.

एकाजुत्तरपदं यस्य तस्मिन् समासे पूर्वपदस्याविमितात् परस्य प्रातिष-दिकान्तनुम्विभिक्तिस्यस्य नस्य णः । वृत्तहणाः

No. 313.—In a Compound the Latter-term of which contains but one vowel, let there be a cerebral n in the room of the dental n that follows anything which, standing in the prior term, is qualified to cause (No. 292) the change, provided the dental n be at the end of a prátipadika, or be the augment num (No. 264), or occur in a viblakti (No. 150). Thus 2nd d. vritrahanau (though the n is not in the same pada with the r).

जिति णिति प्रत्यये नकारे च परे हन्तेईकारस्य कुत्वम् । इन्त्यादि । एवं शार्क्तिन् यशस्विचर्यमन् पूपन् । . . .

No. 314.—If an affix with an indicatory  $\acute{n}$  or  $\acute{n}$  follow, or if  $\acute{n}$  follow, ku (i. e. one of the gutturals  $\acute{ka}$   $\acute{kha}$   $\acute{ga}$   $\acute{gha}$   $\acute{n}a$ ) is the substitute of the H of the word HAN "to kill." Thus (No. 273) in the 2nd p. vritraghnah, &c.

In the same way are declined śárńgin "Indra," yaśaswin "famous," aryaman "the sun," and púshan "the sun."

No. 316 —Let num be the augment of that which not being a verbal root, has an indicatory up and of the verbal root and u.

"to go" with its n elided, when a sarvanámasthána (No. 183) follows. Thus 1. s. maghaván (Nos. 199, 26, and 197), 1. d. maghavan tau No. 265), 1, p. maghavantah, vec. s. he maghavan, 3. d. maghavadbhyam. If tri is not substituted (No. 315) we have 1. s. maghavá, and, with the five first affixes (sut), the word is declined like the word rájan.

श्वयुवमघानामतद्धिते । ६ । ४ । १३३ ।

च्रवन्तानां भानामेषामतद्विते संप्रसारणम् । मघोनः । मघवभ्याम् । एवं श्वन् युवन् ।

No. 317.—Instead of śwan "a dog," Yuvan "a young man," and maghavan "Indra," when they are called bha (No. 185) and when a raddhita affix (No. 1067) does not follow, there is the sanprasárana (No. 281). Hence 5. s. maghonah (No. 283), 3. d. maghavabhyám. So far in like manner swan and yuvan are declined.

न संप्रसारणे संप्रसारणम्। ६।१।३०।

यूनः । यूना । युवभ्यामित्यादि । त्रजो । हे त्रर्वन् ।

No. 318.—Let there not be a SANPRASÁRANA, WHEN a SANPRASA-RANA FOLLOWS. Hence in 2. p. yúnah, where the v of yuvan is replaced by the sanprasárana, the preceding y is not to be changed to a vowel.

So again 3. s. yúná. In the 3. d. yuvabhyám, and so on. The word arvan "a horse" makes 1. s. arvá, voc. s. he arvan.

श्चर्वगस्त्रसावनजः । ६ । ४ । १२९ ।

नुजा रहित्रकाकी क्रिक्स म्याङ्गस्य तृ रत्यन्तादेशा न तु सी । अर्थन्ती । यर्थन्तः । अर्थद्भ्यामिन्यादि ।

No. 319.—Tri is the substitute of the final of an inflective base ending in ARVAN WITHOUT the privative prefix NAN, but NOT WHEN SU FOLLOWS. Thus 1. d. arvantau (No. 316), 1. p. arvantah, 3. d. arvadbhyám, and so on.

पथिमच्यृभुद्धामात । ३ । १ । ८५ ।

No. 320.—Of the words pathin "a traveller," mathin "a churner," and ribhukshin "Indra," long á is the substitute, when su follows. [In the sútra the finals of these three words do not appear by reason of No. 200.]

इतोऽत् सर्वनामस्थाने । १ । १ । ८६ ।

पच्चादेः ।

No. 321.—Instead of the short 1 of pathi, &c. (No. 320) there is short A, WHEN A SARVANÁMASTHÁNA (No. 183) FOLLOWS.

No. 323.—There is ELISION OF the TI (No. 52) of pathin, &c. (No. 320), WHEN the word is a BHA (No. 185). Hence 2. p. pathah, 3. s. pathá, 3. d. pathibhyam. In the same way mathin and ribhukshin (No. 320) are declined.

ष्यान्ताषट्।१।१।२४।

FOLLOWS, lct A be optionally the substitute OF the word ASHTAN "eight."

No. 327.—AUS is substituted for jas and sas coming AFTER the word ASHTAN, when (in accordance with the option allowed by No. 326) it has taken a sits final.

As (it might have been expected that) ashtabhyah (with a short a) was to be enounced (in the sútra), the exhibition of the word with the long  $\acute{a}$  (ashtábhyah) informs us that the substitution of long  $\acute{a}$  (No. 326) takes place in the case of jas and śas (although these affixes do not begin with consonants).

Thus 1. and 2. p. ashtau, 4. and 5. p. ashtábhyah, 6. p. ashtánám, 7. p. ashtásu. On the alternative of the change to á (No. 321) not being made, ashtan is declined like panchan (No. 319).

ऋत्विग्दं धृक्स्नग्दिगु ष्णिगञ्जुयु जिक्रुञ्जां च । ३ । २ । ५६ ।

This affly comes after  $a\hat{n}chu$  only when a word ending with a case-affix precedes it in composition. It comes after yujir and  $kru\hat{n}cha$  when these are uncombined. The non-elision of the n (by 363) of  $kru\hat{n}cha$  is an irregularity.

The letters k and n are indicatory in the affix kwin.

The word khan "who limps" (from the root khaji No. 497) makes 1st d. khanjau, 3rd d. khanbhyam.

व्रश्चभ्रस्जस्जम्जयजराजभ्राजच्छशां षः। ८। २। ३६।

भति पदान्ते च । जग्न्वचर्त्वे । राट् । राड् । राजी । राजः । राष्ट्राम् । स्वं विभाट् देवेट् विश्वस्ट् ।

No. 334.—When jhal follows, or at the end of a pada, let sh be the substitute of vrascha "to cut," bhrasja "to fry," srija "to create, mrija "to rub," vaja "to worship," raja "to shine," bhraja-"to shine," and of what ends in the letter chh or s.

Then by Nos. 82 and 165, we have 1st s. rát or rúd "a ruler, 1st d. rájau, 1st p. rájah, 3rd d. rádbhyám. In the same way ribhrát "who shines much," devet "a worshipper of the gods," and riśwasrit "the creator of the universe.

No. 336.—Of VIŚWA, WHEN VASU "wealth" OR RÁT (No. 334-FOLLOWS, the vowel is lengthened. Thus 1st s. viśwárát or viśwárdt a universal ruler." In the 1st d. the vowel is not lengthened, because the word is not in the form of rát:—thus viśwarájau. In the 3rd d. again we have viśwárádbhyám.

स्त्रीः संयोगाद्योरन्ते च। ६। २। २६।

पदान्ते भति च यः संये।गस्त्रदाद्योः स्कोर्नापः । भृष्ट् । सस्य श्वुत्वेन शः । भनां जश् भशीति शस्य जः : भृज्जो । भृद्धाम् । त्यदाद्यत्वं परक्षपत्वम् ।

No 337.—At the End of a pada or when jhal follows, there is elision of s or a Guitural, initial in a compound consonant.

Thus bhrasj (by a special rule) is changed to bhrisj, which by the present rule becomes bhrij; it then becomes bhrish by No. 334, bhrid by No. 82, and optionally bhrit by No. 165. In the 1st d as the word is not at the end of a pada, the s does not drop, but it changes to a palatal by No. 76. Then, by No. 25, the s becomes j, giving bhrijjau. In the 3rd d. bhridbhyám.

Now as regards the pronouns tyad, &c, there is the substitution of a (No. 213), and the substitution of the form of the subsequent (No. 300).

No. 338.—When su follows, let s be substituted in the room of the T or D, not being final, of tyad, &c.

Thus tyad "that" makes in the 1st s. syah (No. 213):—1st d. tyau, 1st p. tye (No. 71). Tad "that" makes 1st s. sah, 1st d. tau 1st p. te. The relative yad does not change its d, because it is final. It makes 1st s. yah, 1st d. yau, 1st p. ye:—etad "this" makes 1st s. eshah (Nos. 338 and 169), 1st d. etau, 1st p. etc.

the ad of yushmad being elided, and twa substituted for the other portion by No. 340, and am substituted for su by No. 339, we have 1st s. twam "thou" (No. 300). In like manner alum "I."

Then, as the change is directed by a term in the 5th case (No. 87), and the substitute takes the place (by No. 88) of the first letter only of what follows the term in the 5th case, the word would end in ns, but the s is elided by No. 26, and then the substitution of long á being obtained from No. 346, we have 2nd p. yvshmán and asmán.

The word agnimath "who kindles fire" makes 1st s. agnimat (Nos. 199, 82, and 165), 1st d agnimathau, 2nd s. agnimatham.

हत्तन्तानामनिदितामङ्गानामुपधाया नस्य लेापः किति ङिति । नुम् । संये गान्तस्य लेापः । नस्य कुत्वेन ङः । प्राङ् । प्राञ्चे । प्राञ्चः ।

No. 363.—WHEN THAT WHICH HAS AN INDICATORY K OR N FOLLOWS, there is elision of the n which is THE PENULTIMATE letter (No. 196) of inflective bases ending in Consonants and Not Having an indicatory short i. For example: the word pranch "eastern" is formed from the root anchu "to go" (the indicatory vowel in which is not i but u) by the affix kwin (No. 328) which has indicatory k. Thus in forming the 1. s. after eliding the affix (by No. 199) we have, by this rule, prach. Then by No. 316 num is directed, which, by No. 265, makes pranch, then there is elision of the final consonaut (No. 26), and finally, the n having been changed to a guttural by No. 331, we have pranch. In the 1. d. pranchau, 1. p. pranchah.

No. 364.—There is elision of the letter a of ACH (i. e. of the root

चे। ६। ३। १३८।

नुप्ताकारनकाराञ्चते। परं पूर्वस्याणा दीर्घः । प्राचः । प्राभ्याम् । प्रत्यङ् । प्रत्यक्वा । प्रतीचः । प्रत्यभ्याम् । उदङ् । उदक्वा ।

No. 365.—When anchu, having its a elided (by No. 364) and its n (by No. 365)—and thus reduced to CHI, i. e. ch,—FOLLOWS, a long vowel is substituted for the an (or short vowel) that precedes. Thus in the 2. p. the vowel of the prefix pra (No. 47) being lengthened, we have prachah, 3. d praybhyám (Nos. 184 and 331).

The word pratyanch "western" (in which the prefix is pratt) in like manner (No. 361) makes 1st s. pratyan, 1st d. pratyanchau, 2nd p. pratichah (No. 365), 3rd d. pratyaybhyám.

The word udanch "northern" makes 1. s. udan, 1. d. udanchau.

उद ईत्। ६। ४। १३६।

उच्छच्दात् परस्य नुप्तनकाराञ्चतेर्भस्याकारस्य रेत् । उदीचः । उद्य-ग्रेयाम् ।

No. 366.—Long f is the substitute of the letter a of the root anchu, deprived of its n and called bha (No. 185), when it comes AFTER the word UT (No. 48). Thus 2nd p. udichah, 3rd d udagbh yam.

ग्राप्तययान्तेऽञ्चते। सम्पद्धः। सम्पञ्चाः। समीचः । सम्यभ्याम् ।

No. 367.—Instead of the prefix sam (No. 48) there is same, when anchu follows not ending with a pratyaya (as, for example, when the affix kwin is elided by Nos. 330, &c.) Hence 1st s. samyań "moving equally, right," 1st d. samyańchau, 2nd p. samáchah (No. 365), 3rd d. samyagbhyám.

सहस्य सिधः। ६।३। ६५।

तथा। सध्यङ्।

No. 368.—Under the same circumstances (No. 367), there is sadden instead of saha. Thus 1. s. sadhryań "moving with."

तिरचित्रयंलीपे। ६। ३। ८४।

ग्रनुप्ताकारेऽञ्चतावप्रत्ययान्ते तिरसस्तिर्यादेशः । तिर्यङ् । तिर्यञ्चा । तिरश्चः । तिर्यभ्याम् ।

No. 369.—Tiri is the substitute of tiras, when anchu, whose a is not elided (No. 364) and which does not end in a visible affix (see No. 367), follows. Thus 1. s. tiryań "moving crookedly." 1. d. tiryańchau, 2. p. tiraśchah (the a of anchu being here elided by No. 364), 3. d. tiryagbhyóm.

नाञ्चेः पूजायाम् । ६ । ४ । ३० ।

पूजार्थस्याञ्चतेरूपधाया नस्य लोपो न । प्राङ् । प्राञ्चो । नलोपाभावाद-लीपो न । प्राञ्चः । प्राङ्भ्याम् । प्राङ्कु । एवं पूजार्थे प्रत्यङ्कादयः । क्रुङ् । क्रुञ्चो । क्रुङ्भ्याम् । पयोमुक् । पयोमुग् । पयोमुग्ने । पयोमुग्भ्याम् । उगित्त्वाचुम् ।

No. 370.—There is not elision (see No. 363) of the penultimate n of the root anchu, when it signifies "to worship." Thus the word pránch "a worshipper" makes 1. s. prán (Nos. 199, 26, and 331), 1. d. pránchau. As the n is not elided, the elision of the a (No. 364) does not take place, and we have 2. p. pránchah, 3. d. pránbhyám (Nos. 26 and 331), 7. p. pránkshu (Nos. 26, 331, 104, and 169). In like manner are pratyań, &c. declined when the signification relates to "worship."

The word krunch "a curlew" makes, in like manner, 1. s. kruń, 1. d. krunchau, 3. d. kruńbhyám.

The word payomuch "a cloud" makes 1. s. payomuk or payomug (Nos. 333 and 165), 1. d. payomuchau, 3. d. payomughhyám (No. 333).

In consequence of its being formed by an affix with an indicatory u, the word mahat "great" takes num by No. 316.

सान्तमहृतः संयागस्य । ६ । ४ । १० ।

स्रान्तसंयोगस्य महतश्व यो नकारस्तस्योपधाया दीर्घाऽसम्बुद्धाः सर्वनाम-स्थाने । महान् । महान्ता । महान्तः । हे महन् । महङ्काम् ।

No. 371.—When a sarvanámasthána, the affix implying the vocative singular excepted, follows, the long vowel becomes the substitute of that which immediately precedes the letter n of a compound consonant ending in s or that of the word mahat. Thus 1. s. mahán (Nos. 316, 371, 199, and 26), 1. d. mahántau, 1. p. mahántah. voc s. he mahan, 3. d. mahadbhyám.

श्रत्वसन्तस्य चाधातोः। ६।४। १४।

गत्वन्तस्योपधाया दीर्घा धातुभिन्नासन्तस्य चासम्बुद्धा । धीमान् । धीमन्ता । धीमन्तः । हे धीमन् । शसादा महदृत् । भातेर्डवतुः । हिस्त्रसामर्था-दभस्यापि देर्नापः । भवान् । भवन्ता । शत्रन्तस्य तु भवन् ।

No. 372.—The long vowel is the substitute of the penultimate letter OF what ends in ATU, AND OF WHAT, NOT BEING A VERBAL ROOT, ENDS IN AE, when the 1st singular case-affix, not with the force of the vocative, follows. Thus in the case of the word dhimat "intelligent" formed of dhi "intellect" and the affix matup, we find 1. s. dhimin (Nos. 316, 199, and 26), 1. d. dhimantau, 1. p. dhimantah, voc. s. he dhiman. When sas (2. p.) and the remaining affixes follow, it is like mahat (No. 371).

The honorisic pronoun bhavat "Your Honour," is formed of bhá "to shine" and the affix davatu. From rule No. 267 we learn that an affix having an indicatory & causes the elision of ti, i.e. of the final vowel and what may follow it, in whatever is called bha (No. 185), and the elision of ti (here the final yowel of the root) takes place in order that the possession of an indicatory & by davatu may not be nugatory. Hence 1. s. bhaván (Nos. 372, 316, 199, and 26), 2. d. bhavantau. Or the word bhavat, when it ends with the participial affix satri and signifies "being," the 1. s. is bhavan.

No. 374.—OF SATRI AFTER A REDUPLICATED TERM there shall not be the augment num (No. 316). Hence dadut, the present participle of dd "to give," as it is a reduplicte, makes 1. s. dadat, 1. d. dadatau.

No. 375.—Let JAKSHITI, &c., SIX verbs, with jakshiti itself as the seventh, be termed "reduplicate." Their being so termed brings them under No. 374, and we have 1. s. jakshut "eating," 1. d. jakshutau, 1. p. jakshutah. In the same way jayrat "waking," daridrat "poor," śasat "ruling," chakásat "shining."

The word gup, "concealing" makes 1. s. gup, 1. d. gupau, 1. p. gupah, 3. d. gubbhyám (No. 82).

त्यदादिषु दृशोऽनालीचने कञ्च च।३।२।६०। त्यदादिषुपपदेष्वज्ञानार्थेट्टशेः कञ्। चात् क्षित्।

No. 376.—And kan shall be the affix affer dris, not signifying "PERCEPTION," WHEN TYAD, &c. (No. 170) precede it in combination. By the word "and" in the sútra, we are reminded that the affix kwin may be employed; and it is this latter that will be employed in the present instance.

त्र्या सर्वनाम्नः । ६ । ३ । ८१ ।

No. 377.—When the word drig or dris or the affix vatu, follows, LONG Á is the substitute OF A PRONOUN. Thus tad+dris (Nos. 27 and 55) becomes tádris "such," and 1. s. tádrik (Nos. 199, 334, 81, 331, and 165), 1. d. tádrisau, 1. d. tádrisah, 3. d. tádrighhyám (Nos. 334, &c.).

In the example vis "who enters," the final is changed to sh by No. 334, and then, by Nos. 82 and 165, we have 1. s. vid or vit. Again 1. d. visau, 1. p. visau, 3. d. vidbhyám.

नशोर्वा। ८। २। ६३।

No. 378.—A guttural letter is OPTIONALLY the substitute OF the final of NAS at the end of a pada. Thus 1. s. nak or, alternatively, nat

(Nos. 334, 82, and 165) "who destroys," 1. d. nasau, 1. p. nasah, 3. d. nagbhyám (No. 378) or nadbhyám (Nos. 334, &c.).

चनुदके सुप्पुषपदे स्पृशेः क्षिन् । घृतस्पृक् । घृतस्पृशेः । दश्कः । पद्धः । । पद्धः ।

No. 379.—The affix kwin shall come AFTER the root SPRIS, WHEN the preceding member of the compound is an inflected word OTHER THAN UDAKA. Thus the word ghritaspris "who touches clarified butter" makes 1. s. ghritasprik (Nos. 199, 334, 82, and 331), 1. d. ghritasprisau, 1. p. ghritasprisah.

The word dudhrish "arrogant" makes 1. s. dudhrik (Nos. 199, 82) and 331), 1. d. dadhrishalu, 3. d, dadhrighhyam.

The word ratnamush "a stealer of gems" makes 1. s. ratnamu (Nos. 199, 82, and 165), 1. d. ratnamushau, 3. d. ratnamudhyam.

The numeral shash "six" makes 1. p. shat (Nos. 324, 208, 82, and 165), 3. p. snadbhih, 4. and 5. p. shadbhyah, 6. p. shannam (Nos. 82, 78, and 84), 7. p. shatsu (Nos. 82 and 90).

In the case of pipathish "one who wishes to read," the fact that this crude word ends in sh (caused by No. 169) is disregarded by No. 123 (an earlier rule in the tripádi—see No. 39) which directs rute be substituted—making (after the elision of su by No. 199) pipathir.

Thus, when su (7. p.) is to be attached, then the word pipathish, by Nos. 123, 380, and 110, becomes pipathih;—the su is then changed to shu by No. 169; and finally, by the optional rule No. 78, we have either pipathishshu or pipathihshu.

The word chikirsh "who wishes to do" makes 1. s. chikth. Here the affix is first elided by No. 199; then the final sh (regarded as s) is elided by No. 230, this rule (according to No. 39) regarding as inoperative the rule No. 169, which had changed the s. to sh, and finally the r becomes visarga by No. 110. Then 1. d. chikirshan, 3. d. chikirshyam, 7. p. chikirshu. In the 7. p. the s is elided by No. 230 but the r is not changed to visarga by No. 110, that rule being debarred in this case by No. 294.

The word vidwas "wise" (formed by the affix vasu) makes 1. s. vidwan (Nos. 316, 371, 199, and 26), 1. d. vidwans, voc. s. he vidwan.

No. 382.—Let the SANPRASÁRANA (No. 281) be the substitute of a bha (No. 185) which ends in VASU. Thus in the 2nd. p. the v, i. e. w, of vidwas becomes u (No. 283), and finally (by No. 169) we have vidushah. According to No. 287, the s final in a pada is changed to d, and we have 3rd d. vidwadbhyám.

No. 383.—Of the word Puns "a male," Asun is the substitute, when a sarmanamasthana (No. 183) follows. Thus (regarding the anuswara as equal to m) we get pumas (Nos. 5, 36, and 59) from which come 1. s. puman (Nos. 316 and 371), voc. s. he puman, 1. d. pumansau. Again 2. p. punsah, 3. d. pumbhyam (No. 26), 7. p. punsu.

The word usunas "the regent of the planet Venus," by No. 226 substitutes anan, when su follows, not in the sense of the vocative. Thus we have 1. s. usana (Nos. 197, 199, and 200), 1. d. usanasau.

No. 384.—"OF THIS word (usanas) WHEN SU IN THE SENSE OF THE VOCATIVE FOLLOWS, it SHOULD BE STATED that ANAN is OPTIONALLY the substitute, AND OPTIONALLY there is ELISION OF the N."

Thus we have either he ušana, or he ušanan, or he ušanah (Nos. 199, 123, and 110), voc. d. he ušanasau, 3. d. ušanobhyám (Nos. 123 and 125), 7. p. ušonassu.

The word anehas "time" makes 1 s. anehá (Nos. 226, &c.), 1. d. anehasav, voc. s. he anehah.

The word redhas "Brahmá" makes 1. s. vedháh (Nos. 372 and 110), 1. d. vedhasau, voc. s. Ledhah, 3. d. vedhobleyám.

In the 1. d., by No. 213, there is substitution of a for the final of a las; then, by No. 300, the preceding a merges in the following—giving ada; then, when the affix is attached, vriddhi is substituted by No. 41; but then the next rule interposes.

ग्रदसे। द्वान्तस्य दात् परस्य उद्भते। दस्य मश्च । ग्रान्तरतम्याद्वस्यस्य रुर्दोघस्य कः । ग्रम् । जसः शी । गुणः ।

No. 386.—Short U and long  $\acute{u}$  are the substitutes of what comes AFTER the D OF ADAS NOT ENDING IN S, and in the room OF D there is M. The short u is substituted for a short vowel, the long  $\acute{u}$  for a long vowel on the principle (No. 23) that, of the substitutes that offer themselves, the one employed shall be the most similar to that of which it takes the place. Thus we have, instead of adam, am $\acute{u}$ . In the 1st. p. long  $\acute{u}$  is directed to be substituted for the affix by No. 171, and the substitution of guna (which would give  $ada+\acute{u}=ade$ ) being directed, we look forward.

No. 387.—In the Plural, long f is the substitute of the E (No. 386) that follows the d of adas; and instead of the d there is m. Thus 1. p. ami. In the 2. s. in accordance with No. 39, the several rules regarding the application of the case-affix first take place, and then we have the substitution of u and m (by No. 389). Thus 2. s amam (by No. 386) becomes amum, 2. d. ami, 2. p. amim (instead of adin).

In the 3 s. mu having been made (by No. 386), and consequently the name ghi (No. 190) being applicable to the term, the substitute  $n\acute{a}$  offers itself from No. 191. Thus we should have  $amu+n\acute{a}$ ; but here the question might occur, seeing that the mu was derived from a rule (No. 386) in the  $trip\acute{a}d\acute{i}$  (No. 39), whether No. 191 does not regard the mu as non-existent.

The following rule refers to this point.

न मुने। ८। २। ३।

No. 388.—When the production of NA IS TO TAKE PLACE OR HAS TAKEN PLACE, the existence of MU IS NOT to be regarded AS IF IT HAD NOT BEEN EFFECTED. Thus we have 3. s. amuná. Then 3. p. amúbhyúm (for adúbhyám, see No. 386), 3. p. amíbhih (No. 387), 4. s. amushmai (Nos. 172 and 169), 4. p. amíbhyah, 5. s. amushmát, 6. s. amushya, 6. d. amuyoh, 6. p. amíshám (No. 174), 7. s. amushmin, 7. p. amíshu.

The word chatur "four" substitutes chatus i (No. 248) in the feminine; and by No. 249, the letter r is substituted for ri, when a vowel follows. Thus we have 1. p. chatasrah. In the 6. p. chatasrinám, the vowel is not lengthened—see No. 250.

No. 391.—Instead of the d of idam "this," there is v, when su follows. Thus 1. s. iyam (No. 298). In the other cases No. 213 directs the substitution of short a for the final, and the preceding vowel merges in this by No. 300. The word being feminine, long a (tap) is added by No. 1341; the d is changed to m by No. 301. and, the base having thus become ima, we have 1. d. imc (No. 240), 1. p. imah, 2. s. imam. In the 3. d. and subsequent cases the id is changed to an by No. 302; and, in the 3. s., e is substituted for the final by No. 342, giving anaya. By No. 303 there is elision of the id, when the case-affix begins with a consonant, so that we have 3. d. abhyam, 3. p. abhih. In the 4. s. by No. 244, asyai, 5. and 6. s. asyah, 6. d. anayoh (Nor 242), 6. p. asam (Nos. 174 and 303), 7. s. asyam (Nos. 335 and 219), 7. p. asam

The word twish "light" makes 1. s. twit (No. 82), 1. d. twishau, 3. d. twidbhyám.

The word sajush "a friend" by No. 123, substitutes r for its final at the end of a pada, which the word is when, by No. 26, the su of the 1. s. has been rejected. The vowel is then lengthened by No. 380, and the r becomes visarya by No. 110, giving sajúh, 1. d. sajushau, 3. d. sajúrbhyám. OF INDECLINABLE WORDS.

No. 399.—Swar, &c. and the particles (nipáta) are called indeclinables.

These are swar "heaven," antar "midst," prátar "in the morning," punar "again," sanutar "in concealment," uchchais "high," níchais "low," sanais "slowly," ridhak "rightly," rite "except," yugapat "at once," árát "far, near," prithak "apart," hyas "yesterday," swas "to-morrow," divá "by day," rátrau "in the night," sáyam "at eve," chiram "a long time," manák "a little," íshat "a little," josham "silently," táshním "silently," vahis "outside," avas "outside," samayá "near," nikashá "near," swayam "of one's self," vrithá "in vain," naktam "at night," nan "not," hetau "by reason of," iddhá 'truly," addhá "evidently," sámi "half," vat "like," (e. g. bráhmanavat "priestly," kshatriyavat "like a Kshatriya"), saná "perpetually," upadhá "division," tiras "crookedly," sanat or sandt "perpetual y," antará or antarena "without, except," jyok "quickly," kum "water, ease," sam "ease," sahasá "hastily," viná "without," náná "various," swasti "greeting," swadhá, (interjection) "oblation to manes," alam "enough," vashat, śrauhsat, and vaushat (interjections) "oblation of butter," anyat "otherwise," asti "existence," upánóu "privately," kshamá "patience, pardon," viháyasá "aloft, in the air," doshá "in the evening," mrishá and mithyá "falsely," mudhá "in vain," purá "formerly," mitho or mithas "mutually," práyas "frequently," muhus "repeatedly," praváhukum or praváhiká "at the same time," áryahalam "violently," abhhíkshnam "repeatedly," sákam or ságdham "with," namas "reverence," hiruk "without," dhik "fie!" atha "thus," am "quickly," dm "indeed, yes," pratám "with fatigue," prasán "alike," pratán "widely," má or máň "do not."

The foregoing class of words ("swar, &c."), is one the fact of a word's belonging to which is known only from its form, and could not have been inferred from its nature (see No. 53).

The following are particles (nipdta), viz. cha "and," vá "or," ha (an expletive), aha (vocative particle), eva "only, exactly," evam "so, thus," nánam "certainly," śaśwat "continually," yugapat "at once," bhúyas "repeatedly," kúpat "excellently," súpat "excellently," kuvit "abundantly," net or chet "if," chan "if," [the n is indicatory], yatra "where," tatra "there," kachchit "what if?," naha "no," hantu "ah!" mákim, mákim, or nakih, "do not," ákim "indeed!," mái "do not," nan "not," yávat "as much as," távat "so much," twai, nwai, or dwai "perhaps," rai (disrespectful interjection), śraushat, vaushat or swáhá (interj.) "oblation to the gods," swudhá "oblation to manes," vushat "oblation to the gods," om (mystical ejaculation typical of the three great deities of the Hindú mythology), tum "thouing," tatháhi "thus," (introducing an exposition), khalu "certainly," kila "indeed," atha "now," (auspicious inceptive), sushtu "excellent," sma (attached to the present tense gives it a past signification), ádaha "fie!"

To the list of Indeclinables belong also what have, without the reality, the appearance of an upasarga (No. 47), of a word with one of the terminations of case or person, and of the vowels. In the example avadattam "given away," the ava is not really an upasarga, for if it were, the word (by VII. 4. 47.*) would be avattam. In the example ahaiyuh "egotistic," the ahai is not identical with the aham I," terminating in a case-affix—because a pronoun, really regarded as being in the nominative case, could not be the first member in such compound. In the example: astikshirá, a cow or the like "in which there is milk," the asti must be regarded as differing from the word asti "is," which ends with the affix of the 3rd person singular, otherwise it could not have appeared as the first member in a compound. The vowels a, á, i, i, u, ú, e, ai, o, au, when, as interjections, they indicate various emotions, differ from the ordinary vowels. Other Indeclinables are pasu, "well," sukam "quickly," yathákathácha "any how," pát, pyát, ańga, hai, he bhoh, (vocative particles), aye "ah!" (indicating recollection), ghu (vocative), vishu "on all sides," ekapade "at the same moment," yut "blame," átah "hence."

This list also ("cha, &c.") is one each of the various individuals composing which is to be recognised by its own shape (No. 53).

Words are indeclinable which have the following terminations viz. the taddhita affixes (No. 1067) beginning with tasil (No. 1286) reckoning as far as (but not including) pášap (V. 3. 47.):—or the terminations šas, &c. (No. 1330) reckoning as far as the aphorism "samásántáh," (V. 4. 68.):—or the Vaidika termination am or its equivalent am (No. 1309):—or the terminations that have the force of kritwasuch (i. e. which give the sense of such and such a number of times):—or the terminations tasi (equivalent to tasil) and vat "like," and ná or nán (V. 2. 27). For example atah "hence" (which ends in tasil), &c

No. 403.—There is elision (luk—No. 209) of AP (the feminine termination) AND of SUP (the case-affixes) AFTER what is INDECLINABLE. For example, tatra śáláyám "in that hall." Here the indeclinable tatra "there" does not take either the feminine termination or a case-affix, although it is equivalent to tasyám "in that." So then "what changes not (na vyeti), remaining alike in the three genders, and in all cases, and in all numbers, is what is termed an indeclinable avyaya."

The grammarian Bháguri wishes that there shall be elision of the initial a of ava and ápi (No. 48), and that áp shall be the termination of all feminine words which would otherwise end in consonants, e. g. váchá "speech" (instead of "vách"), nišá "night" (not niš), dišú space" (not diš). [But the rule, thus resting on the authority of a single grammarian (see No. 38) is optional.] So we have either avagáhah or vagáhah "bathing," apidhánam or pidhánam "concealment"

So much for the Indeclinables.

No. 404.—The terminations generally of the moods and tenses of the verbs are denoted in the grammar by the letter l. The affixes of each particular tense are denoted by the letter l accompanied by certain indicatory letters as follows:—Fresent Lat, 2nd Preterite LIT, 1st Future LUT, 2nd Future LRIT, Scriptural Imperative LET, Imperative LOT, 1st Preterite LAŃ, Potential LIŃ, 3rd Preterite LUŃ, Conditional LRIŃ. THE FIFTH AMONG THESE ( $\dot{wiz}$  let) occurs only in the Vedas.

[N.B.—The verb itself denotes the action: to be, or to do, generally; or to be, or to do, in a particular manner. In the active voice, the affix marks the agent: in the passive voice of a transitive verb, it marks the object; but, in the passive form of an intransitive verb, the action itself]

No. 406—Let LAT (No. 404) be placed after a verbal root employed in denoting PRESENT action. The a and the t (in lat) are indicatory. According to No. 155 the laso ought to be indicatory—but it is not to be regarded as indicatory here, because nothing (in the grammar) is enounced without a purpose (and no purpose would be served by the elision of this l, which therefore remains).

The verb  $bh\acute{u}$  "to be" is now to be conjugated. When it is wished to speak of an agent, the case (as far as we have yet seen) standing thus viz:  $bh\acute{u}+l$  (we look forward)

लुटः प्रयमच्य डारीरसः। २।४। ८४।

No. 437.—Dá RAU AND RAS are substituted in the room of the affixes of the LOWEST (No. 413) person of Lut.

As the presence of d as an indicatory letter must not be unmeaning, there is elision of the final vowel with what follows it (No 52), although the word is not one of those called  $bb\nu$  (Nos. 185 and 187).

Thus bhavitás (from No. 436) becomes bhavit, and (with the á derived from the 4á of this rule), bhavitá "he will become."

No. 510.—It (No. 433) shall not be the augment of an árdha dhátuka affix coming after what root, in an original enunciation, has a single vowel and is gravely accented.

With the exception of roots ending in  $\hat{u}$  and  $r\hat{i}$ , and with the exception of the roots yu "to mix," ru "to sound," kshnu "to whet,"  $n\hat{u}$  "to sleep," shnu "to distil," nu "to praise," kshu "to sneeze," shnu "to increase,"  $d\hat{i}n$  "to fly," and  $s\hat{r}i$  "to serve," and vri ( $vri\hat{n}$ ) "to serve," and vri ( $vri\hat{n}$ ) "to choose," what roots, containing a single vowel, are among those that end in a vowel, are called "gravely accented."

(Among monosyllables terminated by consonants, that have their efficient vowels "gravely accented, there are)—of those that end in k one only—viz. sak. (saklri) " to be able."—of those that end in ch, six—

viz. pach "to cook," much "to be free," rich "to purge," vich "to speak," vich "to differ," and sich "to sprinkle:"-of those that end in chh, one only-viz. prachchh "to ask:"-of those that end in j, fifteen-viz. tyaj "to abandon," nij "to cleanse," bhaj "to setve," bhanj "to break," bhuj "to enjoy," bhrasj "to fry," masj "to merge," yaj "to sacrifice," yuj "to join," ruj "to be sick," rańj "to colour," vijir "to differ," swanj "to embrace," sanj "to embrace," and srij "to abandon:"--of those that end in d, sixteen, viz. ad "to eat," kshud "to pound," khid "to be distressed," chhid "to cut," tud "to torment," nud "to send," pad "to go," "bhid "to break," vid "to be," vid "to consider," vid "to acquire," sad "to wither," and "to wither," swid "to sweat," skand "to go," and had "to evacuate."-of those that end in dh, eleven, viz. krudh "to be angry," kshudh "to be hungry," budh "to know," bandh "to bind," yudh "to fight," rudh "to obstruct," radh "to accomplish," vyadh "to pierce," sudh "to be pure," sadh "to accomplish," and sidh "to be accomplished:"-of those that end in n, two, viz. man "to think," and han "to kill:"-of those that end in p, thirteen, viz. dp "to obtain," kship "to throw," chhup "to touch," tap "to inflame," tip "to drop," trip " to be satisfied," drip " to be proud," lip " to smear," lup "to disturb," vap "to sow," sap "to vow," swap "to sleep," and srip "to creep:"-of those that end in bh, three, viz. yabh "to copulate," rabh "to begin," and labh "to acquire;"-of those that end in m, four, viz. gam "to go," nam "to bow," yam "to stop," and ram "to stop:"-of those that end in s, ten, viz. krus "to cry aloud," dans "to bite," die "to show," dris "to see," mris "to perceive," ris "to hurt," rus "to hurt," lis "to lessen," vis "to enter," and spris "to touch:"of those that end in sh, eleven, viz. krish "attract," twish "to shine." tush "to be ratisfied," dwish "to hate," dush "to do wrong," push "to cherish," prsh "to grind," vish "to pervade," sish "to hurt," such "to dry and slish "to embrace:"-of those that end in s, two, viz. ghas "to eat," and vas "to dwell:"-of those that end in h, eight, viz. dah "to burn," dih "to smear," duh "to milk," nah "to tie," mih "to urine," ruh "to ascend," lih "to lick," and vah "to bear."

Thus the gravely acceuted roots, among those ending in consonants, are a hundred and three.

The root kri, being gravely accented, falls under this rule and does not take the augment it—so that we have gopdydnchakartha "thou didst protect," gopdydnchakarathuh "you two protected, gopdydnchakara

"you protected," gopáyánchakára "I pretected," gopáyánchakriva "we two protected," gopáyánchakrima "we protected." The same tense may be conjugated thus—gopáyámbabháva (No. 507) "he protected," or gopáyámása "he protected." On the option allowed by No. 503, it may also be conjugated thus—jugopa (Nos. 426 and 488) "he protected," jugupatuh (No. 486) "they two protected." jugupath "they protected."

No. 517.—In the opinion of Bháradwája, it is only after a root which ends in short re, always devoid of the augment it when their follows, that that shall not have the augment it. Hence it should be the augment of any other verb (in Bháradwája's opinion—in deference to which Nos. 515 and 516 are considered optional).

Here follows a couplet containing a synopsis of these rules relating to the augment it. What root ends in a vowel, or (ending in a consonant) has a short a, if it be devoid of it when tasi follows, may optionally have it, when that follows. "What ends in short ri is, under the same circumstances, always devoid of it. Any verb, except kri, &c. Thus we have either chikshayitha or chikshetha "thou didst. wane," chikshiyathuh "you two waned," chikshiya "you waned," chikshaya or chikshaya ."I waned," chikshiyiva "we two waned," chikshiyima "we waned," kshetá "he will wane," ksheshyati "he will wane," kshayatu "let him wane," akshayat "he waned," kshayet "he may wane."

No. 547.—The word "ám-pratyaya," in this aphorism, meaning "that after which the affix ám (No. 504) comes," is a compound, of the kind termed Bahusrihi (No. 1034), denoting that which does not exhibit (to one's perception) the characteristic implied in the name. Like the verb that takes the affix ám (if the verb be conjugated with the átmanepada terminations), so let the átmanepada terminations be those of the verb KRI when Subjoined thereto (as an auxiliary).

[Among Bahuvrihi compounds, the Sanskrit grammarians distinguish those denoting that of which the matters implied in the name are perceived along with the thing itself (tadguna sanvijnana) from those denoting what is otherwise (atadguna-sanvijnana). The stock illustration of the former kind is "dirgha-karnam ánaya"—i. e. "bring Long-ear"—where the long ears accompany and mark the individual: and of the latter kind, "drishtu-ságaram ánaya"—i. e. "bring him that has seen the ocean"—where the ocean does not accompany the man, nor enable you to recognise him among a group of persons who have never seen it. The term "ám-pratyaya" above-mentioned i. e. "that which has the affix ám," is of the latter description. We are told that the auxiliary is to take the same tense-affixes as "that which has the affix ám;" but the verb, when we look at any part of it (such as edhate) with a tense-affix, has no ám then visible—the ám, when present, causing (No. 506) the elision of the tense-affixes.]

No. 558.—Let sup be the augment of T and Th, when part of a substitute of lin. The augment siyut also is obtained from No. 555. The y (of siyut) is elided by No. 463. As the substitutes of lin, in the sense of benediction, are included hintuka (No. 465), the elision of the s (of siyut and sut, directed by No. 461, does not take place. Thus we have edh+i (No. 433)+si+sta, which, by Nos. 169 and 78, becomes edhishishta "may he increase," edhishiyastam "may they two increase,"—then, as sut does not come except before t or th, edhishiran (No. 556) "may they increase," edhishishthah "mayst thou increase," edhishiyasthum, "may you two increase," edhishidhwam "may you increase," edhishiya (No. 557) "may I increase," edhishidhi "may we two increase," edhishimahi "may we increase," aidhishta (Nos. 478, 471, 472, 433, and 169) "he increased," aidhishitam "th-y two increased."

No. 596.—When there follows an affix, beginning with a shall and distinguished by an indicatory k or k, there is elision of the nasal of the following that end in a nasal, viz. Those which in their original enunciation are gravely accented, and van "to ask or beg," and tan "to stretch," &c.

Those which (ending in a nasal, see No. 510) are in their original enunciation gravely accented, or the following, viz: yam "to restrain," ram "to sport," nam "to bow," gam "to go," han "to kill," and man "to respect."

By "tan &c." (the verbs of the 8th class, which, kri excepted, end in nasal,) are meant the following—viz. tan "to stretch," kshan "to kill," kshin "to kill," rin "to go," trin "to eat grass," ghrin "to sshine," van "to ask," and man "to understand."

By this rule we have han+tas=hatah (No. 535) "they two kill," ghananti (Nos. 540 and 314) "they kill," hansi (No. 94) "thou killest," hathah "you two kill," hatha "you kill," hanmi "I kill," hanwah "we two kill," hanmah "we kill," jaghana (Nos. 314, 488, and 489) "he killed," jaghnatuh (No. 540) "they two killed," jaghnuh "they killed."

No. 599.—The rules, reckoning FROM THIS one to the end of the chapter (viz. the 4th chap. of the VIth Lecture), are called ábhíya, (because the chapter ends with a series of rules dependent on the aphorism) "BHASYA." When that (viz. one of the rules called ábhíya) is to brought into operation, having the same place (for coming into operation, as another ábhíya which has already taken effect), that one (which has taken effect) shall be regarded AS NOT HAVING TAKEN EFFECT.

Thus (ja having been substituted for hen, by No. 598, it might have been expected that the hi would be elided by No. 448, but) since the chappe to ja is not regarded as having been accomplished, elision of hi does not take place. So we have jahi "do thou kill," hatat (Nos. 444 and 596) "mayst thou kill," hatam "do you two kill," hata "do you kill," handni "let me kill," handva "let us two kill," handma "let us kill," ahan (Nos. 458 and 199) "he killed," ahatam (No. 596) "they two killed," aghnan (Nos. 540, 314, and 26) "they killed (Nos. 458 and 199) "thou didst kill," ahatam "you two killed," ahatam "you killed," ahanam "I killed," ahanwa "we two killed," ahanma "we killed," hanyat (No. 461) "he may kill."

No. 603.—Where elision, through LUK, HAS TAKEN PLACE (as by No. 589), let vriddhi be substituted in the room of short U, when a sárvadhátuka affix, beginning with a consonant and distinguished by an indicatory p, follows:—but not if the verb be reduplicated. Thus we have yu + tip = yauti "he mixes," yutah "they two mix," yuvanti (No. 220) "they mix," yaùshi (No. 169) "thou mixest," yuthah "you two mix," yutha "you mix," yaumi "I mix," yuvah "we two mix," yumah "we mix," yuyava (No. 202) "he mixed," yavita (Nos. 433 and 420) "he will mix," yavishyati "he will mix," yautu "let him mix," yutát (No. 444) "may he mix," ayaut "he mixed," ayutám "they two mixed," ayuvan (No. 457) "they mixed," yuyát (No. 461) "he may mix,"—here there is not vriddhi (from No. 603), because, according to the explanation in the Mahábháshya, "what has an indicatory p has not an indicatory ń, and what has an indicatory ń has not an indicatory p":—(so, when y isut came, which, see No. 460, is regarded as having an indicatory ń the t/p ceased to be regarded as having an indicatory p, without which No. 603 does not apply). So yuyátám "they two may mix," yuyah (No. 527) "they may mix," yúyát (Nos. 518 and 337) "may he mix," yúyástám "may they two mix," yúyásuh "may they mix," ayávít (No. 519) "he mixed," ayavishyat (Nos. 433 and 420) "he would mix."

The verb ya "to go" makes yati "he goes," yathh "they two go," yanti "they go," yayau (No. 523) "he went," yata "he will go," yasyati "he will go," yatu "let him go," ayat "he went," ayatam, "they two went."

No. 604.—In the opinion of Sákaţáyana only (and hence optionally), jus is the substitute of jhi in the room of lan, after what ends in long á. No. 605.—The affixes nal &c. (No. 424) are OPTIONALLY used instead of the parasmaipa la substitutes of LAT coming AFTER the verb VID "to know." Thus vedu (No. 485) "he knows, vidatuh they two know," viduh "they know, vettha "thou knowest," vidathuh "you two know, vida "you know," veda "I know," vidwa "we two know," vidana "we know." On the other alternative, we have vetti (No. 485) "he knows," vittah (No. 467) "they two know," vidanti "they know."

No. 606.—The augment ám is OPTIONALLY employed AFTER these—viz. USH "to burn," v1D "to know," AND JÁGRI "to wake,"—when lit follows.

As there is an agreement (in the present instance) to regard the verb vid as ending in short a (vida), guna is not substituted (as it would otherwise have been by No. 485). Thus we have vidánchakára or viveda "he knows," veditá "he will know," vedishyati "he will know."

विदांकुर्वन्त्वित्यन्यतरस्याम् । ३।१।४१।

वेत्तेर्जाट्याम् गुणाभावे। तीटो लुग् तोडन्तकरोत्यनुप्रयोगश्च निपात्यते । पुरुषध्चने न विवस्यते । विदांकरोत् ।

No. 607.—When lot comes after the verb vid, then OPTIONALLY the augment dm is irregularly attached; there is no substitution of guna (from No. 420—which fact is indicated by the exhibition of the form vidán in the aphorism); there is elision (luk) of lot; and the verb kri "to make, with the terminations of the imperative, is appended. (giving, for example, VIDÁNKURVANTU). One particular person and number is not alone intended to bespoken of (by the employment, in the aphorism, of the form vidánkurvantu).

Thus we may have vidánkarotu "let him know."

तनादिक्षञ्भ्य उः।३।१। ७८।

शपाऽपत्रादः ।

No. 608.—Let U come after the verbs tan, &c. (No. 719), and after the verb kri "to make." This debars the application of  $\delta \alpha p$  (No. 419).

Thus vidánkurutát (No. 607) "may be know," vidánkurutám "let the two know," vidánkurutam "let them know," vidánkuru "know thou," vidánkaraváni (No. 420) "let me know," avet (Nos. 458, 485, and 199) "he knew," avittám "they two knew," aviduh (No. 481) "they knew."

Thus stah (No. 535) "they two are," santi "they are," asi (No. 438) "thou art," sthah "you two are," sthah "you are," sthah "you are," sthah "we two are," sthah "we are."

Thus (after the upasarga ni when y follows the s,) nishyát "he may go out," (when a vowel follows the s,) pranishanti "they go out," prádukshanti "they are manifest."

Why do we say, "when the letter y or a vowel follows?" witness abhistah "they two surpass."

No. 614.—Let there be a change to F of a verb termed GHU (No. 662) AND of the verb AS, WHEN HI (No. 447) FOLLOWS, AND let there be ELISION OF A REDUPLICATE syllable. Then (the hi being changed to dhi by (No. 593), we have edhi "be thou," stát (Nos. 444 and 611) "mayst thou be," stam "be you two," sta "be you," asáni "let me be,' asáva "let us two be," asáma "let us be," ásít (Nos. 471 and 479) "he was," ástám "they two were," asán "they were," syát "he may be," syátám "they two may be," syuh "they may be," bhúyát (No. 613) "may he be," abhát "he was," abhavishyat "he would be."

त्रजादी प्रत्यये परे। यन्ति।

No. 615.—Let YAN be the substitute of the root IN, when an affix, beginning with a vowel, follows. Thus yanti "they go."

श्रभ्यासस्यासवर्षे । ६। १। ७।

इउवर्णयोरियङ्बङी स्तोऽसवर्णेऽचि । इयाय ।

No. 616.—Iyan and uvan are the substitutes of i and u of a reduplicate, when a heterogeneous vowel follows. Thus iy dya (Nos. 426, 202, and 29) "he went."

दीर्घ इर्गः किति। १। ४। ६८।

No. 617.—Let a long vowel be instead of the reduplicate of the verb IN, WHEN WHAT substitute for lit has an indicatory K (No. 486) follows. Thus iyatuh "they two went," iyah "they went," iyayitha (Nos. 433 and 517) or iyeth i (Nos. 515, 420, and 616) "thou didst go," etá "he will go," eshyati "he will go," etu "let him go," ait (Nos. 478 and 218) "he went," aitám "they two went," áyan (No. 29) "they went," iyát "he may go," iyát (No. 518) "may he go."

No. 618.—Let there be a short vowel in the room of the an (i) of the verb IN coming after an upasarga, when an ardhadhátuka substitute for LIN, with an indicatory k (No. 466), Follows. Thus nir + 4yat = niriyat "way he go forth."

In the example abhiyát "may he go up to," the short vowel is not substituted; for the rule (VI. 1. 85.) that "a single letter substituted shall be regarded as the final of the preceding word and the initial of the following word," does not apply, when the operation directed depends upon both what precedes and what follows:—so then, as the in abhiyát, cannot be regarded as a part at once of the upasarga and of the verb, the rule No. 618 consequently does not apply.

Why do we say, "of the an?" witness  $sam + ey\acute{a}t = samey\acute{a}t$  (=  $sam + \acute{a} + \acute{e}y\acute{a}t$ ) "may be come," where the rule does not apply, as the verb begins with ech.

The citation of , the letters with the 6th case affix attached, in accordance with the aphorism 1. 1 49—indicates that the augment is to act as a substitute that] the abolition of the rand of the penultimate letter takes place, in consequence of the direction implied in the 6th case-affix gnifying "in the room of." No. 729.—And after upa (No. 48) in the several senses of acquiring a new property, of alteration, and of the supplying of ellipses in discourse, the verb kri takes the augment sut. By the "and" it is signified that the verb has also the two meanings mentioned before (in Nos. 727 and 728). By "acquiring a new property" is meant "the taking of a quality." By "alteration," or modification, is meant "change." By "the supplying of ellipses in discourse" is meant "the filling up of those parts which the sense requires." Examples of these five employments of the word follow, signifying "a damsel adorned;" "assembled Brahmans;" "the wood gives a new property to the water" (or "he prepares the fuel and water for an oblation"); "he eats something changed" (or different from what is proper—"as bread with rice);" "he speaks without ellipsis."

The verb van (vanu) "to ask or beg" makes vanute "he begs, vavane "he begged."

The verb man (manu) "to know, to conceive," makes manute "he conceives," mene "conceived," manitá "he will conceive," manishyate "he will conceive," manutám "let him conceive," amanuta "he conceived," manwita "he may conceive," manishishta "may he conceive," amanishta "he conceived," amanishyata "he would conceive."

No. 741.—The affix NICH is placed, without alteration of the sense, AFTER the words SATYA "truth" (which then takes the form of satyápa as exhibited in the aphorism), PÁSA "a fetter," RÚPA "colour," YÍNÁ "a lute," TÚLA "cotton," ŚLOKA "celebration," SENÁ "an army," LOMAN "the hair of the body," TWACHA "the skin," VARMAN "mail," VARNA "celebration," and CHÚRNA "powder," (all of which are then used as verbs) AND after the verbs CHUR "to steal," &c. By No. 485, these verbs (having a light penult) substitute guna for a simple vowel. By No. 502, words ending with the affix nich are held to be verbal roots:—hence they take the tense-affixes and conjugational affixes. Thus chur, by the addition of nich and the rule No. 485, having become chori, and this, by Nos. 419, 420, and 29, having become choraya, we have chorayati "he steals."

When luń follows, then chań is substituted for chli by No. 562; a short vowel is substituted for the penult by No. 564; there is reduplication, by No. 565, since chań follows; and the first consonant alone of the reduplicate is left (No. 428); and, finally, the vowel of the reduplicate being lengthened by No. 568, we have achúchurat or achúchurata "he stole."

So there the blank which, by No. 505, takes the place of the final a of katha (No. 742), being regarded as the a whose place it took (and the final consonant of the root hence seeming to be the penult)—the substitution of vriddhi for the penult, by No. 489, (which would have given kith instead of kath) does not take place, and we have kathayati "he speaks." As there is elision of a vowel (by No. 505) there is no substitution of a long vowel by No. 568, nor is the case like that when the affix san follows, as spoken of in No. 566—so that we have achakathat (No. 565) "he spoke."

No. 765.—And when the affix ach (No. 837) follows, there may be elision of YNA. By the "and" it is signified that this may take place sometimes even without that affix:—and this is not the result of anything, assigned as the cause thereof, (whereas, in the other case, there was an assigned reason for the elision—viz. the affix ach). This elision takes place first, as it is independent of anything else (whereas the reduplication is dependent on the verb, the affix, &c). Then, after that, through the force of the affix (which remains, though the affix has been elided), since the verb is regarded as ending in yan, there is reduplication (No. 753), and the appropriate operations are to be performed on the reduplicate syllable. Since the word (through No. 502) is regarded as a root, the tense-affixes &c. are applicable to it. The parasmaipada affixes are employed in accordance with No. 412. As we read, in No. 636, that verbs with yan elided are to be regarded as belonging to the 2nd class, "ad, &c.," we infer that there is to be elision of $ap$ (No. 589).

No. 766—Let it be optionally the augment of a sarvadhituka affix distinguished by an indicatory p, commencing with a consonant, and coming AFTER a verb with YAN elided. The prohibition (of guna) by No. 474 does not, in secular language, extend to the case where yan is elided. This is inferred from the fact that the form bolhutu in the Veda (in which guna is not substituted—) is one of those enumerated (in VII. 4. 65.—thus "bobhutu tetikte &c.,") among the irregularities. Thus we have bobhaviti or bobhoti "he is frequently," bobhutah "they two are frequently," substituting at for jh, by No. 645, as it is reduplicated, bobhuvati "they are frequently," bobhavanchakara or bobhavanchaka" he was frequently," bobhavita "he will be frequently," bobhavanchaka" bobhavita "he will be frequently," bobhavita "bobhavita" bobhavita "he will be frequently," bobhavita "bobhavita" bo vishayti, "he will be frequently, bobhavitu or bobhotu "let him be frequently," bobhútót "may he be frequently," bobhútám "let the two be frequently," bobhuvatu "let them be frequently," bobhúhi "be thou frequently," bobhaváni "let me be frequently," abobhavít or abobhot "they were frequently," abobhútám "they two were frequently," abobhavuh "they were frequently," bobhúyát "he may be frequently." bobhúyátám "they two may be frequently," bobhúyuh "they were frequently," bobhúyát "may he be frequently," bobhúyástám "may they two be frequently," bobhúyósuh "may they be frequently." According to No. 473. there is elision of sich. On the alternative of there being the augment if from No. 766, there is the augment vuk from No. 425, this debarring guna (No. 420) because it presents itself always (whether guna is substituted or not-and therefore, according to one of the maxims of the Grammar, takes the precedence). Thus we have abobhúvít or abobhot "he was frequently," abobhútám "they two were frequently," abobhútám "they were frequently," abobhavishyat "he would be frequently."

The "action" s the force of the verb itself; and this again marked by the affix l (No. 406) when it has the seuse of the action—i. e. when the verb is used impersonally). In this case there is (substituted for the l) an affix of the "lowest person," because the verb is not in agreement with either the pronoun "I" or "Thou."—In-as-much as the action denoted by the tense-affix is not of the nature of a substance (to which the notions of duality or plurality might attach), since there is here no notion of duality, &c., neither an affix of the dual nor of the plural is to be employed, but hence necessarily only one of the singular.

Thus twayá mryá anyaischa bhúyate "it is become by thee, by me, and by others,"—(i. e. "Thou becomest," "I become," and "others become,")—and, again, babhúve (No. 432) "it was become."

No. 802.—When sya (No. 435), sich (No. 472), siyut (No. 555), OR TASI (No. 435) FOLLOWS IF THE ACTION OR THE OBJECT IS TO BE UNDERSTOOD by the affix (i. e. if the verb is inpersonal or passive), then, on the inflective base OF verbs which IN their ORIGINAL ENUN-CIATION end in A VOWEL and on that of the verbs han &c. - viz. HAN "to kill," GRAH "to take," DRIS "to see,"-THERE SHALL BE OP-TIONALLY THE LIKE EFFECT AS IF the affix CHIN HAD FOLLOWED, AND IT shall be the augment of these affixes sya, &c. The augment it, here mentioned, is to be applied on the alternative that the case is treated as if the affix chin had followed—(not on the other alternative allowed by the rule). The substitution of vriddhi follows from the case's being treated as if chin (with an indicatory n—see No. 202—) had been attached. Thus we have bhavita or bhavita "it will be become by some one," bhávishyate or bhavishyate "it will be become," bhúvatám "let it be become," abhúyata "it was become," bhúrishíshta or bhavishíshta "may it be become."

No. 803.—Let CHIN be the substitute of chli (No. 471), WHEN ta (No. 407) follows, DENOTING THE ACTION OR THE OBJECT. Thus abhávi "it was become by some one," abhávishyata (No. 802) or abhávishyata "it would be become."

Even a neuter verb (-a verb "without an object,"-) may, through the force of a preposition in combination with it, become active (-or "with an object." For example-anubhuyate anandaschaitrena twayá mayá cha "pleasure is experienced by Chaitra, by thee, and by me:"—and then again anubhúyete "the two are perceived," anubhúyante "they are perceived," twamanubhúyase "thou art perceived," ahamanubhúye "I am perceived," anwabhávi "it was perceived," anwabhávishátám or anwabhavishátám "the two were perceived." The affix ni (No. 747) being elided by No. 563, we have bhávyate "it is caused to be," bhávayánchakre or bhávayánbabhúve or bhávayámáse "it was caused to be." When (according to No. 802) the case is regarded as if the affix chin had followed, then the augment it is applied—giving bhávitá "it will be caused to be,"—the elision of ni (No. 563) still taking place, inasmuch as No. 802 in accordance with No. 599, is regarded by No. 563 as not having taken effect. On the other afternative allowed by No. 802, bhávayitá "it will be caused to be," bhávayishíshta "may it be caused to be," abhávi "it was caused to be," abhávishátám or abhávayishátám "the two were caused to be," bubhúshyate "it is wished to be," bubhúshánchakre "it was wished to be," bubhúshitá "will be wished to be," bubhúshishyate "it will be wished to be," bobhúyyate "it is repeatedly been," bobhúyishyate "it will be repeatedly been."

The vowel of the root (shtu "to praise") being lengthened by

No. 518, we have stuyate vishnuh "Vishnu is praised:"—stavita (No. 802) or stota "he will be praised," stavishyate or stoshyate "he will be praised," astavishatam or astoshatam "the two were praised."

The verb ri "to go," substituting guna by No. 533, makes aryate "it is gone."

The verb smri "to remember" makes smaryate "it is remembered," sasmare "it was remembered."

These two verbs may be treated as if chin followed, and may take the augment it, because, in No. 802, the expression "in the original enunciation" is included, (and hence the fact that they end in a consonant at the time when the augment it presents itself, does not prevent their taking it.) Thus áritá or artá "it will be gone," smáritá or smartá "it will be remembered."

By No. 363, the nasal of the verb srans "to fall," (which has not an indicatory i) being elided, we have srasyate "it is fallen:"—but of a verb which, like nad (nadi) "to be happy," has an indicatory i, the nasal is not elided, and we have nandyate "it is, been happy (by so and so)—i. e. so and so is happy."

In the case of the verb yaj "to worship," the substitution of a vowel for the semi-vewel having taken place in accordance with No. 584 (the yak having an indicatory k) we have ijyate "it is worshipped (by so and so)—i. e. so and so worships."

बादन्तादेशी वा । तायते । तन्यते ।

No. 804.—When the affix YAK (No. 801) comes After the verb TAN "to extend," then long á is optionally the substitute for the final. Thus táyate or tanyate "it is extended."

तपे। उनुतापे च । ३। १। ६४।

तपश्चिश्चिण् न स्यात् कर्मकर्तर्यनुतापे च । श्वन्वतप्त पापेन । घुमास्ये-'तीत्वम् । दीयते । धीयते । ददे । ्र

No. 805.—Let not chin be the substitute of chli AFTER the verb TAP "to suffer," when the sense is reflective, AND WHEN THE SENSE IS THAT OF EXPERIENCING REMORSE. Thus anwatapta papena "remorse was experienced by the sinuer."

In the case of the verbs enumerated in No. 625, there is the substitution of long I'—so that we have diyate "it is given," dhiyate 'it is held," dade "it was given."

माती युक् चिल्हताः। ७।३।३३।

श्रादन्तानां युगागमश्चिषि डिग्रिति इति च । दायिता । दाता । दायि-बीछ । दासीछ । ग्रदायि । ग्रदायिषाताम् । भन्यते ।

No. 806.—Let YUK be the augment of what ends in LONG A, WHEN CHIN FOLLOWS, OR when a KRIT affix (No. 329), with an indicatory  $\hat{n}$  or n. Thus (it being here optional, according to No. 802, to regard chin as following,) we have dáyitá or dátá "it will be given," dáyishtshta or dásíshta "may it be given," adáyi "it was given," adáyishátám "the two were given."

The verb bhanj "to break" makes bhajyute (No. 363) "it breaks."

भज्जेश्च चिगा। ६। ४। ३३।

नतापा वा। ग्रभाजि। ग्रभञ्जि। तभ्यते।

No. 807.—And of the verb bhanj "to break" the elision of the n (No. 363) is optional, when chin follows. Thus abhiji or abhanji "it broke."

The verb labh "to gain" makes labhyate "it is gained."

विभाषा चिएएमुलोः। १। १। ६८।

सभेनुम् । यलम्भ । यलाभि ।

इति भावकमेप्रक्रिया।

No. 808.—The verb labh "to gain" optionally takes the augment num, when chin and namul (No. 942) follow. Thus alambhi or alabhi "was gained."

So much on the subject of Impersonals and Passives (-or of the "action" and the "object").

कर्मकर्तृप्रक्रिया।

यदा कर्मेव कर्तृत्वेन धिवत्तितं तदा सकर्मकाणाः।प्रकारिकारणाद् कर्तिरि भावे च लकारः। No. 809.—When the object itself is wished to be spoken of as the agent, the affix l, even in the case of verbs that have an object (i. e. transitive verbs), stands for the agent or the action (and not for the object).

कर्मवत् कर्मगा तुल्यक्रियः। ३।१। ८०।

कर्मस्यया क्रियया तुल्यक्रियः कर्ता कर्मवत् स्यात् । कार्यातिदेशोऽयम् । तेन यगात्मनेपदिचण्चिणविदिटः स्युः । पच्यते फलम् । भिद्यते काष्ट्रम् । अपाचि । अभेदि । भावे । भिद्यते काष्टेन ।

इति कर्मकर्दप्रक्रिया।

No. 810.—The (l denoting the) agent, when the action affecting the agent is SIMILAR TO THE ACTION WHICH AFFECTS THE OBJECT, is treated AS if it were (an  $\ell$ ) denoting THE OBJECT.

This direction implies the substitution (for the operations incident to a tense-affix, or l, denoting an agent) of all the operations, (which fall to be performed when the tense-affix, or l, denotes the object). Hence there shall be the affixing of yak (No. 801), the employment of the atmunepada terminations (No. 800), the substitution of chin for chli (No. 803), and the treatment of the word as directed in No. 802. Thus pachyate phalam "the fruit ripens of itself," bhidyate káshtham "the wood splits, of itself," apáchi (No. 803) "it ripened of itself," abhedi "it split of itself." As an example where the tense-affix denotes the action (i. e. where the verb is impersonal), take bhidyate káshthena "it is split (of itself) by the wood—i. e. the wood splits."

So much on the subject of Reflective verbs.

Some meanings of the Tenses, not previously specified, have next to be considered.

No. 811.—When a word implying "recollection" is in connection with it, a verb takes the affix LRIT (No. 440) with a past signification.

This sets aside lań (No. 456). The verb vas "to dwell" is thus employed in the following example:—smarasi krishna gokule vatsyámah "rememberest thou, Krishna, we were dwelling (literally—we will dwell—) at Gokula?" The construction is the same when we employ budhyase "dost thou know?—chetayase "dost thou reflect?"—and the like.

यद्योगे उत्तं न । ग्रभिजानामि यद्वने ग्रभुङज्महि ।

No. 812.—The aforesaid (No. 811) shall NOT apply IN connection with the particle YAT. Thus abhijánási yad vane abhunjmahi "thou knowest how we did eat in the forest."

लट्टस्मे।३।२।११८।

लिटोऽपवादः । यज्ञति स्म युधिष्ठिरः ।

No. 813.—When the particle SMA FOLLOWS let LAT (No. 406) be employed. This debars lit (No. 423). Thus yajati sma yudhishthirah "Yudhishthira sacrificed."

वर्तमानसामीप्ये वर्तमानवद्वा । ३ । ३ । १३१ ।

No. 814.—The affixes which are employed when the sense is that of present time may be optionally in like manner employed, when the sense is that of past or future time not remote from the present. Thus, to the question "when didst thou come?"—it may be replied either ayam agachchhami "I come now"—or agamam "I have come now?"—and, to the question "when wilt thou go?"—either esha gachchhami or gamishyami "I go, or I shall go, now."

No. 815.—WHEN CONDITION AND CONSEQUENT are spoken of, LIK (No. 459) may optionally be the affix. Thus "if he were to reverence (namet) Krishna, he would attain to (yáyát) felicity.' This does not apply to the following: -" he strikes - therefore the other flees" - for it is meant that this shall apply only to what is future. As stated in No. 459, liń implies "commanding, directing, &c." "Commanding" means "ordering"—one's stimulating to action some low person, such as a dependent--hy saying, for example, yajeta "let him worship." "Directing" means enjoining a duty-the moving of a daughter's son, or the like, in regard to such a matter as the eating of the food prepared at an exequial rite—by saying, for example, iha bhunifta "let him eat in this place." "Inviting" implies an acquiescence in one's following his inclination—as when it is said (to some one inclined to sit down somewhere) iha dsita "let your honour sit down here." "Expression of wish" here implies a respectful procedure-(as when one says respectfully to a teacher) putram adhyapayed bhaván "let your honour teach the boy." "Enquiring" here refers to the determining on the propriety or impropriety of anything—as kin bho! vedam adhiyiya uta tarkam "how, then, I pray you-shall I peruse the Veda? or Shall I study logic?" "Asking for" means begging—as bho bojanan labheya "O may I obtain (i. e. give me) food." In like manner is lot (No. 441) employed.

So much on the subject of the meanings of the tenses. - Thus is the discussion of "what ends with a tense-affix" concluded.

कृदन्ताः।

OF WORDS ENDING IN THE AFFIXES CALLED KRIT.

धातीः । ३ । १ । ६१ । बावृतीयान्तं ये प्रत्ययास्ते धाताः परे स्यः । इदितिङ्कति इतसंज्ञा । No. 816.—As far as the end of the 3rd Lecture [reckoning from the present aphorism], the affixes treated of are to be [understood as coming] AFTER some VERBAL ROOT. there is, from the nature of the case, a singular affix, and the neuter gender is employed. [The case is otherwise with the example following—viz. chetavyah or chayaniyo dharmastwayá "thou must gather merit."

[That is to say] sometime they are applied [where there was no express rule for their application]; sometimes they are not applied in spite of an express rule for their application]: sometimes they are optionally employed or not; and somtimes there is some other result [licence permitted by the rule] [According to the following verse from the grammar called the Sáraswata, "Seeing that the application of certain rules is various, they specify four kinds of varieties," [viz. the four above-mentioned,-among which the last of the four includes all the cases not included in the other threel. For examples snáníyam chúrnam "powder for bathing," dáníyo viprah "a Brahman to whom a donation is to be made." (In the first of these examples the "powder" is the "instrument" (expressible by the 3rd case); and in the second the Bráhman is the "recipient" (expressible by the 4th case);—so in the both cases the affix is applied without any express rule—the express rule for its application (No. 821) having reference only to "act" and "object" (No. 823)],

This debars the an (No. 841)—and we have goda "who gives a cow," dhanada "who gives wealth," and kambalada "who gives a blanket." Why "when there is no upasarga?" Witness gosanpradáya (No. 806) "who ceremoniously gives a cow."

UN, &c., with the force of the present [i. e. implying neither past time nor future], and with a sense simply appellative [and not descriptive], be attached diversely [—see No. 823—]. Some affixes, though there be no express injunction regarding them, are to be inferred to belong to this class. The maxim in regard to the affixes "un, &c." is this—that "when, in appellatives, we find the forms of verbal roots and affixes coming after them,—then one may know, from the result [as presented in the word], what are the indicatory letters [which the affix must have possessed in order to produce the result]."

Thus, from dá "to give," which, No. 879, substitutes dath, we have alandatwá "do not give" and, from pá "to drink," which, by No. 625, substitutes long i, we have pitwa khalu "do not drink." Why do we say "when there are alan and khalu?" Witness má kárshít (Nos. 469 and 475) "let him not do." Why do we say "in the sense of prohibition?" Witness alankára "decoration."

समानकर्तृकयोधीत्वर्थयोः ूर्वकाले विद्याद्याद्वाद्वाद्वाः तथा । श्वात्वाः व्रजति । द्वित्वमतन्त्रम् । भुत्तया पीत्वा व्रजति ।

No. 936.—When the actions signified by two verbs have the same agent, the affix ktwá cames after that verb which is concerned about a time anterior to that of the other. Thus snátwá vrajati "having bathed, he goes"—[i. e. he first bathes, and afterwards goes]. The rule is not confined to the case of two verbs—thus bhuktwá pítwá vrajati "having eaten and having drunk, he goes."

सेट् क्वा किव स्थात्। शयित्वा। सेट् किस्। इत्वा।

No. 937.—Let the affix KTWÁ, when WITH the augment IT, be as if it had NOT an indicatory k—[i. e. there shall be the substitution of guna in spite of No. 467]. Thus [from  $\acute{e}i$  "to sleep"]  $\acute{e}ayitv\acute{a}$  "having sleep." Why do we say "when with the augment it?" Witness  $kritw\acute{a}$  "having done"—[where the augment it—see No. 510—does not appear, and there is no substitution of guna.]

रले। व्यूपधादुलादेः संश्व । १। २। २६ न

दवर्णावर्णापधाद्वलादे रलन्तात् परा तवात्रना सेटा वा किता स्तः। द्युतित्वा। द्योतित्वा। लिखित्वा। लेखित्वा। व्युपधात् किम्। वर्तित्वा। रलः किम्। सेवित्वा। इलादेः किम्। एषित्वा। सेट् किम्। भुतवा।

No. 938.—The affixes  $ktw\acute{a}$  and san, having the augment  $i\ell$  are optionally regarded as possessing an indicatory k, when they, come AFTER THAT verb which has i, i, u, or  $\acute{u}$ , as its penult, which begins with a consonant, and ends with a ral [i. e. any consonant but y or v]. Thus dyutitwá or dyotitwá "having shone," likhitwá or lekhitwá "having written." Why do we say "which has u or i as its penult?" Witness vartitwá "having remained" [where the substitution of guna, through No. 937, is compulsory]. Why after that which "ends with a ral?" Witness sevitwá "having served" [where the root ends with v, which is not a ral]. Why after that "which begins with a consonant?" Witness eshitwá "having gone." Why "having the augment it?" Witness bhuktwá "having eaten"—[where, through the absence of the augment, the case does not come within the scope of No. 937].

उदितः परस्य सब रहा । शमित्वा । शान्वा । देवित्वा । द्युत्वा । दधार्तेष्टिः । हित्वा ।

No. 939.—Of ktwá coming after that root which has an indicatory u, it is optionally the augment. Thus [from samu "to be tranquil"] samitwá or sántwa (No. 775) "having been tranquil," [from divu "to play"] devitwá (No. 937) or dyútwá (VI. 4. 19.) "having played." The verb dhá "to hold" substitutes (by No. 878) hi, "giving" hitwá "having held."

जहातेश्व कि। १। ४। ४३।

हित्वा । हाइस्त् हात्वा ।

No. 940.—And of the verb há "to abandon," the substitute is hi—[see' No. 878]. Thus hitwá "having abandoned." But [when ktwá comes] after há "to go," we have hátwá "having gone."

समासे उनज्र वें को ल्यप्। १। १०।

चव्ययपूर्वपदेऽनञ्समासे त्रवा स्थवादेशः । तुक् । प्रक्रत्य । चनञ् किम् । चक्रत्या । चव्ययपूर्वपदे किम् । परमञ्जल्या ।

No. 941.—When the word is a compound, the first member of which is an indeclinable but not nan, then Lyap is substituted in the room of ktwá. Thus [when kri "to make" is compounded with pra—No. 48—lyap is substituted for ktwá; and, as it succeeds—see No. 163—to the possession of the indicatory k, we have—from No. 823—the augment] tuk—and so prakritya "having commenced making."

Why, do we say "but not nan?" Witness akritwá "not having made." Why do we say "the first member of which is an indeclinable?" Witness paramakritwá "having made permanent."

श्राभी च्या गमुल् च। ३। ४। २२।

माभी त्र्ये द्यात्ये पूर्वविषये गामुल् तवा च।

No. 942.—When reiteration is to be expressed, both ktwd and NAMUL [are admissible] in the case of an action's being antecedent [to another action—see No. 936]

नित्यवीप्सयोः। ६। १। ४।

श्राभीराये वीकायां च द्येत्ये पदस्य द्वित्वं स्यात् । श्राभीत् एवं तिह-मीखश्यसंत्रकेषु कृदन्तेषु च । स्मारं स्मारं नमित शिवम् । स्मृत्वा स्मृत्वा । पायं पायम् । भोजं भे।जम्, । श्रावं श्रावम् ।

No. 943.—When continualness and succession are to be expressed, let the word be doubled. There may be reiteration in the case of words ending with tense-affixes, and of those ending with krit affixes which (—see No. 400—) are termed indeclinables. Thus smaran smaran (No. 942) namati sivam "having repeatedly remembered Siva, he bends," smritwa smritwa "having repeatedly remembered," pay in payam "having drunk repeatedly," bhojan bhojam "having eaten repeatedly," śravan śravam "having heard repeatedly."

श्रन्यथेवंकथमित्यंसु सिद्धाप्रयोगश्चेत्। ३।४। २९।

इति कृदन्तप्रक्रिया।

No. 944.—When the words Anyathá "otherwise," EVAM "so," RATHAM "how?" AND ITTHAM "thus," are compounded with the verb, then let namul come after krin "to make," If it be such that ITS OMISSION WOULD BE UNOBJECTIONABLE—that is to say, when, in consequence of the non-significance of the krin, it is not worth employing. Thus anyathákáram, evinkáram, or kathankáram. or itthankáran bhuńkte—"he eats otherwise—he eats so—how does he eat?—he eats thus," Why do we say "if its omission would be unobjectionable?" Witness śiro'nyathá kritwá bhuńkte "he eats, having turned his head aside"—[where the krin could not be spared].

So much for the treatment of words ending with the krit affixes.

No. 945.—By "the sense of the crude-form" is meant that meaning which is constantly present [with the word]. The word "only" is to be taken in connection with each term severally [in the aphorism -the translation of which here follows-viz]:-Let there be THE FIRST case-affix, WHERE THE SENSE IS ONLY THAT OF THE CRUDE-FORM, OR where there is the additional sense of GENDER only, OR MEASURE only, OR NUMBER only. Thus-where the sense is only that of the crude-form-uchchaih "aloft," níchaih "below," krishnah "Krishna," śrih "the goddess Lakshmi," jnanum."knowledge;" where there is the additionl sense of gender only-tatch or tati or tatam "the bank of a river;"-where there is the additional sense of measure onlydrono vríhih "rice-a drona (in measure);"-"number," here means [grammatical] number-[and the reason for this being specified in the rule is this—that otherwise the word eka "one," would not take su, nor dwi take uu, nor bahu take jas-for an affix is never applied in order to give a sense which is implied in the word—as singularity is in eka, duality in dwi, and plurality in bahu]—so we have ekah, "one," dwau "two," bahavah "many."

इम्बोधने च।२।३।४०।

No. 946.—And when the sense is that of addressing, the first case-affix is employed. Thus he rama (No. 153) "O Rama!"

No. 948—WHEN THE OBJECT is not denoted [by the termination of the verb—i. e when the verb does not agree with it], let THE SECOND case-affix be attached to the words. Thus hirin bhajati "he worships Hari," where, not the object of worship, but the agent is specified by the tense-affix tip—No. 419—]. But when the object, &c. is denoted by the termination of the verb, [let the first case-affix be attached to the word]. Thus harih sevyate "Hari is served,"—[where the termination of the verb—see No. 801—specifies the object:] and so too in lakshmyá sevitah "served by Lakshmí," [where—see Nos. 867 and 820—the termination specifies the object].

No. 950.—Let that be "not spoken of," [as coming under the special relation of 'ablation' or the like—see No. 949—] which is connected with the object of the verbs DUH "to milk," YÁCH "to ask for," PACH "to cook," DAND "to fine," RUDH "to obstruct," PRACHCHH "to ask," CHI "to collect," BRÚ "to speak," SÁS "to instruct," JI "to conquer," MANTH "to churn," and MUSH "to steal,"—and so too of Ní "to lead," HRI "to take," KRISH "to drag," and VAH "to carry."

Thus—"he milks the cow (for) milk," "he asks the earth (of) Bali," "he cooks the raw rice (so that it becomes) boiled rice" [—cf. "he cooks oatmeal into porridge"—]; "he fines the Gargas a hundred (pieces of money)," "he shuts up the cow (in) the cow-pen," "he asks the boy (which is) the road," "he gathers fruit (from) the tree," "he expounds virtue (to) the boy," or "teaches him virtue," "he wins a hundred (from) Devadatta," "he churns out ambrosia (from) the ocean of milk," "he steals a hundred (from) Devadatta," "he leads the goats (to) the village," or "takes them," or "drags them."

This term [viz. the term object as appropriated by the present rule to something other than the direct object of the verb] is one the reason for taking which is the sense of the verb—[so that the rule is not confined to the verbs above enumerated, but applies to others which have the same sense—], hence we may have balin bhikshate easudhán "he begs (as well as yóchati asks) the earth (from) Bali," "he talks of (bháshate), names (abhidhatte), tells of (vakti) virtue (to) the boy,"—&c.

No. 955.—And let the fourth case-affix be employed in connection with [the forms of reverential address or religious invocation] NAMAS, SWASTI, SWAHÁ, SWADHÁ; and with ALAM AND VASHAT.

Thus—"Salutation to Hari'—"Prosperity to the people"—"An offering to Fire"—"An offering to the matnes." The word alam is here taken in the sense of "sufficient for" or "equal to"—so that [the same construction is admissible with equivalent terms—and we may say] "Hari is enough for (alam), or is the master of (prabhu), or is a match for (samurtha), or is able to overcome (sakta), the Titans."

यामादायाति । धावताऽश्वात् पतित । इत्यादि ।

No. 957.—WHEN [the word denotes that from which there is] ABLATION (No. 956), let THE FIFTH case-affix be employed. Thus—"he comes from the village," "he falls from a galloping horse," &c.

No. 958.—Let THE SIXTH case-affix be employed in THE REMAINING CASES—that is to say—where there is a sense, such as the relation between property and its owner, different from that of a word related to a verb, and from that of a crude word. Thus "the King's man."

[Here it may be observed that the application of the term káraka is not co-extensive with that of the term case. The káraka—as its etymology indicates—stands in a relation dependent on the verb—whereas the sixth case provides further for such a relation as that of one noun with another. With an eye to this, we have rendered káraka "that which is directly related to the action."]

Moreover, when it is intended to speak only of the relation in general [and not of the special relation] of object and the like, the sixth case-affix alone is employed. Thus "the conduct of the virtuous," "he knows clarified butter," "he remembers his mother," "he prepares the wood and water for an oblation," "he adores the two feet of Siva."

श्रांधारे।ऽधिकरगाम् । १।४।४५।

No. 959.—Let that which is related to the action as THE SITE of the action, which action is located in this or that site by the agent or object, be called THE LOCATION.

[When we say "he cooks in the house," the site is determined by the agent:—and when we say "he cooks rice in a pot," the location is determined by the object.]

इति विभक्त्यर्थाः ।

No. 960.—And when the sense is that of location (No. 959), The seventh case-affix is employed. By the "and" it is meant that it is employed also after words meaning "far off" or "near." A site is of three kinds—actually contiguous, figuratively objective, and co-extensive. Thus (1) "he sits on (i. e. in contact with) the mat," or "he cooks rice in (i. e. which is actually contained within) the pot;" (2) "his desire is (bent) on salvation—(i. e. is figuratively wrapt up in it as its object); (3) "Sool is in all" (i. e. is co-extensive with the universe). "Far from, or near, the wood."

So much for the sense of the case-affixes.

No. 961.—Compounds are of five kinds. Here a compound means an aggregation. That which is destitute of any peculiar name being "merely a compound," is the 1st kind. That called Avyayibháva (No. 966)—in which, for the most part, the sense of the first of its elements is the main one (or the independent one on which the other depends), is the 2nd kind. That called Tatpurusha (No. 982)—in which, for the most part, the sense of the last of its elements is the main one, is the 3rd kind. A subdivision of the Tatpurusha class is called Karmadháraya (No. 1002.) A subdivision of the Karmadháraya class is called Dwigu (No. 983). That called Bahuvrthi (No. 1034)—

समर्थः पदविधिः।२।१।१।

No. 962.—A RULE WHICH RELATES TO complete WORDS [—and not to the roots and affixes out of which the words are constructed—] is to be understood to apply only TO THOSE words THE SENSES OF WHICH ARE CONNECTED. [For example—according to No. 992, one noun may combine with another which is in the genitive so that for "a binder of books" we may substitute "a book-binder:"—but it is necessary that the two words should be in construction—for if we have the expression "ignorant of books—a binder of sheaves," we cannot make a compound of "books" and "binder"—the word "binder" being here connected in sense, not with "books"—but with "sheaves."]

प्राक् कडारात् समासः। २।१।३।

No. 963.—The word "COMPOUND" is made the regulator of the sense [and is therefore to be understood in each aphorism] from this point AS FAR AS the aphorism "KADÁRÁH karmadháraye" (II. 2. 38).

No. 964.—A word ending in a case-affix may optionally be compounded WITH a word ending in A CASE-AFFIX. Since that which is a 'compound' is, therefore, regarded as a crude word (No. 136), there is elision of case-affixes (No. 768). The conveying an additional meaning [besides the literal meaning, or besides that which resides in the separate portions of which it may be composed] is the 'function' [of an expression]. There are five 'functions' [of five different kinds of expression]—viz. those belonging to [what ends with] a krit affix (No. 329) or a taddhita affix (No. 1067).—to a 'compound' (No. 961), to a 'partial remainder' (No. 145), and to a verb that ends with san or the like (No. 502). An expression explanatory of the force of the 'function' is called its 'analysis' or 'solution' and this is of two kinds—popular and technical. For example, the explanation "púrvan bhútah" is the popular solution, and "púrva + am, bhútah + su" is the technical analysis, of the expression bhutapúrvah "formerly been" [which furnishes an example of the rule No. 964, under consideration]. In this example the anomaly [—as regards placing the principal word first instead of the secondary term—see No. 969—[of the word púrva, is in accordance with the example [of Páṇini] in the aphorism "bhúta-púrve charat" (V. 3. 53).

इति केवलसमासः प्रथमः।

No. 965.—[A word enters into] composition with IVA" like," AND there is not elision of the case-affix. Thus vágartháviva "like a word and its meaning."

So much for the first kind—that which is "merely compound."

ग्रव्ययीभावः ।

OF THE AVYAYIBHAVA OR INDECLINABLE COMPOUND.

श्रव्ययीभावः।२।१।५।

अधिकारोऽयम् । प्राक् तत्पुरुषात् ।

No. 966.—The term AVYAYÍBHÁVA—i. e. "the becoming an indeclinable"—is a regulating expression [to be understood in each aphorism] as far as No. 982.

श्रव्ययं विभक्तिसमीपसमृद्धिव्युद्धाः भावात्यया-संप्रतिशब्दप्रादुभावपश्चाद्यथानुपूर्व्ययागपद्यसादू-उद्यद्धाः तिद्धाक्तव्यान्तवचनेषु । २ । १ । ६ ।

No. 967.—An indeclinable No. 399 employed with the sense of a case-affix, or of near to, or prosperity, or adversity, or absence of the thing, or departure, or not now, or the production of some sound, or after, or according to, or order of arrangement, or simultaneousness, or likeness, or possession, or totality or termination, is invariably compounded with a word that ends with a case-affix.

For the most part, that which is invariably compound has no corresponding expression made up of separate words:—or its analysis must, for the most part be made in other words [than those of which the compound itself consists].

[As an example of an "indeclinable" employed] with the sense of a case-affix—suppose that the case stands thus—viz.  $hari+\acute{n}i+adhi$ —[where the "indeclinable" adhi "upon" is to be employed with the sense of the 7th case-affix  $\acute{n}i$ —we look forward].

प्रथमानिर्दिष्टं समासउपसर्जनम् । १।२।४३। समासशास्त्रे प्रथमानिर्दिष्टमुपसर्जनं स्यात् ।

No. 968.—In a rule enjoining composition, let that which is exhibited EXHIBITED WITH THE 1ST case-affix [i. e. let the word which is exhibited in the nominative] be called the UPASARJANA or "secon lary." [Thus the adhi, in the example under No. 967, being an "indeclinable," is the upasarjana, because the term "indeclinable," in No. 967, is in the 1st case].

उपखर्जनं पूर्वम् । २।२।३०।

No. 969.—The UPASARJANA (No. 968) is to be placed FIRST in a compound. Hence [in the example proposed in No. 967] the adhi [being the 'indeclinable' which is exhibited with the first case-affix in No. 967] is to be placed first—[thus adhi+hari+hi]. Then (No. 768) there is elision of the case-affix—[leaving adhi+hari]. Then, seeing that what is partially altered (No. 181) does not become something quite different,—since this [viz. the expression under consideration, after being partially altered by the elision of the case-affix,] is still called a "crude form,"—the case-affixes, su, &c., again present themselves (—No. 140)—; and they are again finally, elided (No. 403) in consequence of this compound's being an 'indeclinable,' according to No. 402. Thus we have adhihari "upon Hari."

No. 972.—The change to am (No. 971) OF THE 3RD AND 7TH case-affixes coming after an Aryayibháva compound that ends in a, occurs DIVERSELY (—see No. 823). Thus upakrishnam or upakrishnena "near to Krishna;" [and, as further examples of No. 967.] sumadram "well (or prosperous) with the Madras," duryavanam "ill with the Yavanas," nirmakshikam "free from flies." atihimam "on the departure of the cold weather," atinidram "wakefully;"—i. e sleep being not now engaged in—; thinari "the exclamation 'Hari"—[thus vaishnavagrihe itihari vartate "in the house of the Vaishnava there is the cry of 'Hari, Hari'"]—; anuvishnu "after Vishnu"—[.. following or worshipping him]. The meanings intended by the word yathá, [which, in the list at No. 967, has been rendered "according to,"] are 'correspondence,' 'severalty' or 'succession,' 'the not passing beyond, something,' and 'likeness.' Thus anurúpam "in a corresponding manner," pratyartham "according to each several object or signification," yathásakti "according to one's ablity"—[i. e. not going beyond one's power].

No. 973—In an Avyayíbháva compound let sa be the substitute of saha, but not when the word in composition means a portion of time. Thus sahari "like Hari," then again, anujyeshtham (No. 967) "in the order of seniority," sachakram "simultaneously with the wheel" (—on its crushing, for example, the head of the self-immolator), sasakhi "like a friend," sakshatram "as warriors ought," satrinam "even to the grass" he eats—[i. e. the whole]—not leaving even a scrap—, ságni "as far as the chapter of fire [i. e. the whole Veda]"—he reads.

Thus [there is elision of the an of rajan "a king" and atman "the soul," followed by the taddhita-affix tach—see No. 976—in virtue of the commencing of which affix with a vowel these words then take the name of bha—and we have] uparajam "under the king," adhyatmam "over or in the spirit."

भयः। ५। ४। १११।

इत्यव्ययोभाव:।

No. 981.—The taddhita-affix tach (No. 976) is optionally placed AFTER an Avyayibhdva compound that ends in A JHAY. Thus upasamidham or unasamit (No. 165) "near firewood."

तत्पुरुषः । २ । १ । २२ ।

No. 982.—The term TATPURUSHA [i. e. "his man"—the expression itself—see No. 992—being an example of the kind of compound now to be treated of—] is a regulating expression [to be understood in each aphorism] as far as No. 1034.

द्विगुफ्च।२।१।२३।

द्वितीयान्तं श्रितादिप्रकृतिकैः सुबन्तैः सह वा समस्यते । कृष्णं श्रितः । कृष्णश्रितः । इत्यादि ।

No. 984.—A word ending with THE 2nd case-affix is optionally compounded WITH the words SRITA "who has had recourse to," ATITA "who has surpassed," PATITA "who has fallen upon," GATA "who has gone to,"ATYASTA "who has passed," PRÁPTA "who has reached," AND ÁPANNA "who has reached," when these are the governing words and end with case-affixes. Thus krishnasrita "who has had recourse to Krishna," &c.

No. 985.—A word ending with THE 3RD case-affix, as before [—see No. 984—is compounded] optionally WITH WHAT DENOTES THAT THE QUALITY of which is instrumentally caused by the thing signified by what ends with the 3rd case-affix, AND WITH the word ARTHA "wealth" [—the wealth being caused by that denoted by what ends with the 3rd case-affix]. Thus śańkulákhanda "a piece cut by the nippers"—[where the cause of the piece being cut is the nippers]—; dhányártha "wealth acquired, by grain"—[where the grain is the cause of the wealth]. Why do we say "caused by the thing signified, &c?" Witness akshná kánah "blind of an cye"—[where the two words cannot form a compound, because the eye is not what makes the person blind].

कर्तकरणे कृता बहुलम् । २।१। ३२।

कर्तरि करणे च तृतीया अदन्तेन बहुतं प्राप्तत् । हिर्दातः । नस्र-भिचः । अद्गृहणे गतिकारकपूर्वस्यापि यहणम् । नखनिर्भिचः ।

No. 986.—[That which ends with] the 3rd case-affix, WHEN it denotes THE AGENT OR THE INSTRUMENT, as before [see No. 984—is compounded] DIVERSELY (No. 823) with what ends with A KRIT affix. Thus haritráta "preserved by Hari," nakhabhinna "divided by the nails." In the taking of krit [in the present rule] is implied that of the same when a preposition (No. 222) or a word directly related to the action (No. 958) precedes:—thus [the combination is not obstructed, by the preposition nir, in the example] nakhanirbhinna "quite divided by the nails."

चतुर्थी तदर्थार्थबलिहितसुखरिततेः।२।१।३६।

No. 987.—A word ending with THE 4TH case-affix, as before [ - see No. 984,—is compounded optionally] WITH what denotes THAT WHICH

If FOR THE PURPOSE of what ends with the 4th case-affix—AND SO too WITH the words ARTHA "on account of," BALI "a sacrifice," HITA 'salutary," SUKHA "pleasant," AND RAKSHITA "kept." Thus yúpadáru 'wood for a stake." By the expression "for the purpose thereof" the special relation of a material and its modification alone is [by Patanjali] here held [to be intended]. Hence, in the case of such an expression as "a vessel for washing," composition does not take place—for the washing is not a modified form of the vessel, as a stake is a modified form of the wood which it is made of.

पूर्वापराधरात्तरमेकदेशिनेकाधिकरगो।२।२।१।

चवर्यवना सह पूर्वादयः समस्यन्ते एकत्वसंख्याविशिष्टश्चेदवयवी । षष्टीसमासापवादः । पूर्वं कायस्य पूर्वकायः । चपरकायः । एकाधिकरणे किम् । पूर्वश्कात्रागाम् ।

No. 993.—The words Púrva "front," APARA "near," ADHARA "lower," AND UTTARA "upper," are compounded with what [word signifies a thing that] has Parts, Provided that the thing having parts is distinctionally by unity. Thus púrvakáya "the front of the body," aparakáya "the back of the body." Why do we say "provided it is the site of unity [i. e. provided it be one]?" Witness púrvaíchhátránám "the foremost of the pupils"—[where composition does not take place, the pupils being more than one].

श्चर्धं नपुंसकम् । २।२।२।

[It had been stated that words ending with the 2nd, 3rd, and other case-affixes—see Nos. 984, 985, &c.,—may form compounds with certain words specified in the aphorisms; but a greater latitude is found necessary—so] on the ground of usage [in the works of good authors] it is to be considered allowable to form compounds out of words ending with the 3rd and other case-affixes, elsewhere also [than where directed in the aphorisms], by disjoining the expressions 2nd, &c. [from their appropriate aphorisms], and attaching them [to others].

दिक्संख्ये संज्ञायाम् । २।१।५०।

् संज्ञायामेवेति नियमार्थं सूत्रम् । पूर्वेषुकामशमी । सप्त ऋषयः । सप्तः र्षयः । तेनेद्दं न । उत्तरा वृत्ताः । पञ्च ब्राह्मणाः ।

No. 996.—A word signifying a Point of the compass or a number [enters into composition] when the sense is that of an appellative—The aphorism is intended to restrict the composition of such words to the case where the sense is that of an appellative. the compound, AND WHEN AN AGGREGATE is to be expressed, then a word signifying a point of the compass or a number, as before [—see No. 996—becomes compounded] Thus, when a compound is formed out of the words púrvasyón śúláyán bhavah "that which is in the eastern hall," [in which analytical exposition—see No. 964—of the compound in question, the word bhavat—see No. 998—serves to represent the force of a tarbiblita-affix—] the compound having (—see No. 964—) reached the form of púrvá +súlá [the feminine termination of the púrvá is rejected—because Patahjah declares that] "the masculine state belongs to a pronominal, when exercising any of the five functions" [specified under No. 964].

तत्पुरुषः समानाधिकरणः कर्मधारयः।१।२।४२।

No. 1002.—A TATPURUSHA compound (No. 982) THE CASE OF each member of which is the Same, is called Karmadharaya (—i e. "that which comprehends the object"—but why so named does not seem to be any where explained).

823), as before [-i. e. as directed in No. 984] *Thus nílotpala "a blue lotus." By taking, in the rule, the expression "diversely" it is mean that in some cases it is imperative to make a compound—as in the case of krishnasarpa "a black snake," and sometimes it is forbiddenthus rámo jámadagnyah "Ráma (called also) Jámadagnya" "(as being the son of Jamadagni)."

उपमानानि सामान्यवचनेः । २। १। ५४।

No. 1008-THE ELISION OF THE SECOND MEMBER IN the compounds SAKAPARTHEVA, &c. should be stated. Thus the word priya "beloved" is elided in the example sákapárthiva "the king of the era"-i. e. the king beloved by (the people of) his era, devabráhmana "a Bráhman beloved by the gods

नञ् । २। २। ६।

नञ् सुपा प्राग्वत् ।

No. 1009.—The indeclinable privative NAN, as before [i. e. as driected in the foregoing rules-combines] with what ends with a case-affix.

नलोपो नजः। ६।३। ७३।

नन्ना नम्य लाप उत्तरपदे । ग्रवाह्मणः ।

No. 1010.—There is ELISION OF the N OF NAN (No. 1009), when a word follows in composition with it. Thus abrahmana "who is not a Bráhman"—(though a man)

तस्मानुडचि । ६ । ३ । ७४ । नुप्तनकारावत्र उत्तरपदस्यानादेर्नुट् । ग्रनखः । नैकधेत्यादी तु नशस्त्रेन सद्द सुप् सुपेति समासः।

No. 1011.—Let NUT be the augment of a word beginning with A vowel that comes, in composition, AFTER THAT nan (No. 1010) of which the n has been elided. Thus anaśwa "(an animal) which is not a horse." But in such an expression as naikadhá "not at one time," there is composition with the word na [i. e. nan with its indicatory final dropped] in accordance with No. 964 ['indeclinables' being regarded as if they had case-affixes, though these have been elided—see Nos. 403 and 210].

कुगतिप्रादयः।२।२।१८।

एते समर्थेन नित्यं समस्यन्ते । कुत्सितः पुरुषः । कुपुरुषः ।

No. 1012.—The word KU (No. 399), those called GATI (Nos. 222 and 1013), and PRA, &C. (No. 48), are invariably compounded with that with which they are connected in sense. Thus kupurusha a "paltry men."

ऊर्यादिच्चिडाचश्च । १ । ४ । ६१ ।

क्यादयस्व्यन्ता डाजन्तास्व क्रियायेश्ये गतिसंजाः स्यः । करीक्रत्य । सुक्षीकृत्य । पटपटाकृत्य । सुपुरुषः ।

Thus (No. 1012) "urikritya" (No. 936) "having promised," suklikritya "having made white," paṭapaṭākritya "having made a clattering," supurasha (No. 1012 and 48) "a good man."

पादयो गतादार्थ प्रथमया । प्रगत ग्राचार्यः । प्राचार्यः ।

No. 1015.—"The words ATI, &c. (No. 48), WHEN THE THING DENOTED is GONE BEYOND or the like, combine WITH what ends with THE 2ND case-affix." Thus we may have, as the analysis of a compound ctikranto malam "which has surpassed the necklace:"—[but, in regard to the compound, some further considerations are necessary].

एकविभक्ति चापूर्वनिपाते । १।२। ४४।

- विग्रहे यवियतिवभित्रक तदुपसर्जनं न तु तस्य पूर्वनिपातः।

No. 1016.—And that which, in the analytical statement of the sense of a compound, has one fixed CASE [whilst the word with it is compounded may vary its case] is called upasarjana (No. 968), BUT DOES NOT (necessarily) STAND FIRST (No. 969) [This furnishes occasion for next rule].

गोस्त्रियोरूपसर्जनस्य । १।२।४८।

उपसर्जनं यो गोशब्दः स्त्रीप्रत्ययान्तं च तदन्तस्य प्रातिपदिकस्य हस्यः । ग्रातिमालः ।

No. 1017.—Let a short vowel be the substitute of a crude word (No. 135) which ends with the word go "a cow," AND of that which ends with what has as its termination A FEMININE affix (No. 1341), when regarded as AN UPASARJANA (No. 1016). Thus [the example under No. 1015 becomes] atimila "exceeding the necklace (in beauty).

अवादयः क्रुष्टाद्मर्घे नृतीयया । अवक्रुष्टः केाकिलया । अवक्रोकिलः ।

No. 1018.—"The words AVA, &c. (No. 48), WHEN THE THING DENOTED is CRIED OUT &c., are compounded WITH what ends with THE 3RD case-affix." Thus avakokila "what is announced by the cuckoe."—(e. g. the spring).

No. 1020.—The words nir, &c. (No. 48), when the thing denoted is gone beyond, &c., are compounded with what ends with the 5th case-affix. Thus nishkuaśámbi "who has gone beyond Kauśámbi."

तत्रोप्रपदं सप्रमीस्थम्। ३।१। ८२।

सप्तम्यन्ते पदे कर्मणीत्यादी वाकात्वेन स्थितं यत् कुम्भादि तद्दाचकं पदमुपपदं स्थात्।

No. 1021.—HERE [i. ê. in the division of the Grammar referring to verbal roots] let the word, such as "pot" or the like, denoting that which, in virtue of its being a significate, is IMPLIED in a term exhibited IN THE 7TH case, such as karmani (No. 841), be called UPAPADA (No. 1022).

उपपदमतिङ्। २। २। १६।

उपपदं समर्थन नित्यं समस्यतेऽतिङन्तश्च समासः । कुभं करोतीति कुम्भकारः । चित्रङ् किम् । मा भवान् भूत् । माङ्गि लुङ्गित सप्तमीनिर्देशान् माङ्गपपदम् । गतिकारकीपपदानां क्षद्भिः सह समासवचनं प्राक् सुबुत्पत्तेः । व्याघी । चश्वक्रीती । कच्छपी । इत्यादि ।

No. 1022.—An UPAPADA (No. 1021) is always compounded with that with which it is in construction—and the compound does Not end in a tense-affix. Thus kumbhakara (No. 841), "one who makes pots." Why do we say "not in a tense-affix?" Witness má bhaván bhút "let not your Honour become"—where mán as having been exhibited, in No. 469, in 7th case, takes the name of upapada [but is not compounded with bhút].

The compounding of a gati (No. 222) or a káraka (No. 945), or an upapada (No. 1021) with what ends with a krit-affix is declared to be effected before the case affixes present themselves. Thus we have vydghri "a tigress," aswakriti "a female (e. g. cow or the like) bought in exchange for a horse," kachchhapi "a she-tortoise." [The word vydghri is said to be derived from the root ghri "to smell," with the gati-prefixes vi and i, because the animal "goes smelling about." By Nos. 839 and 524, short i is found in the room of the long i. Then, if the i i i i i were not held to have become a compound before the case-affixes present themselves, in forming the feminine we should have to follow No. 1341 instead of No. 1373—for we should be forming the feminine of a verbal and not of a word denoting a genus. And so of the other examples].

तत्पुरुषस्याङ्गुलेः संख्याव्ययादेः । ४ । ४ । ८६ ।

संस्थात्ययादेरहुत्यन्तस्य तत्पुरुषस्य समासान्ते। द्व स्थातः । द्वे श्रहुती बमाणमस्य द्वाहुतम् । तिर्गतमहुतिभ्या निरहुतम् । No. 1023.—Let the affix ach be the final of the TATPURUSHA compound which begins with a numeral or an indeclinable and ends with anguli "an inch." Thus dwyangula (No. 260) "of the measure of two inches," nirangula "exceeding in measure the breadh of the fingers (of a hand)."

श्रहःसर्वेकदेशसंख्यातपुग्याः रात्रेः। ४।४।८९। स्था राजेख स्यात्। चात् संख्याव्ययादेः। बाह्यस्यां द्वन्द्वार्थम् ।

No. 1024.—And let the affix ach come after the word ratri "night," when it comes after ahan "a day," sarva "all," what signifies a portion, and sankhyata "numbered," and punya "holy.' By the "and" is meant that this is to hold also when the compound begins with a numeral or an indeclinable."

The word ahan "a day" is taken, in this aphorism, with a view poits entering into a Dwandwa compound—(No. 1054).

रात्राह्वाहाः पुंसि । ३ । ४ । २६ ।

एतदन्ती दुन्दुतत्पुरुषी पुंस्थेव । ऋहश्च रात्रिश्चाहोराजः । सर्वेरात्रः ।

No. 1025.—Dwandwa (No. 1054) and Tatpurusha compounds ending in RATRA (i. e. rátri+ach—see No. 1024), AND AHNA (V. 4. 88.) AND AHA (Nos. 1027 and 979), appear in the Masculine only. Thus ahorátrah (No. 395, in spite of No. 129, taking effect as directed by Kátyáyana) "day and night," sarvarátrah "the whole night," sarkhyátarátrah "a night numbered (as the 1st, 2nd, 13th, &c.)."

संख्यापूर्वे राचं क्षीबम् । द्विराचम् । चिराचम् ।

No. 1626.—"The word RATRA 'night,' (No. 1025) PRECEDED in composition by a numeral, is neuter." Thus dwirátram "a space if two nights," trirátram "a space of three nights."

राजाहःसिखभ्यष्टच् । ५ । ४ । ६१ ।

एतदन्तात् तत्पुरुषाटुच् । परमराजः ।

No. 1027.—The taddhita-affix TACH comes AFTER a Tatpurusha compound (No. 982) that ends with the word RAJAN "a king," AHAN "a day," OR SAKHI "a friend." Thus paramarájah "a supreme hing.

No. 1035.—[A collection of] MORE words THAN ONE, in the nominative, employed TO DENOTE THE SAME THING AS ANOTHER WORD is optionally compounded:—this is a Bahuvrihi compound (No. 1034).

सप्रमीविद्योषगो बर्जिहों। २।२।३५।

सप्तम्यन्त विशेषणं च बहुवीही पूर्व स्पात् । कण्डेकाराः । सत् एव जापकाद्मधिकरणपदी बहुवीहिः ।

No. 1036.—A word in the 7th case, and an epither shall stand first in a Bahuvríhi compound. Thus kanthekála "who is black in the throat—(Śiva)." [Had the noun not been in the 7th case, the epithet must have come first—thus kálakantha "black-throated"]. From this we learn that a Bahuvríhi compound may consist of words in different cases—[though No. 1035 speaks of them as being all alike in the nominative].

इलदन्तात् सप्रम्याः संज्ञायाम् १६।३।६।

हलन्तादिदन्ताच्य सप्तम्या श्रमुक् । त्यचिसारः । प्राप्तमुदकं यं प्राप्ता-दको ग्रामः । कठरचाऽनद्वान् । उपहृतपशू हद्रः । उद्गृतीदना स्थाली । पीता-म्बरो हिरः । वीरपुरुको ग्रामः ।

No. 1037.—There is not elision of the 7th case-affix after what ends in a consonant or short a, when the sense is that of an appellative. Thus twachisára "a bambu" (the pith, or strength, of which is in its cuticle).

[Other examples of Bahuvríhi compounds are] próptodako grámah "a village at which the water has come," údharatho, nadwán "an ox by which the car is borne," upahritapaśú rudrah (No. 131) "Rudra, to whom cattle are offered (by being turned loose)," uddhritaudaná sthálí "a pot from which the boiled rice has been taken out," pítámbaro harih "Hari, whose garments are yellow," vírapurushako grámah "a village the men of which are heroes."

प्रादिभ्या धातुक्रस्य वाच्यां वा चात्ररपदलीपः । प्रपतितपर्यः । प्रपर्याः ।

No. 1038.—"The OPTIONAL compounding OF WHAT ARISES FROM A VERBAL ROOT coming AFTER PRA &C. (No. 48), SHOULD BE STATED AND THE ELISION OF THE TERM SUBSEQUENT (—here subsequent to the prefix)." Thus praparah "(a tree) of which the leaves are all fallen"—[the word patita being omitted in the compound.

नजाऽस्त्यर्थानां वाच्या वा चात्तरंपदलापः । गविद्यमानपुत्रीऽपुत्रः ।

No. 1639.—"The compounding of words SIGNIFYING 'WHAT EXISTS, coming AFTER the negative NAN (No. 1010), SHOULD BE STATED, AND THE OPTION ELISION OF THE SECOND OF THE TERMS." Thus avidyamanaputra or aputra "of whom there exists not a child"—(i. e. childless).

स्त्रियाः पुंवद्गाषितपुंस्कादनूङ् समानाधिकरणे स्त्रियामपूरणीप्रियादिषु । ६ । ३ । ३४ ।

उक्तपुंस्कादनूङ् उङ्घाऽभावा यत्र तथाभूतस्य स्त्रीवाचकशब्दस्य पुंवाचक-स्येव रूपं समानाधिकरणे न तु पूरण्यां प्रियादे। च । गोस्त्रियोरिति हस्वः । चित्रगुः । रूपवद्वार्यः । चनुङ् किम् । वामोरूभार्यः ।

No. 1040.—When trere is not úń after what is employed in speaking of what is masculine,—i. e. where there is the absence of the feminine affix úń—(see No. 1376 (the form of such a feminine word becomes like the masculine, when a feminine word in the same case follows (in the compound)—but not if this (word that follows) is an ordinal, or is the word priya "beloved" &c.

[Thus—when we mean to speak of a man as having a brindled cow."—the two words chitrá gauh being converted into an epithet], gau becomes short, by No. 1017, [and then, by the present rule, the chitrá, which is followed by a feminine word in the same case"—viz. by gauh becomes "like the masculine"—i. e. becomes chitra—so that we have] chitraguh (a man who has a brindled cow." In like manner [from rúpavatí bháryá a handsome wife"] rúpavadbháryah who has a handsome wife." Why do we say "when there is not úń?" Witness vámorúbháryah "one who has a wife with handsome thighs" [where the feminine affix úń—No. 1380—by which the final of the word uru "a thigh" was lengthened, remains].

श्रप् र्दां प्रमाख्याः । ४। ४। ११६ ।

पूरवार्षेत्रत्ययान्तं यत् स्त्रीलिङ्गं तदन्तात् प्रमाययन्ताच्य बहुव्रीहेरप् स्थात् । कल्याकी पञ्चमी यासां रात्रीखां ताः कल्याकीपञ्चमा रात्रयः । स्त्री प्रमाखी यस्य स्त्रोत्रमाः । वाप्रियादिवु किम् । कल्याबीप्रियः । इत्यादि ।

No. 1041.—When a feminine word ends with an affix giving the sense of AN ORDINAL, let the affix AP be AFTER the Bαhuvrihi compound (No. 1034) which ends therewith or with the word PRAMANI "a witness." Thus kalyánípanchamá rátrayah "nights, the fifth of which is auspicious," strípramánah "having a woman for witness or authority"—(a suit &c.) Why do we say (in No. 1040) "not if this is the word priya, &c."? Witness kalyánípriyah "whose beloved is an honourable woman,":—and so on.

बहुव्रीहें। सक्ष्यक्षोः स्वाङ्गात् षच्। ४। ४। ११३।

No. 1054 - When a set of several words ending with case-affixes stands IN A RELATION EXPRESSIBLE BY "AND," the set is optionally made into a compound :- this is called DWANDWA "doubling" or "coupling." The meanings that may be indicated by "and" are "community of reference," "collateralness of reference," "mutual conjunction," and "lumping." For example-iswaran gurun cha bhajaswa "reverence God and thy teacher"—here the dependence, on one (and the same verb), of the mutually unrelated set of more than one, is what we call "community of reference." In the example bhikshámata gán chánaya "go for alms and bring the cow," the relation founded on the one or the other's being concerned in a collateral action—is what we call "collateralness of reference." ln these two cases composition does not take place, because the words are not directly related to one another—(No. 962). In the example dhavakhadirau chhindhi "cleave (alike) the Mimosa and the Grislea"-the relation of the two mixed up (in one action of which they are spoken of as the joint object) is what we call "mutual conjunction." "Lumping" is aggregation (into a neuter singular word)—as in the example sunjnaparibhasham" an appellative and a maxim of interpretation."

[N. B.—Were the affix applied to a word standing at the end of a compound, before the word had completed its junction with the other words in the compound, then such a rule as No. 1069 would not apply to the whole term, and the alteration directed would fall upon the wrong letter.]

No. 1304.—" IT [viz., thamu—No. 1303] SHOULD BE STATED TO COME *AFTER ETAD 'this' ALSO." Thus ittham (Nos. 1299 and 1301—) "thus," "in this manner."

किमश्चाप्र।३।२५।

केन प्रकारेश कथम्।

इति प्राविदशीयाः।

No. 1305.—And AFTER KIM "what?" [the affix thámu—No 1303—may come. Thus katham (No. 297) "how?" "in what manner?" So much for the affixes specified under No. 1284.

No. 1306.—These two affixes, TAMAP AND ISHTHAN, come after a word, the word retaining its denotation, when the sense is differenced by excess. Thus ádhyatama "the richest"—" he who—of these—is wealthy κατ' έξοχήν or par excellence; laghutama or laghishtha (No. 1243) "the lightest."

तिङक्ष्या ५।३। ५६।

kintamám "how excessively [it rains—or the like]!" pachatitamum "he cooks surprisingly," uchchaistamám "most loftily or loudly." But when the excess belongs [not to an action, &c., but] to a substance—uchchaistamas taruh "a most lofty tree."

द्विवचनविभागीपपदे तरबीयसुनै।।५।३।५०।

द्वयारेकस्यातिशये विभक्तस्ये चापपदे सुप्तिङन्तादेता स्तः । पूर्वयारपवा-दः । ग्रथमनयारितशयेन लघुर्लघुतरः । लघीयान् । उदीच्याः प्राच्येभ्यः पटु-सराः । पटीयांसः ।

No. 1310.—These two affixes TARAP AND IVASUN come after what ends with a case-affix or a tense-affix, when the term in construction with it is a dual, and there is excess in the one out of the two, and when [to mark excess] the term in construction is contrasted [by the affix of the fifth case with the sense of "thau,"—II. 3. 42]. This debars the two former affixes (No. 1306). Thus laghuara or laghty as "the lighter—[the one of the two that is light par excellence]; and so too when we speak of the Northerns as being "more clever" prachyelhyah "than the Easterns."

ज्य चा ५।३।६१।

प्रशस्यस्य ज्यादेश दखेयसाः । ज्येखः ।

No. 1313.—And JYA may be the substitute of the word prasasya (No. 1311) when the affixes ishthan and iyasun follow. Thus jyeshtha "the most excellent."

ज्या । दोयसः । ६ । ४ । १६० ।

बादेः परस्य । स्यायान् ।

.No. 1314.—Let long  $\acute{a}$  be the substitute of the affix ivasur coming AFTER JYA (No. 1313). By No. 88 the substitute takes the place of the first letter only. Thus jydyas "more excellent."

बरेलिंग भूच बहोः। ६। ४। १५८।

बहाः परवारिमेयसीर्लापः स्याद्बहाश्च भूरादेशः । भूमा ।

No. 1315.—Let there be elision of ima (No. 1241) and iyasun (No. 1310) coming AFTER the word BAHU "much," AND let BHÚ be the substitute of BAHU. Thus bhiman "multeity."

ेष्ठस्य यिद् च । ६ । ४ । १५६ ।

बहोः परस्य इद्धस्य लापः स्याद्मिहागमञ्च । भूविष्ठः ।

्रिषद्समाप्ते। कल्पङेश्यदेशायरः । ५ । ३ । ६० । रेषद्नो विद्वान् विद्वत्कल्पः । विद्वद्वेशयः । विद्वद्वेशीयः । प्रवितकल्पम् ।

No. 1318.—The three affixes, KALPA, DESYA, AND DESYAR, may be employed WHEN there is a SLIGHT INCOMPLETENESS. Thus vidwatkalpa "who is somewhat less than a learned man"—"an inferior scholar,"—and, in the same sense, vidwaddesya and vidwaddesya. [So too with a verb]—pachatikalpam "he cooks incompletely" or "he does not finish cooking."

विभाषा सुपे। बहुच् ्रस्तात् तु । ५ । ३ । ६८ । रेबदूनः पटुः बहुपटुः । पटुकल्पः । सुपः क्रिम् । पचितकल्पम् ।

No. 1319. OPTIONALLY BAHUCH [in the sense specified in No. 1318] may come AFTER what ends with a CASE AFFIX—BUT [instead of AFTER, let it stand] BEFORE. Thus bahupatu or patukalpa "almost clever"—"clever minus a little." Why do we say "after what ends with a case-affix?" Because, with a verb, we can have only such a form as pachatikalpam—see No. 1318.

प्रागिवात् कः । ५ । ३ । ७० ।

दवे प्रतिक्रतावित्यतः प्राक् काधिकारः।

No. 1320.—[In each apherism] from this one FORWARD AS FAR AS No. 1326, there is the influence of the affix KA.

अव्याः सर्वनामामकच् प्राक् टेः । ५ । ३ । ९१ । कापवादः ।

No. 1321.—Let akach come before the last vowel with what follows it of indeclinables and pronominals: This debars ka. (No. 1320).

ऋजाते। ५। ३। ७३।

कस्यायमस्योऽस्वकः । उच्चकैः । नीचकैः । सर्वकैः ।

No. 1322.—When the thing is spoken of as UNKNOWN [then let there be ka—No. 1320—]. Thus aśwaka "the horse [of whom is this]?" uchchakaih "[is it] high?" nichakaih "[it is] low?" sarvakaih [was this agreed to] by all?"

कुर्विद्धा । ५।३। ७४।

यनयोः कतरो वैद्यावः । यतरः । ततरः ।

वा बहूनां जातिपारप्राने डतमच्। ४।३। ६३।

जातिपरिप्रश्नदति प्रत्याख्यातमाकरे । कतमा भवतां कठः । यतमः । ततमः । वाग्रहणमकजर्षम् । यकः । सकः ।

इति प्रागिवीयाः।

No. 1325.—OPTIONALLY *[after kim, &c.—see No 1324—there may be the affix DATAMACH [when the object is the determining of the one] out of many, the Question being that of caste. The restriction conveyed in the words "the question being that of caste" is objected to in "The Mine" (—i. e. in the "Great Commentary"—). Thus katama "which of the number?"—which of yeu, Sirs, is the Brahman?—yatama "of the set the one who," tatama "of the set—that one." The employment of the term "optionally" (in the aphorism) is for the sake of indicating akach (No. 1321), which may be used in like manner. Thus yaka "of the set the one who," saka "of the set—that one."

So much for the affixes spoken of under No. 1320.

इवे प्रतिक्ती। ४।३। ६६।

कन् स्यात् । ऋश्व इव प्रतिक्रितिः ऋश्वकः ।

No. 1326.—Let there be the affix kan, when we speak of something which is LIKE—this being an IMITATION. Thus aswaka "a figure like a horse"—[in wood or clay, or sketched on paper, &c.].

No. 1328.—The affix MAYAT may be employed [after a word de noting some substance] when we require an expression for it AS ABUNDANT. By "abundant" we mean "happening to be in abundance," and by its "expression" we mean "a declaring." [This word vachana—which has been rendered "an expression" in the aphorism—has two senses, for the affix with which it is formed—viz.] the affix lyut conveys the force both of the nature (see Nos. 928 and the site. In the former case [—i. e. taking tatprakritavachana to mean "the mention of that as abundant"—] we have annamaya "abundance of grain;" apúpamaya "abundance of flour;"—but in the second case [—i. e. taking it to mean "that in which something is spoken of as abundant"—] we have annamaya yajnah "a sacrifice at which food is abundant," apúpamayam parva "a festival at which there is abundance of flour."

बाब स्थात्। प्रज्ञ एव प्राज्ञः । देवतः ।

No. 1329.—And AFTER the words PRAJNA "wise," &c., [retaining their denotation] there may be affix AN. Thus 'prajna "wise" simply; daivata [synonymous with devata] "a deity."

ब ल्याच्याच्यस् कारका न्यतस्याः । ४।४।४२। बहुनि ददाति बहुनः । मल्याः ।

No. 1330.—OPTIONALLY AFTER a word signifying MUCH OR LITTLE, IN a CASE DEPENDENT ON a VERB (see No. 945) there may be the affix $AS. Thus bahusah "abundantly"—as where one "gives many"—and so alpasah scantily"—[giving few—or to a few only—&c].

बाद्यादिभ्यस्तसेहपसंस्थानम् । बादी बादितः । मध्यतः । बन्ततः । एष्टतः । पार्श्वतः । बाहृतिगर्णोऽयम् । स्वरेण् स्वरतः । वर्णतः ।

No. 1331.—"THE ADDITIONAL ASSERTION should be made of the affix TASI as coming AFTER the words ADI 'first' &c." [as well as after words that are in the 5th case—see No. 1286—]. Thus dditah "at the first," madhyatah "in the middle," antatah "finally," prishthatah "behind," páráwatah "by the side of." This is a class of words those belonging to which are to be known only from the forms met with in writings of authority—(see No. 53). Thus we meet with swaratah "in respect of a vowel," and varnatah "in respect of a letter"—[when speaking, for example, of some error in orthography].

क्रान्निक्तिकेल संपद्यकर्तरि च्याः । ४ । ४ । ४० ।

स्थूततद्वावर्ति वक्तव्यम् । विकारात्मतां प्राष्ट्रवत्यां प्रक्रता वर्तमाना-दिकारशब्दात् स्वार्षे चित्रवा स्यात् करात्यादिभियागे ।

No. 1332.—It should be stated that the "attainment" [spoken of in this aphorism] is the attainment of becoming what the thing previously was not. When something out of which something else originates arrives at the state of being that very thing so produced he affix CHWI, without altering the sense, may optionally come,—when he word denoting the modified thing as then existing—THE AGENT THAT HAS ATTAINED to the new state—is conjoined with the verbs KRI "to make," BHÚ "to become, AND AS "to be."

चवर्णस्य इत् स्यांच्ळीः। सङ्घणः क्रम्णः संपदाते तं करोति क्रम्णीकरो-ति । ब्रस्तीभवति । गङ्गीस्यात् ।

• No. 1333.—Let there be long f in the room of A or A when the affix CHWI (No. 1330) FOLLOWS. Suppose that one who is not black becomes black,—some one makes him so,—then we may express it thus, krishnikaroti "he blackens." So too brahmibhavati "he becomes Brahma [as a saint when liberated from the trammels of ignorance]; gangisyat "may it become the Ganges—[this tributary stream flowing on to mingle therewith."

ग्रव्ययस्य व्यावीत्वं नेति वाच्यम् । देशमभूतमहः । दिवासूका राजिः ।

No. 1334.—"IT SHOULD BE STATED THAT there IS NOT THE CHANGE TO long i (—see No. 1333—) in the case OF an INDECLINABLE WHEN the affix CHWI FOLLOWS." Thus doshábhútam ahah the day become evening," divábhútá rátrih "the night become day."

विभाषा साति क त्र्न्यं। ५। ४। ५२। विविषये सातिर्वा स्थात साकत्ये।

No. 1335.—In a case where the affix chwi (No. 1332) might be employed, the affix sati may optionally be used WHEN THE TOTALITY of the change is to be suggested.

सात्पदाचाः। ८। ३। १११।

सस्य बत्व न । द्रिध सिञ्चिति । हत्स् शस्त्रमिनः संपद्यतिऽनिसाद्ववति ।

No. 1336.—There is not the change to the cerebral sh (see No. 169) of the dental s of the affix sati (No. 1335) non of the s which is initial in a pada. Thus there is no change to sh in the example dadhi sinchati "he sprinkles curd;" nor in the example [illustrative of No. 1335] agnisadbhavati "the whole [weapon] is in a blaze."

च्ची चा ११। ४। २६।

दीर्घः स्यात् । ग्रानीभवति ।

No. 1337.—And when the affix Chwi (No. 1332) Follows let there be a long vowel. Thus [from agni "fire"] agnibhavati "it becomes fire."

श्राव्यक्तानुकरणाद्याजवराधादनिती डाच् ५१४१५०। द्वाजवरं न्यूनं न तु ततो न्यूनम् । श्रानेकाजिति यावत् । तादृशमर्धे यस्य तस्माद्वाच स्यात् क्षम्बन्तिभियोगे ।

No. 1338.—[The expression in the aphorism—viz.—] "that of which two vowels are the least"—the smallest number [of vowels)—but not less than that—means polysyllabic. After that which is the half of such a polysyllabic word, being the imitative name of an inarticulate sound, let there be optionally the affix pach—though not when the word iti follows]—provided the word be combined with the verbs kri, bhú, or as (No. 1332).

डाचि बहुनं द्वे भवत इति डाचि विवित्ति । द्वित्वम् ।

No. 1339.—"When the affix dich (No. 1338) is to be directed to be employed, then THERE ARE TWO, or there is reduplication of the word, VARIOUSLY" (see No. 823).

इति तद्धिताः।

No. 1340.—"IT SHOULD BE STATED THAT WHEN the affix DACH 1 (No. 1338) COMES AFTER a REDUPLICATION (No. 118) which occurs when dách follows (No. 1337), then the form of the subsequent shall INVARIABLY be in the room both of the prior and of the subsequent letters." Hence [when we have patat + patat + dach + karoti] the letter p is substituted in the room of the t [of the first patat] and of the p [of the reduplication], giving patapatakaroti "he makes a noise like patat, patat" [—the final t being elided by VI. 1. 98, as in the words under No. 53]. Why do we say "after the imitative name of an inarticulate sound" (No. 1338)? Witness drishat karoti "it makes (or turns to) stone." Why do we say "after the half of that of which two vowels are the least." Witness drishat drith "he utters [the exclamation implying belief or reverence] dratt." Why do we say "at least"? [Because the rule does apply if there be more, as well as when there are two]—thus drattat are drattat "he makes a sound like drattat." Why do we say "not if the word drattat "thus follows"? Witness drattat "he makes the sound called drattat "VI. I. 98).

So much for the Taddhita affixes.
